Pursuit Of Truth:

Pursuit of Truth Willard Van Orman Quine, 1990 In Pursuit of Truth W V Quine gives us his latest word on issues to which he has devoted many years As he says in the preface In these pages I have undertaken to update sum up and clarify my variously intersecting views on cognitive meaning objective reference and the grounds of knowledge The pursuit of truth is a quest that links observation theory and the world Various faulty efforts to forge such links have led to much intellectual confusion Quine s efforts to get beyond the confusion begin by rejecting the very idea of binding together word and thing rejecting the focus on the isolated word For him observation sentences and theoretical sentences are the alpha and omega of the scientific enterprise Notions like idea and meaning are vague but a sentence now there s something you can sink your teeth into Starting thus with sentences Quine sketches an epistemological setting for the pursuit of truth He proceeds to show how reification and reference contribute to the elaborate structure that can indeed relate science to its sensory evidence In this book Quine both summarizes and moves ahead Rich lively chapters dissect his major concerns evidence reference meaning intension and truth Some points he writes have become clearer in my mind in the eight years since Theories and Things Some that were already clear in my mind have become clearer on paper And there are some that have meanwhile undergone substantive change for the better This is a key book for understanding the effort that a major philosopher has made a large part of his life s work to naturalize epistemology in the twentieth century The book is concise and elegantly written as one would expect and does not assume the reader s previous acquaintance with Quine s writings Throughout it is marked by Quine s wit and economy of style

For the Love of Beauty Arthur Pontynen,2017-07-05 For most of the last century the methodology of art history has followed a positivist approach emphasizing form and style fact and history as the means of studying works of art By contrast the philosophical pursuit of truth once central to the fine arts and humanities has largely been abandoned In For The Love of Beauty Arthur Pontynen offers a searching and ambitious critique of modern aesthetic practice that aims to restore the pursuit of the knowledge of reality Being to its rightful place Pontynen begins by addressing the question of why the pursuit of truth be it called Dao Dharma God Logos Ideal etc is no longer acceptable in academic circles even though it has been intrinsic to the purpose of art at most times and in most cultures Lacking the pursuit of truth of some degree of knowledge of what is true and good the humanities necessarily lack intellectual and cultural grounding and purpose Fields of study such as philosophy music art and history are therefore trivialized and brutalized Pontynen s focus on the study of the visual arts details the how the denial of purpose and quality in modernist and postmodernist aesthetics has denied art any possibility of transcending entertainment therapy or propaganda In place of the established narratives Pontynen offers a counter narrative based on a cross cultural pursuit of the good the true and the beautiful He recognizes that substantively different cultural traditions exist and that the truth claims of each may be valid in whole or in part He shows how the history of art parallels the intellectual history of Western culture and how these parallels affect both aesthetics and ethics Pontynen engages with those elements of modernist and postmodernist thought that might be true His purpose is not simply to deny their validity but to engage a viewpoint that does not privilege the notion of a purposeless cosmos For the Love of Beauty will be of interest

Perceiving Truth and Value Markus Mühling,David Andrew Gilland,Yvonne Förster,2019-11-11 The theme of this volume is the question of value perception It is discussed from different philosophical psychiatric theological and anthropological perspectives The thesis that unites all the papers is the recognition that we live in a relational dynamic world in which we primarily perceive and that to dissolve values from facts is fundamentally misleading both in theory as in life The contributions are the outcome of an energetic conference in 2016 where the problems at stake were rigorously discussed The results are presented here and they have an explicit order and are strictly related It opens with basic questions and observations then critical opinions and objections come into play after which the outline of a larger theory of value perception is presented and at the end some concrete examples from material practices are drawn

Truth and Subjectivity, Faith and History Varughese John, 2012-09-26 What is truth Philosophical explorations have merely presupposed truth rather than define it The inscrutable nature of truth is a recognition of human finitude which is both Socratic the recognition that one does not know and non Socratic the recognition that truth has to be given from without This opens the way to locating truth outside the individual which can be appropriated only when the condition to recognize it is given For Kierkegaard the incarnation of Christ is the point when both revelation and the condition to recognize it are given However incarnation being historical raises the question of objectivity and evidence This book explores what truth implies for the individual and examines the value of historical research for Christian faith

Artistic Truth Lambert Zuidervart, 2004-10-18 It is unfashionable to talk about artistic truth Yet the issues traditionally addressed under that term have not disappeared Indeed questions concerning the role of the artist in society the relationship between art and knowledge and the validity of cultural interpretation have intensified Lambert Zuidervart challenges intellectual fashions He proposes a new critical hermeneutics of artistic truth that engages with both analytic and continental philosophies and illuminates the contemporary cultural scene People turn to the arts as a way of finding orientation in their lives communities and institutions But philosophers hamstrung by their own theories of truth have been unsuccessful in accounting for this common feature in our lives This book portrays artistic truth as a process of imaginative disclosure in which expectations of authenticity significance and integrity prevail Understood in this way truth becomes central to the aesthetic and social value of the arts     Truth Matters John G. Trapani, 2004 Drawing upon the richness and breadth of Jacques Maritain's thought the contributors to this volume engage readers with philosophical essays about the search for truth in human life and civic engagement The essays examine a broad range of topics from those that are more properly theoretical such as God science natural law practical reason education and democracy to those that are more practical such as capital punishment eugenics friendship love and art In each essay the author implicitly challenges the claims of relativism and postmodernism specifically the idea that there is no real truth and that what matters is merely the perspective of one's own frame of reference The essays argue instead that theoretical truth claims have practical consequences that truth matters to those who are affected by it In addition to the editor the contributors are Gavin T Colvert John A D Cuddeback Raymond Dennehy Bernard E Doering Desmond J FitzGerald Sarah J Fodor William J Fossati W Matthews Grant James G Hanink Katie Hollenberg Gregory Kerr James P Mesa Peter Pagan Matthew S Pugh James V Schall S J Michael D Torre John R Traffas Cornelia A Tsakiridou Timothy S Valentine S J A Leo White Anne M Wiles and Henk E S Woldring John G Trapani Jr is Professor of Philosophy and Chair of the Humanities Division at Walsh University in North Canton Ohio
