Putting Families First An Experiment In Family Preservation:

Putting Families First John R. Schuerman, Tina L. Rzepnicki, Julia H. Littell, 1994 This volume is a comprehensive evaluation of the largest randomized experiment to date on placement prevention programs the Family First program in Illinois It offers insights into the tensions between policies advocating family preservation and those favoring out of home placement The authors conclude by suggesting that placement prevention programs are but one component in a comprehensive effort to reform the child welfare system and that those efforts should include both improvements in the foster care system and more refined decision making in individual cases

Child Welfare: Issues in child welfare Nick Frost, 2005 This collection focuses on child welfare in its specific sense welfare and social interventions with children and young people undertaken by State bodies or NGO s The term child welfare is deployed differently in diverse international settings In the United Kingdom child welfare tends to refer to individualised programmes for children who have experienced problems in their lives In India to take a contrasting example it can also refer to major housing and nutrition programmes This collection takes an inclusive approach to international perspectives The collection is completed by a new general introduction by the editor individual volume introductions and a full index Titles also available in this series include Medical Sociology November 2004 4 Volumes 495 and the forthcoming collection Health Care Systems 2005 3 Volumes c 395

Family Violence Robert L. Hampton, 1999 Since the first edition there has been an expansion of knowledge in the field of family and intimate violence This revision offers a summary of some of the best of current scholarship conducted by family violence researchers

Assessing Outcomes in Child and Family Services Anthony N. Maluccio, 2017-11-30 In this collective portrait editors and authors do not attempt to draw systematic country by country comparisons Given the magnitude of the issues they believed that it would be inappropriate to paint with too broad a stroke What they have accomplished however is to codify and identify what the participants repeatedly noted in regard to issues and difficulties inherent in conducting outcome evaluation These include varying definitions of outcome complexities in measuring outcomes of particular interventions with different groups of consumers and documenting the effectiveness of the intervention the tendency to focus on evaluation of process more than outcome the challenge of involving practitioners in the evaluation task in part because its value is unclear to them or perceived as distant or untrustworthy the typical inadequacy of resources available for systematic evaluation and the need to inject rigor into the design and execution of evaluation projects The authors demonstrate strong conviction about sharing research expertise across national boundaries learning through each other how to cope with organizational impediments to cross national collaboration and strengthening the interaction between practice and research Their contributions suggest that there is wide interest in pursuing cross national collaboration In recent years largely in response to demands by their funding sources for accountability assessment of performance and cost effectiveness researchers in human services have been devoting increased attention to outcome evaluation Limited attention however has been given to the findings of evaluation studies conducted in different countries The present volume has been organized and edited to address the task of learning from outcome research across the world Its goal an extension of a major goal of the human services in any one country is to improve life chances of vulnerable children and youth Against the Odds Geraldine Macdonald, Emma Williamson, 2003-03-31 This ebook looks at how child and family support services are working in one local authority but draws conclusions that are relevant throughout England Family Centred Group Care: Model Building Frank Ainsworth, 2018-10-26 Published in 1997 this study focused on building and empirically validating a model of family centred group care This is an alternative to the traditional model of group child care that is primarily child centred and which reflects the notion of group care as a substitute for parental care The model represents a step forward in the conceptualization of group care practice as both child centred and family affirming The Family Centred Group Care instrument used in the study is unique in that this is the first to measure a model of group care empirically The book will be of interest to child welfare practitioners social workers child care workers and other human service personnel as well as managers of agencies that provide group care services for children and at risk youth Researchers and policy makers will also find this book useful as the study advances the application of empirical methodology to human service programs The Child Welfare Challenge , 2017-07-28 This newly revised and updated edition of a widely adopted text continues to address a broad array of issues in supporting children and strengthening families It includes key information about federal legislation as well as policy related outcomes research in child welfare The first edition of The Child Welfare Challenge was hailed by Social Work as an excellent source from which to gain an in depth understanding of the practice and policy dimensions of child maltreatment foster care and adoption and by the Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare as essential reading for anyone interested in knowing more about child welfare practice in social work Within a historical and contemporary context this book examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape current child welfare practice and possible future directions In addition to describing the major challenges facing the child welfare field the book highlights some of the service innovations that have been developed as these could be used to help address some of these challenges In child welfare the focus is on families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded agencies The contributors consider historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services in which social work has a legitimate long standing and important mission This is a comprehensive book but one that appreciates the fact that many areas such as daycare and early intervention invite exploration It is unique in that each chapter describes how policy initiatives and research can or should influence program design and implementation Program Evaluation and Family Violence Research Sally K. Ward, David Finkelhor, 2014-05-22 Understand and evaluate family violence programs for your community Twenty years ago the major issue in creating interventions to prevent domestic violence was persuading the courts the funding agencies and society that domestic violence was a serious problem worthy of time trouble and money Now that the importance of domestic violence has been established we need safe and effective ways to evaluate those interventions to see which ones are working and how they can be improved Program Evaluation and Family Violence Research brings together some of the best minds in the field discussing such vital evaluation issues as policy implications alternative designs for evaluation studies and ethical concerns This comprehensive book approaches the vexed question of evaluation with compassion as well as scientific rigor Clearly traditional double blind studies and control groups are difficult to conduct when family violence is the subject it is ethically indefensible to sit back and watch abusers hurt their mates or children when interventions are available Yet finding usable methods of program evaluation is also essential Program Evaluation and Family Violence Research confronts these questions and discusses practical ways to evaluate a variety of domestic violence programs Program Evaluation and Family Violence Research draws on years of experience to address the difficult questions raised including going beyond evaluating program effectiveness to analyze why and how interventions help change behavior creating new research designs to adapt to the unique concerns of the family violence field using meta analysis for program evaluation research determining the interaction between research and program results identifying barriers between community activists and social scientists that may impede research Program Evaluation and Family Violence Research offers fresh and creative ways to do program evaluations guarantee subjects physical and emotional safety and make good science humane

