Peoples Perceptions Of Their 2000

Amy L. Kristof-Brown, Jon Billsberry

Peoples Perceptions Of Their 2000:

The Obamas and a (Post) Racial America? Gregory Parks, Matthew Hughey, 2011-01-28 The United States has taken a long and winding road to racial equality especially as it pertains to relations between blacks and whites When Barack Hussein Obama was elected as the forty fourth President of the United States and first black person to occupy the highest office in the land many wondered whether that road had finally come to an end Do we now live in a post racial nation This volume contends that despite the election of the first black President and rise of a black American family as possibly the most recognized family the world over race is still a very salient issue particularly in the United States But the prominence of the Obamas on the world stage and the positive image they project may hasten the day when America is indeed post racial even at the implicit level

Inside Inequality in the Arab Republic of Egypt Paolo Verme, Branko Milanovic, Sherine Al-Shawarby, Sahar El Tawila, May Gadallah, Enas Ali A. El-Majeed, 2014-04-16 This book joins four papers prepared in the framework of the Egypt inequality study financed by the World Bank The first paper prepared by Sherine Al Shawarby reviews the studies on inequality in Egypt since the 1950s with the double objective of illustrating the importance attributed to inequality through time and of presenting and compare the main published statistics on inequality To our knowledge this is the first time that such a comprehensive review is carried The second paper prepared by Branko Milanovic turns to the global and spatial dimensions of inequality The objective here is to put Egypt inequality in the global context and better understand the origin and size of spatial inequalities within Egypt using different forms of measurement across regions and urban and rural areas The Egyptian society remains deeply divided across space and in terms of welfare and this study unveils some of the hidden features of this inequality The third paper prepared by Paolo Verme studies facts and perceptions of inequality during the period 2000 2009 the period that preceded the Egyptian revolution The objective of this part is to provide some initial elements that could explain the apparent mismatch between inequality measured with household surveys and inequality aversion measured by values surveys No such study has been carried out before in the Middle East and North Africa MENA region and this seemed a particular important and timely topic to address in the light of the unfolding developments in the Arab region The fourth paper prepared by Sahar El Tawila May Gadallah and Enas Ali A El Majeed assesses the state of poverty and inequality among the poorest villages of Egypt The paper attempts to explain the level of inequality in an effort to disentangle those factors that derive from household abilities from those factors that derive from local opportunities This is the first time that such study is conducted in Egypt The book should be of interest to any observer of the political and economic evolution of the Arab region in the past few years and to poverty and inequality specialists that wish to have a deeper understanding of the distribution of incomes in Egypt and other countries in the MENA region

Water as a Catalyst for Peace Ahmed Abukhater, 2013-09-05 Examining international water allocation policies in different parts of the world this book suggests that they can be used as a platform to induce cooperation over larger political issues

ultimately settling conflicts The main premise is that water can and should be used as a catalyst for peace and cooperation rather than conflict Evidence is provided to support this claim through detailed case studies from the Middle East and the Lesotho Highlands in Africa These international cases including bilateral water treaties and their development and formation process and aftermath are analyzed to draw conclusions about the outcomes as well as the processes by which these outcomes are achieved It is demonstrated that the perception of a particular treaty as being equitable and fair is mainly shaped by the negotiation process used to reach certain outcomes rather than being determined mechanistically by the quantitative allocation of water to each party The processes and perceptions leading to international water conflict resolutions are emphasized as key issues in advancing cooperation and robust implementation of international water treaties The key messages of the book are therefore relevant to the geo political and hydro political aspects of water resources in the context of bilateral and multilateral conflicts and the trans boundary management of water resources which contributes insights to political ecology geo politics and environmental policy

IT Security Risk Management in the Context of Cloud Computing André Loske, 2015-10-30 This work adds a new perspective to the stream of organizational IT security risk management literature one that sheds light on the importance of IT security risk perceptions Based on a large scale empirical study of Cloud providers located in North America the study reveals that in many cases the providers decision makers significantly underestimate their services IT security risk exposure which inhibits the implementation of necessary safeguarding measures The work also demonstrates that even though the prevalence of IT security risk concerns in Cloud adoption is widely recognized providers only pay very limited attention to the concerns expressed by customers which not only causes serious disagreements with the customers but also considerably inhibits the adoption of the services

Safety, Societal Problems and Citizens' Perceptions Marc Cools, Brice De Ruyver, Marleen Easton, 2010 In nowadays globalised society an international exchange of ideas and views is indispensable within the field of social sciences including criminology and criminal justice studies

The People Make the Place D. Brent Smith, 2008-01-25 This volume in honor of Ben Schneider highlights his work on the Attraction Selection Attrition ASA model of organizational behavior which has become one of the most important models in the history of Personnel Psychology The central tenet of the ASA model is that people matter Although organizational structure processes and climate and

