The Task of Today and Other Seminal Essays Bernard Nsokika Fonlon,2012 This book brings together six seminal essays by Professor Bernard Nsokika Fonlon essays first published mostly in the 1960s in ABBIA Cameroon Cultural Review and in the pages of leading newspapers in Cameroon Preoccupied with the cultural dignity humanity and freedom of Africa and Africans Fonlon never contented himself with stating the problem In a very Socratic and scientifically systematic approach he proposed solutions as well Patiently pedagogical philosophical and steeped in the classics he convinced his readers through the force of argument In The Task of Today Fonlon invites Cameroonians and Africans to face the challenge of nation building and development in a world where imperialism is far from dead and buried Random Leaves from My Diary shares his aspirations and challenging experiences as a young seminarian learning to be relevant to God and the Catholic Church In Will We Make or Mar Fonlon is worried and indeed frustrated by the temptations of material pursuits and the love of money threatening to derail modern elites charged with the postcolonial destiny of African nations As a member of the Cameroon National Union in Under the Sign of the Rising Sun Fonlon preaches patriotism and compromise In Idea of Literature Fonlon expresses his passion for art as the pursuit of beauty and the sublime stressing as he was wont to do that no race or culture has a monopoly of this aspiration A Case for Early Bilingualism invites Cameroonians to take advantage of their English and French linguistic colonial heritage by embracing bilingualism in early childhood and playing a major role in an interconnected world where interpretation and translation is eternally needed How War Began Keith F.

Otterbein,2004-11-10 Have humans always fought and killed each other or did they peacefully coexist until states developed Is war an expression of human nature or an artifact of civilization Questions about the origin and inherent motivations of warfare have long engaged philosophers ethicists anthropologists as they speculate on the nature of human existence In How War Began author Keith F Otterbein draws on primate behavior research archaeological research data gathered from the Human Relations Area Files and a career spent in research and reflection on war to argue for two separate origins He identifies two types of military organization one which developed two million years ago at the dawn of humankind wherever groups of hunters met and a second which developed some five thousand years ago in four identifiable regions when the first

states arose and proceeded to embark upon military conquests In carefully selected detail Otterbein marshals the evidence for his case that warfare was possible and likely among early Homo sapiens He argues from analogy with other primates from Paleolithic rock art depicting wounded humans and from rare skeletal remains with embedded weapon points to conclude that warfare existed and reached a peak in big game hunting societies As the big game disappeared so did warfare only to reemerge once agricultural societies achieved a degree of political complexity that allowed the development of professional military organizations Otterbein concludes his survey with an analysis of how despotism in both ancient and modern states spawns warfare A definitive resource for anthropologists social scientists and historians How War Began is written for all who are interested in warfare and individuals who seek to understand the past and the present of humankind

When the World Was Black Part One Supreme Understanding,2013-02-02 When the World Was Black The Untold History of the World s First Civilizations Volume Two of The Science of Self series has been published in TWO parts Why two Because there are far too many stories that remain untold We had over 200 000 years of Black history to tell from the southern tip of Chile to the northernmost isles of Europe and you can t do that justice in a 300 page book So there are two parts each consisting of 360 pages of groundbreaking history digging deep into the story of all the world s original people Part One covers the Black origins of all the world s oldest cultures and societies spanning more than 200 000 years of human history Part Two tells the stories of the Black men and women who introduced urban civilization to the world over the last 20 000 years up to the time of European contact Each part has over 100 helpful maps graphs and photos an 8 page full color insert in the center and over 300 footnotes and references for further research In this book you ll learn about the history of Black people I don t mean the history you learned in school which most likely began with slavery and ended with the Civil Rights Movement I m talking about Black history BEFORE that Long before that In this book we ll cover over 200 000 years of Black history For many of us that sounds strange We can t even imagine what the Black past was like before the slave trade much less imagine that such a history goes back 200 000 years or more Part Two covers history from 20 000 years ago to the point of European contact This is the time that prehistoric cultures grew into ancient urban civilizations a transition known to historians as the Neolithic Revolution
