Pope John Paul II On Inculturation:

Inculturation and Ecclesial Communion Francis E. George, 1990 Inculturation and Ecclesial Communion Francis Eugene George (card.), 1990 Pope John Paul II on Inculturation S. Iniobong Udoidem, 1996 This work undertakes a philosophical analysis and study of the thought of John Paul II on inculturation and evangelization. It investigates the development of the Pope's thought on inculturation and argues that inculturation is the central theme that unifies the Pope's encyclical. The relationship between inculturation and evangelization is argued for with particular attention to the analysis of such themes as creation as inculturation, incarnation as inculturation and evangelization as inculturation. The text then argues that the relationships between these themes are not only reciprocal but hermeneutical. It also focuses on the relationship between hermeneutics and inculturation and argues that hermeneutics is the most rational foil for understanding the mechanics and the logic of inculturation. The text shows how inculturation as proposed by Pope John Paul II serves as a unifying principle that would usher in a new world order intellectually and socially. Such world vision would allow for cooperation and unity between nations of varied cultures and thus allow for the development of a Christian and world community where peaceful co-existence would be a priority. This is the hope of the Pope's gospel of Evangelization 2000.

Culture, Human Rights and Peace in Central America George F. McLean, Raul Molina, Timothy Ready, 1989

Inculturation Diego Irarrazaval, 2008-02-01 This compelling account of how Andean Christians have inculturated the Gospel and the challenges that confront them provides a real world view of the urgent process of inculturation. In the context of pluri-cultural development of the church, this process is one that affirms that both culture and history are transformed by the Spirit of God. Inculturation surveys Andean culture and religious traditions drawing from day to day experience in the transformation of education and social action, personal and communal life, spirituality and the whole of Christian mission in today's world. It also discusses current evangelization trends worldwide, examining negative as well as positive examples of inculturation and offers guidelines for future efforts.

The Church-as-family and Ethnocentrism in Sub-Saharan Africa Gerald K. Tanye, 2010 Ethnocentrism is one of the greatest obstacles to peace on the African continent. Taking the Church as Family of God as a model of evangelization, this work explores means of inculturating the Gospel message in African cultures in order to transform them, make them blossom and enable Africans to live as authentic Christians in their cultures. It examines the values of African extended families and the prospects of interreligious dialogue as means through which the various religious bodies can effectively work together to overcome ethnocentrism and its evil effects and thus establish a wholesome African society where every human person is at home irrespective of family orientation or tribal background. Emerging Conversations on Theofiliation Kenneth Ameke, Samuel Uzoukwu, 2019-10-10 It is in honour of the silver jubilee of Most Rev Anthony J V Obinna's episcopacy that this book is put together in this first volume titled Emerging Conversations on Theofiliation: Essays in Honour of Archbishop Anthony J V Obinna. This volume discusses and enlarges insights inherent in Archbishop Obinna's theological thinking on theofiliation. Therefore the contributors to this volume critically examine his idea of theofiliation from their areas of speciality as a further exploration of this theological term. The willingness of the contributors has resulted in a collection that envisage the eclectic and heterogeneous scholarly vision of its honouree. Besides the contributors to this maiden edition encompass both illustrious theologians and promising researchers in theology, philosophy, psychology and management. The themes discussed by the contributors are grouped into biblical, comparative study, systematic, pastoral, ethical, management, philosophical, political and anthropological issues. The enriching and diverse collections of this volume have five thematic sections of nineteen chapters that theofiliation brings together. This Festschrift in honour of Amarachi Obinna is a compendium of usable knowledge. The authors have dealt with various themes largely inspired by the theology and practice of the archbishop. This conviction leads to the reflections on theofiliation, the rein-Godment of all creation. The Festschrift is truly a treasure. Prof John Obilor Imo State University Owerri. This book is an insightful reading which will serve as an inspirational theological wellspring for emerging scholars engaged in articulating a robust African contextual theology to which it breathes fresh air. The spirit of dynamism in Archbishop Obinna's novel brainchild of theofiliation is manifested in its applicability to wide-ranging academic disciplines. William Odeke Owire, KU Leuven. Toward a Theology of Inculturation Aylward Shorter, 2006-01-30. Inculturation is a word that came only recently into theological language, having its origin and impetus in a revolution in the perception of Christian mission even of Christian identity. Toward a Theology of Inculturation is the first book to bring together the many strands of current and historical Catholic thought on what might be called a theology of a multicultural church. Inculturation, Shorter argues, is the recognition that faith must in effect become culture to be fully received and lived. In the course of a wide-ranging discussion, the author explores the intimate relationship between inculturation and theology, focusing in particular on scripture, the history of missions especially in Africa, and contemporary Catholic thought. Shorter concludes with an exploration of the future of the church, a multicultural church. Toward a Theology of Inculturation offers a substantive explication of what inculturation is, what it is not, how and when it occurs, and what its limits are or should be. Handbook of African Catholicism Ilo, Stan Chu, 2022-07-13. A disciplinary map for understanding African Catholicism today by engaging some of the most pressing and pertinent issues, topics and conversations in diverse fields of studies in African Catholicism.

Christianity, Empire and the Spirit Néstor Medina, 2018-05-29. In Christianity, Empire and The Spirit Néstor Medina uncovers the cultural processes that play a crucial role in influencing how people understand reality, express the Christian faith and think about God. He uses decolonial thinking, Latina/o theology and Pentecostal theology to show how the cultural dimension is a central feature in the biblical text, was the force that co-opted Christianity from the imperial era of Constantine onwards, and undergirded Western European colonialism and the missionary project. He engages with Protestant and Catholic articulations on culture and demonstrates how most theologians perpetuate Eurocentric frames for considering the relation between Christianity and the cultural dimension Alternatively he offers a theological proposal that recognizes the Spirit at work in the phenomena of cultures
