The Executive Director of the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) is referred to as Chuck Wexler. PERF is an organization that is dedicated in improving policing professionalism. Chuck Wexler has been a great leader in matters relating to policing research, management and policy development. He has worked for more than 30 years to prevent and investigate crime. Wexler has been involved in various projects aimed at improving policing. He is a very innovative leader and this was evident when the city of Minneapolis faced a significant increase in the number of violent crimes. Wexler aided in designing and implementing a comprehensive anti-crime strategy that is currently a model for private-public cooperation.

Chuck Wexler has held various positions in the Police Boston Department. As an operations assistant to the police commissioner, he played a key role in managing racial violence. He also played a crucial role in the establishment of the Community Disorder Unit, which has been very successful in preventing crime that is racially motivated. Wexler believes that the quality of human life is based on the mission of policing therefore he is always trying to improve policing practices (Wexler, 2016). He has studied a wide range issues ranging from police education and training to the use of force by police officers.

Wexler also headed the task force of the Department of Homeland Security which offered suggestions on the federal immigration practices that should be enforced. Generally, Wexler is an icon when it comes to security in the United States due to the various achievements he has had. Wexler has demonstrated to be a very confident leader because he developed practices and solutions that had a risk of failing but still took his chances. Risk has enabled the leader improve practices and policies related to policing.
