Roman Shipping and Trade Joan du Plat Taylor, Henry Cleere, Council for British Archaeology, 1978 Bollywood, 2002

Trade, Commerce, and the State in the Roman World Andrew Wilson, Alan K. Bowman, 2018 In this volume papers by leading Roman historians and archaeologists discuss trade within the Roman Empire and beyond its frontiers between c 100 BC and AD 350 focusing especially on the role of the Roman state in shaping the institutional framework for trade As part of a novel interdisciplinary approach to the subject the chapters address its myriad facets on the basis of broadly different sources of evidence historical papyrological and archaeological demonstrating how collaborations with the elite holders of wealth within the empire fundamentally changed its political character in the longer term The Oxford Handbook of Roman Britain Martin Millett, Louise Revell, Alison Moore, 2016-09-01 This book provides a twenty first century perspective on Roman Britain combining current approaches with the wealth of archaeological material from the province This volume introduces the history of research into the province and the cultural changes at the beginning and end of the Roman period The majority of the chapters are thematic dealing with issues relating to the people of the province their identities and ways of life Further chapters consider the characteristics of the province they lived in such as the economy and settlement patterns This Handbook reflects the new approaches being developed in Roman archaeology and demonstrates why the study of Roman Britain has become one of the most dynamic areas of archaeology The book will be useful for academics and students interested in Roman Britain Communities and Connections Chris Gosden, 2007-11-08 A collection of essays by many of the leading specialists in the archaeology of the Iron Age and early Roman periods in Britain and western Europe paying tribute to Professor Sir Barry Cunliffe The subjects covered range over more than a thousand years and from the Atlantic coasts to the eastern Mediterranean Daily Life in Arthurian Britain Deborah J. Shepherd, 2013-08-12 This book surveys current archaeological and historical thinking about the dimly understood characteristics of daily life in Great Britain during the fifth and sixth centuries Arthurian legends are immensely popular and well known despite the lack of reliable documentation about this time period in Britain As a result historians depend upon archaeologists to accurately describe life during these two centuries of turmoil when Britons suffered displacement by Germanic immigrants Daily Life in Arthurian Britain examines cultural change in Britain through the fifth and sixth centuries anachronistically known as The Dark Ages with a focus on the fate of Romano British culture demographic change in the northern and western border lands and the impact of the Germanic immigrants later known as the Anglo Saxons The book coalesces many threads of current knowledge and opinion from leading historians and archaeologists describing household composition rural and urban organization food production architecture fashion trades and occupations social classes education political organization warfare and religion in Arthurian times The few available documentary sources are analyzed for the cultural and historical value of their information Parasite and Disease Spread by Major Rivers on Earth

Heinz Mehlhorn, Sven Klimpel, 2019-11-12 This book focuses on waterborne pathogens and significant diseases occurring along major rivers around the globe including key examples like the Amazonas Mekong River and Nile Written by leading international experts it offers unique insights into local riverine infection risks in times of global warming and addressing these through advances in diagnosis health management and the development of simple but effective control measures It also sheds light on why former societies collapsed due to transmitted diseases during periods of climate change droughts and floods to help establish effective preventive measures for the future The book appeals to a wide readership from scientists in the field of parasitology infectious diseases and epidemiology to healthcare managers and general readers with an interest in pathogen spread along the largest rivers on earth It particularly highlights past and current control mechanisms in times of global warming and assesses potential future health hazards The Roman Impact on the Economy of the Lower Germanic Limes Region

Erik Timmerman, 2023-09-25 The remarkable economic performance of the Roman Empire is now widely acknowledged Yet there is still much debate about its interpretation Although this debate is mainly conducted at the empire wide level regional syntheses are indispensable to its further advancement This book contributes to that purpose by providing a comprehensive account of the Roman impact on the economy of the Lower Germanic Limes region By drawing on a large number of scattered publications and archaeological datasets the work demonstrates that Roman rule also led to important economic developments in a part of the empire that was remote from its Mediterranean heartland Early

Byzantine Ireland Bernard Mulholland, 2021-12-01 This research was conducted towards an MA in Byzantine Archaeology and Text 2004 at the Institute of Byzantine Studies in Queen s University Belfast It is published with the aim of presenting this evidence to a wider audience and to inform future research by others in this field of study The archaeological and historical evidence presented and analysed is surprisingly diverse and relatively plentiful and arguably also compelling Is there any evidence for contacts between the Eastern Roman or Byzantine empire and Ireland and if so what form does that evidence take This book does much to inform that debate The Roman Fort of Vindolanda

P T Bidwell, 2014-06-15 This work is principally an account of excavations carried out at Vindolanda in 1980 but also reviews the available evidence for the history of the fort and vicus Early timber forts were succeeded by a stone fort in the Hadrianic period perhaps in c 122 4 Reconstruction of some interior buildings were erected in the northern part of the praetentura they are thought to have been houses accommodating a civilian work force under military control West of the fort lay a number of buildings apparently serving as a military annexe rather than civilian vicus The fort was almost entirely rebuilt in c 223 5 retaining only parts of the original west and east walls After a delay of about a decade when part of the garrison was probably posted elsewhere a double barrack block was erected in the north east corner of the fort possibly to accommodate cavalry The building underwent a number of alterations and remained in use until c 400 There are slight indications of activity on the site subsequent to that date Rebuilding of the fort in c 223 5 was accompanied by construction of an extensive vicus which was largely abandoned by the last quarter of the third century. Foremost amongst the finds was a fragment of a military diploma issued to a soldier of cohors Tungrorum. There were numerous objects of iron and copper alloy. A considerable quantity of pottery was recovered from a sequence of third and fourth century deposits. Coin finds from the fort and vicus are compared and their significance discussed.
