Peoples And Cultures Of The Pacific An Anthropological Reader:

Peoples and Cultures of the Pacific Andrew Peter Vayda, 1968 Peoples and cultures of the Pacific: an anthropological reader, ed Andrew Peter Vayda, Peoples and Cultures of the Pacific; an Anthropological Reader. Edited, and with an Introd., by Andrew P. Vayda Andrew Peter Vayda (comp), Peoples of the Pacific Paul D'Arcy, 2017-05-15 Presenting the history of the inhabitants of the Pacific Islands from first colonization until the spread of European colonial rule in the later 19th century this volume focuses specifically on Pacific Islander European interactions from the perspective of Pacific Islanders themselves A number of recorded traditions are reproduced as well as articles by Pacific Island scholars working within the academy The nature of Pacific History as a sub discipline is presented through a sample of key articles from the 1890s until the present that represent the historical evolution of the field and its multidisciplinary nature The volume reflects on how the indigenous inhabitants of the Pacific Islands have a history as dynamic and complex as that of literate societies and one that is more retrievable through multidisciplinary approaches than often realized Peoples and Cultures of the Pacific Andrew Peter Vayda, 1968 Culture Contact in the Pacific Max Quanchi, Ron W. Adams, 1993-03-22 The authors have brought together a collection of works from specialists in Pacific History from across Australia and throughout the Pacific The individual contributions were specifically written to meet the needs of senior history courses in Australia Max Quanchi and Ron Adams are well known educationists who have specialised in the Pacific They have extensively travelled and studied in the Pacific and have spent many years teaching history to secondary and tertiary students The result is an authoritative text for all senior History and Australian Studies students who need to understand the Pacific region The People of the Sea Paul D'Arcy, 2006-01-01 Countering the dominant paradigms of recent Pacific Islands historiography which tend to limit understanding of the sea's importance this volume emphasizes the flux in the maritime environment and how it instilled an expectation and openness toward outside influences and the rapidity with which cultural change could occur in relations between various Islander groups Students and scholars of Pacific history and environmental and cultural studies will welcome this re evaluation of the sea's influence in Oceanic history BOOK JACKET A Companion to Global Environmental History J. R. McNeill, Erin Stewart Mauldin, 2015-05-04 The Companion to Global Environmental History offers multiple points of entry into the history and historiography of this dynamic and fast growing field to provide an essential road map to past developments current controversies and future developments for specialists and newcomers alike Combines temporal geographic thematic and contextual approaches from prehistory to the present day Explores environmental thought and action around the world to give readers a cultural intellectual and political context for engagement with the environment in modern times Brings together environmental historians from around the world including scholars from South Africa Brazil Germany and China The Church and Cultures Louis J. Luzbetak, 2015-03-31 Why should the church be concerned about cultures Louis J Luzbetak began to answer this question twenty five years ago with the publication of The Church and

Cultures An Applied Anthropology for the Religious Worker Reprinted six times and translated into five languages it became an undisputed classic in the field Now by popular demand Luzbetak has thoroughly rewritten his work completely updating it in light of contemporary anthropological and missiological thought and in face of current world conditions Serving as a handbook for a culturally sensitive ministry and witness The Church and Cultures introduces the non anthropologist to a wealth of scientific knowledge directly relevant to pastoral work religious education social action and liturgy in fact to all forms of missionary activity in the church It focuses on a burning theological issue that of contextualization the process by which a local church integrates its understanding of the Gospel text with the local culture context

The Federated States of Micronesia's Engagement with the Outside World Gonzaga Puas, 2021-09-28 This study addresses the neglected history of the people of the Federated States of Micronesia s FSM engagement with the outside world Situated in the northwest Pacific FSM s strategic location has led to four colonial rulers Histories of FSM to date have been largely written by sympathetic outsiders Indigenous perspectives of FSM history have been largely absent from the main corpus of historical literature A new generation of Micronesian scholars are starting to write their own history from Micronesian perspectives and using Micronesian forms of history This book argues that Micronesians have been dealing successfully with the outside world throughout the colonial era in ways colonial authorities were often unaware of This argument is sustained by examination of oral histories secondary sources interviews field research and the personal experience of a person raised in the Mortlock Islands of Chuuk State It reconstructs how Micronesian internal processes for social stability and mutual support endured rather than succumbing to the different waves of colonisation This study argues that colonisation did not destroy Micronesian cultures and identities but that Micronesians recontextualised the changing conditions to suit their own circumstances Their success rested on the indigenous doctrines of adaptation assimilation and accommodation deeply rooted in the kinship doctrine of eaea fengen sharing and alilis fengen assisting each other These values pervade the Constitution of the FSM which formally defines the modern identity of its indigenous peoples reasserting and perpetuating Micronesian values and future continuity

Beyond the Horizon Clifford Sather, Timo Kaartinen, 2008-05-16 Society is never just a localized aggregate of people but exists by virtue of its members narrative and conceptual awareness of other times and places In Jukka Siikala s work this idea evolves into a broad ethnographic and theoretical interest in worlds beyond the horizon in the double sense of past and abroad This book is a tribute to Jukka s contributions to anthropology by his colleagues and students and marks his 60th birthday in January 2007 By exploring the near distant inward and outward horizons towards which societies project their reality the authors aim at developing a new productive language for addressing culture as a way of experiencing and engaging the world

