Roman Civilization Selected Readings In 2 Volumes:

Roman Civilization Naphtali Lewis, Meyer Reinhold, 1990 A History of Western Education (Volumes 1, 2 and 3)
James Bowen, 2020-05-25 This set reprints volumes 1 2 and 3 of James Bowen's A History of Western Education originally published by Methuen in the 1970s Volume One The Ancient World Orient and Mediterranean 2000 B C A D 1054 The volume traces the development of education in the ancient world from the first scribal cultures of Mesopotamia and Egypt to learning in the early Christian church A detailed account is given of the achievements of Greece in literacy learning philosophy and training for public life achievements which were further developed in the Hellenistic Orient and incorporated by the Romans into their own highly organized educational system This leads to the emergence of a specifically Christian ideal of education the decline of secular learning in the West and the preservation of learning both in Byzantium and in Western monasticism Volume Two Civilization of Europe Sixth to Sixteenth Century Volume Two follows the growth and process of learning in Europe from its foundations in the Carolingian era through its evolution in medieval Europe especially Italy France Germany and England to its expansion and refinement in the sixteenth century Particular attention is paid to The role of medieval institutions of the cathedral and grammar schools and the university The contribution of notable scholars of the age such as Abelard Thomas Aquinas Erasmus and Luther Volume Three The Modern West Europe and the New World The final volume covers the period of educational dissent which became conspicuous in the early seventeenth century and reached crisis proportions in the late twentieth when the dominant ideologies of progress and equality generated at the beginning of the nineteenth century were questioned for the first time on a widespread popular scale Ancient Rome Matthew Dillon, Lynda Garland, 2013-10-28 A companion volume to the highly successful and widely used Ancient Greece this Sourcebook is a valuable resource for students at all levels studying ancient Rome Lynda Garland and Matthew Dillon present an extensive range of material from the early Republic to the assassination of Julius Caesar Providing a comprehensive coverage of all important documents pertaining to the Roman Republic Ancient Rome includes source material on political developments in the Roman Republic 509-44 BC detailed chapters on social phenomena such as Roman religion slavery and freedmen women and the family and the public face of Rome clear precise translations of documents taken not only from historical sources but also from inscriptions laws and decrees epitaphs graffiti public speeches poetry private letters and drama concise up to date bibliographies and commentaries for each document and chapter a definitive collection of source material on the Roman Republic All students of ancient Rome and classical studies will find this textbook invaluable at all levels of study Sources of The Making of the West, Volume I: To 1740 Katharine J. Lualdi, 2009 Sources of The Making of the West helps bring the history of the west to life Thoroughly revised and designed to be used independently or as a companion reader this two volume collection parallels the major topics and themes covered in each chapter of The Making of the West A broad range of source types and themes illuminate historical experience from a diversity of perspectives This reader offers instructors even more opportunities to promote classroom discussion of primary documents and to help students develop essential historical thinking skills Publisher's website A History of the Laws of War: Volume 2 Alexander Gillespie, 2011-10-07 This unique new work of reference traces the origins of the modern laws of warfare from the earliest times to the present day Relying on written records from as far back as 2400 BCE and using sources ranging from the Bible to Security Council Resolutions the author pieces together the history of a subject which is almost as old as civilisation itself The author shows that as long as humanity has been waging wars it has also been trying to find ways of legitimising different forms of combatants and ascribing rules to them protecting civilians who are either inadvertently or intentionally caught up between them and controlling the use of particular classes of weapons that may be used in times of conflict Thus it is that this work is divided into three substantial parts Volume 1 on the laws affecting combatants and captives Volume 2 on civilians and Volume 3 on the law of arms control This second book on civilians examines four different topics The first topic deals with the targetting of civilians in times of war This discussion is one which has been largely governed by the developments of technologies which have allowed projectiles to be discharged over ever greater areas and attempts to prevent their indiscriminate utilisation have struggled to keep pace The second topic concerns the destruction of the natural environment with particular regard to the utilisation of starvation as a method of warfare and unlike the first topic this one has rarely changed over thousands of years although contemporary practices are beginning to represent a clear break from tradition The third topic is concerned with the long standing problems of civilians under the occupation of opposing military forces where the practices of genocide collective punishments and or reprisals and rape have occurred The final topic in this volume is about the theft or destruction of the property of the enemy in terms of either pillage or the intentional devastation of the cultural property of the opposition As a work of reference this set of three books is unrivalled and will be of immense benefit to scholars and practitioners researching and advising on the laws of warfare It also tells a story which throws fascinating new light on the history of international law and on the history of warfare itself

In the Shadow of the Temple Oskar Skarsaune, 2025-08-04 Oskar Skarsaune makes a fresh contribution to our understanding of the development of the early church in its practice e.g. worship baptism and Eucharist and doctrine e.g. Scripture Christology pneumatology This book offers the new perspective that Christians were in ongoing and deep conversation with Jews during the early centuries leading up to Constantine The common perception of a drastic parting of the ways after the destruction of Jerusalem in 70 A.D. has tended to distort our understanding of the succeeding decades and centuries of Jewish and Christian history Notwithstanding the fact that there were points of bitterness and strife the relationship is better viewed as that of a younger and older sibling There is much evidence of interaction between the early Christians and rabbinic Judaism both at the level of leadership and laypeople and this left its impression on the church Skarsaune gives us numerous fascinating episodic and topical glimpses into this untold story Sources of The Making of the West, Volume I: To 1750, 2012 Thoroughly revised and expanded this two volume primary source collection provides written and visual sources to accompany each chapter of The Making of the West and The Making of the West A Concise History. Each chapter features five to six sources both classic and lesser known that reinforce the major political economic social and cultural developments covered in the textbook.
