Bishop, 2002 This book is a collection of papers describing recent work on the Roman fort at Inveresk near Edinburgh and its environs The book has its origins in a seminar held at the National Museums of Scotland in 1999 organised jointly by Historic Scotland and The Society of Antiquaries of Scotland The Antonine Wall: Papers in Honour of Professor Lawrence Keppie David J. Breeze, William S. Hanson, 2020-04-03 32 papers present research on the Antonine Wall in honour of Lawrence Keppie Papers cover a wide variety of aspects the environmental and prehistoric background structure planning and construction military deployment associated artefacts and inscriptions logistics of supply the people of the Wall including womenfolk and children The Roman Or Turkish Bath: Together with Barege, Medicated, Galvanic and Hydropathic Baths James LAWRIE (M.D.), 1864 Caledonia Romana: a descriptive account of the Roman antiquities of Scotland; preceded by an introductory view of the aspect of the country and the state of its inhabitants in the first century of the christian era; and by a summary of the historical transactions connected with the Roman occupation of North Britain Robert Stuart, 1845 British and Irish Archaeology, 1994 Archaeologia Scotica, 1822 Archaeologia Scotica: Or Transactions of the Society of the Antiquaries of Scotland, 1822 Transactions of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland, 1822 Vol 1 includes history by laws and membership of the society Conceiving a Nation Gilbert Markus, 2017-06-29 This new edition in The New History of Scotland series replacing Alfred Smyth's Warlords and Holy Men 1984 covers the history of Scotland in the period up to 900 AD A great deal has changed in the historiography of this period in the intervening three decades an entire Pictish kingdom has moved nearly a hundred miles to the north new archaeological finds have forced us to rethink old assumptions and the writing of early medieval history is beginning to struggle out of the shadow of later medieval sources which have too often been read rather naively and without sufficient regard for their implicit ideological agenda Gilbert Markus brings a stimulating approach to studying this elusive period analysing both its litter of physical evidence as well as its literary sources what he calls luminous debris as a method of shedding light on the reality of the period In doing so he reforms our historical perceptions of what has often been dismissed as a dark age Reading Between the Lines Kenneth Brophy, 2015-10-05 Reading Between the Lines The Neolithic Cursus Monuments of Scotland is the first systematic analysis of Scotland's cursus monuments and is written by one of the foremost scholars of the Neolithic in Scotland Drawing on fifteen years of experience of cropmark interpretation as well as his involvement in several excavations of cursus monuments and contemporary sites Kenneth Brophy uncovers some of the secrets of the Neolithic landscape While outlining the physical characteristics of the cursus this book also addresses the limitations of this kind of typological description when applied to monuments which varied so remarkably in terms of materiality and size Moving beyond a morphological account Brophy considers what can be said of this diverse group of sites and how they were actually built and used in prehistory in light of several decades of aerial reconnaissance and excavation in Scotland Through a close study of the differences as well as the similarities between these structures this book offers a nuanced account of cursus monuments finally allowing this important monument type to be better understood and placed alongside others of the period Offering exciting new ways of thinking about these enigmatic yet important monuments Reading Between the Lines The Neolithic Cursus Monuments of Scotland is an essential resource for students and specialists in British prehistory providing an introduction to the Early Neolithic archaeology of lowland Scotland as well as a meditation on broader aspects of monumentality and architecture