Cultural Analysis Hans Gullestrup, 2006 With internationalization the world is becoming smaller and the opportunity to meet people from other countries and cultures is becoming more common providing the need for cooperation shared knowledge and cross border trade Individual cultures tend to understand themselves best and base their understanding of the world and its peoples on ideas they each have come to believe irrespective of reality and thus make it difficult to reach a proper understanding of other cultures This book considers intercultural understanding and co action partly by means of general insights into the concept of culture and the dimensions which bring about cultural differences and partly as a methodology to analyze a certain culture whether one s own or others This leads towards an understanding of cultural complexity and cultural differences among people The book provides a discussion of a number of ethical issues which almost invariably will arise when people meet and co act across cultural boundaries Cultural Analysis offers a theoretical abstract proposal for cultural understanding intercultural plurality and complexity

International Handbook of Violence Research Wilhelm Heitmeyer, John Hagan, 2005-08-12 An international manual is like a world cruise a once in a lifetime experience All the more reason to consider carefully whether it is necessary This can hardly be the case if previous research in the selected field has already been the subject of an earlier review or even several competing surveys On the other hand more thorough study is necessary if the intensity and scope of research are increasing without comprehensive assessments That was the situation in Western societies when work began on this project in the summer of 1998 It was then too that the challenges emerged any manual espe cially an international one is a very special type of text which is anything but routine It calls for a special effort the state of the art has to be documented for selected subject areas and its presentation made as compelling as possible The editors were delighted therefore by the cooperation and commitment shown by the eighty one contributors from ten countries who were recruited to write on the sixty two different topics by the constructive way in which any requests for changes were dealt with and by the patient response to our many queries This volume is the result of a long process It began with the first drafts outlining the structure of the work which were submitted to various distinguished colleagues Friedheim Neidhardt of Berlin Gertrud Nunner Winkler of Munich and Roland Eckert of Trier to name only a few supplied valuable comments at this stage

Cultures of the Pacific Thomas G. Harding, Ben J. Wallace, 1970-04 Cultures of the Pacific offers a selection of 28 readings representing anthropological research interests cultural variation in the Pacific The selections emphasize anthropological significance and relevance rather than substantive and geographical coverage The articles are divided into 6 topical areas of major importance Culture History Technology Economics Social Life Politics Social Control Religion Culture Change Among the selections included are The Kon Tiki Myth by Robert C Suggs The Primitive Economics of the Trobriand Islanders by Bronislaw Malinowski and The Rights of Primitive Peoples by Margaret Mead Many of the selections including 4 previously unpublished papers have not been readily available to the reader Editors introductions to each section indicate the place of the individual contributions in Pacific studies in particular and in anthropology in general Illustrations tables complement the text Cultures of the Pacific is designed primarily for undergraduate graduate courses in the anthropology of Pacific peoples cultures It will also find application in courses dealing with the cultural geography history of the Pacific as well as those concerned with the political science economic development of the area Historical Dictionary of the Discovery and Exploration of the Pacific Islands Max Quanchi, John Robson, 2005-10-18 The South Seas as this region used to be called conjured up images of adventure belles and savages romance and fabulous fortunes but the long voyages of discovery and exploration of the vast Pacific Ocean were really an exercise in amazing logistics navigation hard grit shipwreck and pure luck The motivations were scientific and geographic but at the same time nationalistic and materialistic A series on global exploration and discovery would not be complete without this book by Quanchi and Robson It is ambitious and informative and includes the familiar names of Laperouse Bougainville Cook and Dampier as well as the intriguing stories of the Bounty Mutiny scurvy and the mysterious Northwest Passage Terra Australis Ignatia and Davis Land There are entries on first contacts ships navigational instruments mapping and botany The scene is carefully set in the introduction the chronology spans several centuries and the extensive bibliography offers a guide to further reading There are more than just dry facts in this book It has a whiff of salt air the clash of empires cross cultural beach encounters and personal adventure Chicanery Geoffrey Gray, Doug Munro, Christine Winter, 2023-05-12 Academic appointments can bring forth unexpected and unforeseen contests and tensions cause humiliation and embarrassment for unsuccessful applicants and reveal unexpected allies and enemies It is also a time when harsh assessments can be made about colleagues intellectual abilities and their capacity as a scholar and fieldworker The assessors reports were often disturbingly personal laying bare their likes and dislikes that could determine the futures of peers and colleagues Chicanery deals with how the founding Chairs at Sydney the Australian National University Auckland and Western Australia dealt with this process and includes accounts of the appointments of influential anthropologists such as Raymond Firth and Alexander Ratcliffe Brown The Reader's Adviser Winifred F. Courtney, 1968 The Reader's Adviser, 1977 Catalog of the Robert Goldwater Library, the Metropolitan Museum of Art Robert Goldwater Library, 1982 Ethnography and Development Marilyn Silverman, 2004-11-04 Richard Salisbury 1926 1989 was a pioneer in development anthropology and one of the founders of McGill University's anthropology department His work had immense influence in the areas of economic anthropology ethnographic practice New Guinea northern Canada and policy formation This volume commemorates and explores his life and work Ethnography and Development presents eighteen articles written by Salisbury between 1954 and 1988 framed by seven original essays that explore his basic ideas as well as the intellectual and personal contexts in which he worked The articles and essays highlight many of the issues that informed those of his generation who worked in economic and political anthropology the anthropology of development public anthropology advocacy and applied anthropology and in developing the organisational vehicles on which the profession currently depends Salisbury's broad socio economic vision conceptual ideas and socio cultural ethnographic theories continue to exert a powerful influence on the discipline Contributors include Harvey A Feit McMaster University Henry J Rutz Hamilton College and Colin H Scott McGill University