Otherness in Communication Research Luisa Magalhaes, 2025-01-02 This book offers various perspectives from media studies interpersonal communication and intercultural communication on the experience and effects of being othered excluded and treated as less than Its three sections cover 1 expressions of otherness in everyday life 2 experiences of otherness in media discourses and 3 strategies against otherness in social interaction This book challenges the expression of otherness that is frequently related on texts of colonialism and of western social hegemonic characteristic of the Global North therefore giving voice to perspectives from the Global South in a pluralistic reading The collection of contexts in which the expression of otherness is highlighted in this book are presented in the perspective of the powerless other As a receiver involved in a communicative process the othered individual is approached in relation to his identitarian demonstrations both in daily life face to face and virtual contexts and in critical situations These range from households to school and to media environments therefore enhancing a thorough perspective on the phenomenon of othering in plural contexts

Learning with Trade Unions Steve Shelley, Moira

Calvey, 2007 This edited collection provides an understanding of the range of learning that is enabled by trade unions and the agendas around that learning A strong feature of the book is its drawing together of informed research based contributions from the fields of training skills and education and of industrial relations International and historical perspectives are included in order to better understand the contemporary issues There are important conclusions for policy makers practitioners and researchers

Abstractions Based on Circles: Papers on prehistoric rock art presented to Stan Beckensall on his 90th birthday Paul Frodsham, Kate Sharpe, 2022-09-22 Stan Beckensall is renowned for his work done on an entirely amateur basis discovering recording and interpreting Atlantic rock art in his home county of Northumberland and beyond Presented on his 90th birthday this diverse and stimulating collection of papers celebrates his crucial contribution to rock art studies and looks to the future

Security Strategies, Power Disparity and Identity Olav

F. Knudsen, 2017-11-30 What is power and how is it effective This volume responds to these questions in terms of regional international relations with a particular focus on the Baltic Sea region an area still charged with a residue of Cold War conflict and power disparity in a setting of new cooperative ventures Each contributor examines the region from a different angle and discusses how its actors coped with the new situation facing them after 1991 The volume looks at how governments have defined their new circumstances how they have dealt with the opportunity to shift to a new mode of coexistence and collaboration and how they have tackled the challenge of peacefully converting their region to a security community The book breaks with tradition by adopting a new thematic approach based on regional issues and functions rather than a country by country discourse It will be of critical value to readers interested in security studies and European politics

Risk Governance Ortwin Renn, 2017-12-04 Risk Governance is a tour de force Every risk manager every risk analyst every risk researcher must read this book it is the demarcation point for all further advances in risk policy and risk research Renn provides authoritative guidance on how to manage risks based on a definitive synthesis of the research literature The skill with which he builds practical recommendations from solid science is unprecedented Thomas Dietz Director Environmental Science and Policy Program Michigan State University USA A masterpiece of new knowledge and wisdom with illustrative examples of tested applications to realworld cases The book is recommendable also to interested students in different disciplines as a timely textbook on risk beyond risk Norio Okada Full Professor and Director at the Disaster Prevention Research Institute DPRI Kyoto University Japan There are classic environmental works such as The Tragedy of the Commons by Hardin Risk Society by Beck The Theory of Communicative Action by Habermas and the seminal volumes by Ostrom on governing the commons Renns book fits right into this series of important milestones of environmental studies Jochen Jaeger Professor at Concordia University Montreal Canada Risk Governance provides a valuable survey of the whole field of risk and demonstrates how scientific economic political and civil society actors can participate in inclusive risk governance Jobst Conrad Senior Scientist Social Science Research Center Berlin Germany Renn offers a remarkably fair minded and systematic approach to bringing together the diverse fields that have something to say about risk Risk Governance moves us along the path from the noisy formative stage of thinking about risk to one with a stronger empirical theoretical and analytical foundation Baruch Fischhoff PhD Howard Heinz University Professor Carnegie Mellon University Pittsburgh USA I cannot describe how impressed I am at the breadth and coherence of Renn s career s work Written with remarkable clarity and minimal technical jargon this should be required reading in risk courses John Graham former director of the Harvard Risk Center and former deputy director of the Office of Budget and Management of the United States Administration This book for the first time brings together and updates the groundbreaking work of renowned risk theorist and researcher Ortwin Renn integrating the major disciplinary concepts of risk in the social engineering and natural sciences The book opens with the context of risk handling before flowing through the core topics of assessment evaluation perception management and communication culminating in a look at the transition from risk management to risk governance and a glimpse at a new understanding of risk in post modern societies
