External Higher Education Quality Assurance in China Liu Shuiyun, 2019-10-23 Since the end of the 1990s the Chinese higher education system has seen a dramatic expansion of enrolment China currently has the largest higher education system in the world however the rapid growth resulted in concerns being raised about the quality of the system In response an array of external quality assessment schemes of higher education has been established based on suggested policy designs and reforms The establishment of an effective quality assurance mechanism is a major challenge for universities around the world therefore what experience and lessons can be learned from the Chinese practice This book analyses the external quality assurance system of higher education in China It brings together scholarship on this topic by renowned Chinese experts reporting and discussing recent policy developments and research It presents and analyses various quality evaluation schemes covering undergraduate postgraduate and vocational levels of higher education The theoretical roots and value orientation of Chinese higher education quality assurance are also reflected on This volume was originally published as a special issue of Chinese Education and Society

HC 398 - BBC Charter Review Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Culture, Media, and Sport Committee, 2016 The BBC is an extraordinary national and global institution Often one of the very few things people outside this country know about Britain is that it is the home of the BBC The BBC's value lies not only in the organisation itself but in its accumulated reputation experience and goodwill in its public service remit and in its place at the centre of a vibrant broadcasting industry It sets a standard in broadcasting quality impartiality and independence that serves as a benchmark for others For these reasons the BBC has a vast amount to contribute as an international standard of excellence in public service broadcasting At a time when many media organisations are reducing their international coverage relying on a few feeds and becoming more prone to crowd behaviour there is a huge opportunity for the BBC to consolidate this global position But the BBC also has a role as a beacon of enlightened values of openness freedom of thought toleration and diversity As the world increasingly divides on ideological and sectarian grounds it is vital more than ever today to preserve an educated public realm in which civilised debate and the mutually respectful exchange of ideas may flourish What would it take to create another It is very hard to imagine how it could be done Yet this does not mean the BBC is beyond improvement or secure from technological financial or commercial challenge First its core activities are under serious commercial threat from traditional competitors from new online insurgents from lower cost providers of access to high quality programming among others New technologies and ways of accessing programmes are pushing the BBC to consider long term alternatives to the licence fee Secondly the BBC is not well served by its often unwieldy bureaucracy its internal politics and a culture which has been criticised as arrogant and introspective And finally the BBC's Director General has argued that the licence fee is viable for the coming Charter period But as commercial and technological pressures converge

as the BBC's market share continues to fall and a new generation consumes its media in innumerable new ways there is the question whether or not the licence fee funding model can be sustained
