Romantic Correspondence Women Politics And The Fiction Of Letters:

Romantic Correspondence Mary A. Favret, 2004 This study of correspondence in the Romantic period calls into question the common notion that letters are a particularly romantic personal and ultimately feminine form of writing The Routledge Companion to Romantic Women Writers Ann R. Hawkins, Catherine S. Blackwell, E. Leigh Bonds, 2022-12-30 The Routledge Companion to Romantic Women Writers overviews critical reception for Romantic women writers from their earliest periodical reviews through the most current scholarship and directs users to avenues of future research It is divided into two parts The first section offers topical discussions on the status of provincial poets on women's engagement in children's literature the relation of women writers to their religious backgrounds the historical backgrounds to women's orientalism and their engagement in debates on slavery and abolition The second part surveys the life and careers of individual women some 47 in all with sections for biography biographical resources works modern editions archival holdings critical reception and avenues for further research The final sections of each essay offer further guidance for researchers including Signatures under which the author published and a List of Works accompanied whenever possible with contemporary prices and publishing formats To facilitate research a robust Works Cited includes all texts mentioned or quoted in the essay

Romanticism Gendered Andrea Fischerová, 2020-11-09 This study focuses on the six writing men who have been throughout decades regarded as the alpha and omega of British Romanticism Byron Coleridge Keats Scott Shelley and Wordsworth It sees these men as a representative cohort of their time and examines their letters as results of a reading process Although letters are usually seen as additional sources of reference in literary studies in this book they are treated as the dominant information material correspondence enables to reconsider British Romanticism on the basis of the epistolary communication of the first half of the nineteenth century The target information from the letters are references to women writers and to their writings A detailed analysis of the correspondence manages to answer the question whether male Romantics regarded writing women as provoking from time to time as Duncan Wu assumes and whether the gender identity of the woman author influenced the way male readers read her literary works The examination of the correspondence thus takes a gendered perspective on British Romanticism This approach to the target research data discloses a long list of almost 120 names of women writers from different periods and of different literary genres Whereas the male readers in question have acquired a well established stable long term position within literary history the women were often marginalized even forgotten The study presents plentiful examples proving the discrepancies between what the twenty first century reader regards as the core of women's Romantic literary tradition and what the Romantic reader did The following women writers are discussed in the study in detail Susannah Centlivre Anne Finch Lady Winchelsea Ann Radcliffe Mary Robinson Felicia Hemans Mary Shelley Joanna Baillie Maria Edgeworth Maria Jane Jewsbury Catherine Grace Godwin and Emmeline Fisher

Romanticism and the Letter Madeleine Callaghan, Anthony Howe, 2020-01-29 Romanticism and the Letter is a collection of essays that explore various aspects of letter writing in the Romantic period of British Literature Although the correspondence of the Romantics constitutes a major literary achievement in its own right it has received relatively little critical attention Essays focus on the letters of major poets including Wordsworth Byron Shelley and Keats novelists and prose writers including Jane Austen Leigh Hunt and Charles Lamb and lesser known writers such as Melesina Trench and Mary Leadbeater Moving from theories of letter writing through the period s diverse epistolary culture to essays on individual writers the collection opens new perspectives for students and scholars of the Romantic period Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray, 2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate reference source on the literature thought music and art of the period demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism

Gordon alternating between the two chapter by chapter binds their lives into a fascinating whole She shows in vivid detail how mother influenced daughter and how the daughter s struggles mirrored the mother s The Boston Globe Desmond Charlotte Smith,2001-08-30 Desmond is a political novel about the French Revolution It is Charlotte Smith s only epistolary work and it is her most politically radical piece Written in response to Edmund Burke s Reflections on the Revolution in France Smith s Desmond fuses political discussion with romance social satire and a suspenseful plot revolving around a liberal hero desperately in love with a woman who is married to a drunken anti revolutionary Whereas Burke represented the French Revolution as a sentimental drama Smith draws out the parallel between political and domestic tyranny to show how the disenfranchisement of British women under eighteenth century common law resembled the political tyranny of the French absolutist monarchy Key Concepts in Romantic Literature Jane Moore,John Strachan,2010-09-10 Key Concepts in Romantic Literature is an accessible and easy to use scholarly guide to the literature criticism and history of the culturally rich and politically turbulent Romantic era 1789 1832 The book offers a comprehensive and critically up to date account of the fascinating poetry novels and drama which characterized the Romantic period alongside an historically informed account of the important social political and aesthetic contexts which shaped that body of writing The epochal poetry of William Wordsworth William Blake Mary Robinson S T Coleridge Charlotte Smith P B Shelley Lord Byron John Keats Felicia Hemans and Letitia Elizabeth Landon the drama of Joanna Baillie and Charles Robert Maturin the novels of Jane Austen and Mary Shelley all of these figures and many more are insightfully discussed here together with clear and helpful accounts of the key contexts of the age s literature including the French Revolution slavery industrialisation empire and the rise of feminism as well as accounts of perhaps less familiar aspects of late Georgian culture such as visionary spirituality atheism gambling fashion music and sport This is the broadest guide available to late eighteenth and early 19th century British and Irish literature history and culture Women's Travel Writing, 1750-1850 Caroline Franklin,2022-07-30 The Romantic Period saw a massive advance in British colonial expansion which was accompanied by a corresponding expansion in travel writings These published letters journals and books provided British readers with detailed accounts of new and exotic locations and thus engaged the reading public with expansionist enterprises Covering the period of the French Revolution up until Victoria s ascendancy to the throne and featuring journeys spanning France and central Europe India and South America this collection brings together some of the most interesting travel accounts written by women at this time The authors included come from a variety of social backgrounds and their written styles are as varied as their journeys For instance Williams and Morgan were professional writers who may be described as feminists while Fay and Falconbridge were ordinary women who had been through extraordinary experiences Women's Letters as Life Writing 1840-1885 Catherine Delafield,2019-12-16 Examining letter collections published in the second half of the nineteenth century Catherine Delafield rereads the life writing of Frances Burney Charlotte Bront Mary Delany Catherine Winkworth Jane Austen and George Eliot situating these women in their epistolary culture and in relation to one another as exemplary women of the period She traces the role of their editors in the publishing process and considers how a model of representation in letters emerged from the publication of Burney's Diary and Letters and Elizabeth Gaskell's Life of Brontë Delafield contends that new correspondences emerge between editors biographers and their biographical subjects and that the original epistolary pact was remade in collaboration with family memorials in private and with reviewers in public Women's Letters as Life Writing addresses issues of survival and choice when an archive passes into family hands tracing the means by which women's lives came to be written and rewritten in letters in the nineteenth century
