

(Re)encountering Individuality: Schlegel's Romantic Imperative as a Response to Nihilism

KEREN GORODEISKY

Auburn University, USA

(Received 24 September 2010)

ABSTRACT According to Friedrich Schlegel: "The Romantic imperative demands [that] all nature and science should become art [and] art should become nature and science"; "[P]oetry and philosophy should be made unified", and "life and society [should be made] poetic". The aim of this paper is to explain why Schlegel believes that this is an imperative that constrains philosophy and ordinary life. I argue that the answer to this question requires that we regard the Romantic imperative as a response to the skeptical worry that was introduced by Friedrich Heinrich Jacobi as nihilism. The aspect of nihilism that I discuss concerns the worry that we are incapable of experiencing individuals qua individuals. According to Schlegel, this skeptical threat requires a reorientation in thought and philosophical method, one that must be modeled on the aesthetic orientation towards the world. More precisely, the experience of individuals qua individuals, which is called into question by the nihilist, depends on the special normative structure of the creative and critical attitude towards art and beauty that Schlegel called Romantic Poesie. Kant failed to address nihilism because he failed to recognize that the normative structure that he himself ascribed to the judgment of taste is required also for experiencing individuals as individuals, and for being properly responsive to persons.

Friedrich Schlegel, one of the leading figures in Early German Romanticism [Frühromantik],¹ writes: "The Romantic imperative demands [that] all nature and science should become art [and] art should become nature and science."² In two other fragments he elaborates on this idea: "[P]oetry and philosophy should be made unified" (CF, II, p. 161, no. 115) and "life and society [should be made] poetic" (AF, II, p. 182, no. 116).

Romantic Poetry And The Fragmentary Imperative Schlegel Byron Joyce Blanchot:

Romantic Poetry and the Fragmentary Imperative Christopher A. Strathman, 2012-02-01 Romantic Poetry and the Fragmentary Imperative locates Byron and to a lesser extent Joyce within a genealogy of romantic poetry understood not so much as imaginative self expression or ideological case study but rather as what the German romantics call romantische Poesie an experimental form of poetry loosely based on the fragmentary flexibility and acute critical self consciousness of Socratic dialogue The book is therefore less an attempt to present yet another theory of romanticism than it is an effort to recover a more precise sense of the relationship between Byron's fragmentary or workless poetic and romantic poetry generally and to articulate connections between romantic poetry and modern literature and literary theory The book also argues that the exigency or imperative of the fragmentary works of Schlegel Byron Joyce and Blanchot is not so much the expression of a style as it is an acknowledgment of what remains unthought in thinking The Oxford Handbook of Lord Byron, 2024-10-04 The Oxford Handbook of Lord Byron offers the latest in critical thinking about the poet that defined the Romantic era across Europe and beyond The volume presents forty four groundbreaking essays that enable readers to assess Lord Byron's central position in Romantic traditions and his profound and far reaching influence on British European and world culture The chapters are organized into five sections Works Biographical Contexts Literary and Cultural Contexts Afterlives and Reading Byron Now that guide readers through the most important issues and frameworks for interpreting Byron Works presents original readings of Byron's key works and many of his lesser known ones giving space to extensive studies of his great epic Don Juan and the poem that brought him fame Childe Harold's Pilgrimage Biographical Contexts invites readers to consider Byron's life through key themes and patterns Literary and Cultural Contexts sets out the most important intellectual traditions from which Byron's work emerged and in which it developed Afterlives shows readers the extent of Byron's influence on literature art music and politics in Europe and beyond Reading Byron Now advances the critical agendas that are shaping Byron Studies today The Handbook tackles key themes associated with Byron including the Byronic Hero cosmopolitanism liberalism sexuality mobility scepticism the Gothic celebrity culture and much more For new readers of Byron the volume provides an excellent grounding in his life and work and for specialists it opens up exciting new approaches to an icon of Romantic literature Joyce Studies Annual 2020 Philip T. Sicker, Moshe Gold, 2025-01-14 An indispensable resource for scholars and students of James Joyce Joyce Studies Annual gathers essays by foremost scholars and emerging voices in the field Philosophical Fragments as the Poetry of Thinking Luke Fischer, 2024-12-12 Innovatively combining philosophical inquiry and aphoristic writing this study presents a bold new interpretation of philosophical poetics Exploring fragments both thematically and formally Luke Fischer situates the form as uniquely positioned between philosophy and poetry Like poetry fragments condense insights into few words employ striking metaphors that draw intuitive connections and make space for creative interpretation Contrasting with the logical linearity of much philosophy fragments disclose rather than prove intimate more than argue suggest a whole without elaborating a system and emphasize the intuitive act of thinking Fischer readjusts our understanding of philosophical ideas as they originate in moments of illumination and reveals the fragment as philosophy in process In a collection of original fragments and an exploratory essay Fischer sheds light on the relation between poetry and philosophy aesthetics and society art and the environment and discusses seminal practitioners of the fragmentary form including Novalis F Schlegel Nietzsche and Heraclitus Philosophical Fragments as the Poetry of Thinking makes an engaging nonlinear case for the possibility and significance of a poetic transmutation of philosophy

Romanticism, Memory, and Mourning Mark Sandy, 2016-04-08 The subject of Romanticism Memory and Mourning could not be timelier with Zizek's recent proclamation that we are living in the end times and in an era which is preoccupied with the process and consequences of ageing We mourn both for our pasts and futures as we now recognise that history is a continuation and record of loss Mark Sandy explores the treatment of grief loss and death across a variety of Romantic poetic forms including the ballad sonnet epic elegy fragment romance and ode in the works of poets as diverse as Smith Hemans Blake Wordsworth Coleridge Byron Shelley Keats and Clare Romantic meditations on grief however varied in form and content are self-consciously aware of the complexity and strength of feelings surrounding the consolation or disconsolation that their structures of poetic memory afford those who survive the imaginary and actual dead Romantic mourning Sandy shows finds expression in disparate poetic forms and how it manifests itself both as the spirit of its age rooted in precise historical conditions and as a proleptic power of lasting transhistorical significance Romantic meditations on grief and loss speak to our contemporary anxieties about the inevitable but unthinkable event of death itself

The Development of Byron's Philosophy of Knowledge Emily A. Bernhard Jackson, 2010-10-27 Taking a fresh approach to Byron this book argues that he should be understood as a poet whose major works develop a carefully reasoned philosophy Situating him with reference to the thought of the period it argues for Byron as an active thinker whose final philosophical stance reader-centred scepticism has extensive practical implications

The Emergence of Literature Jacob Bittner, 2020-01-23 The Emergence of Literature is an extension and reworking of a series of significant propositions in philosophy and literary theory Jean-Luc Nancy and Philippe Lacoue-Labarthe's examination of the concept of the literary absolute Martin Heidegger's destruction and Giorgio Agamben's archaeology of the metaphysics of will Maurice Blanchot's delimitation of the space of literature and Michel Foucault's archaeology of literature Its core contribution to the history of theory is to understand the literary absolute not simply as philosophical concept but as a paradigm that delimits the horizon for currents of literary theory through the course of the 20th century where the literary criteria change from the theme of sincerity to the theme of the death of the author Stretching from Kant to Hegel from Holderlin to the Early German Romantics from John Stuart Mill to New Criticism from Benjamin to Barthes The Emergence of Literature examines the relation between continental philosophy and literature in the post-Kantian era