The Child Welfare Challenge James K. Whittaker, 2017-07-12 Within a historical and contemporary context this book examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape child welfare practice and its future In addition to describing the major problems facing the field the book highlights service innovations that have been developed in recent years The resulting picture is encouraging especially if certain major program reforms are implemented and agencies are able to concentrate resources in a focused manner The volume emphasizes families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded child welfare agencies The book considers historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services where social work has an important role Authors address the many fields of practice in which child and family services are provided or that involve substantial numbers of social work programs such as services to adolescent parents child mental health education and juvenile justice agencies This new edition will continue to serve as a fundamental introduction for new practitioners as well as summary of recent developments for experienced practitioners

Social Work Practice with Families and Children Anthony Maluccio, Barbara Pine, Elizabeth M. Tracy, 2002-09-11 This book emphasizes family centered social network and school based interventions in the preparation of social workers for direct and indirect practice with clients from vulnerable populations especially the poor people of color and recent immigrant groups With an eye to recent changes in social work practice and service delivery including the impact of welfare reform and managed care on vulnerable families and children Social Work Practice with Families and Children helps social work students and practitioners understand the increasingly complex needs of their clients Three valuable appendixes include information about tools and instruments to support practice child welfare resource centers and electronic resources pertaining to the field Policing Not Protecting Families Jennifer Randles,Kerry Woodward,2025-03-11

Controlling surveilling and punishing poor families through the child welfare system In a typical year one in five US children have some interaction with the child welfare system Countless other families particularly those who struggle to care for their children due to poverty or economic insecurity fear child welfare system involvement Though imagined as a system that protects children from caregivers maltreatment contributors to Policing Not Protecting Families argue that the child welfare system polices and punishes poor parents who are unable to meet white middle class parenting standards due to structural inequalities Bringing together scholars from anthropology sociology law and social work this collection is the first to critically examine the child welfare system s role in governing poor disproportionately Black and Native families It shows that the child welfare system is a key site of poverty governance or state control and management of poor families Chapters bring together empirical research from diverse settings across the US highlighting the system s interactions with other state systems and its wide impact on marginalized families Together the chapters illustrate the failure of the child welfare system to protect children and families from the structural inequalities that shape the lives of poor and other marginalized families
