Children's Books In Print 1998 Bowker Editorial Staff,R R Bowker Publishing,Bowker,1998     We Are the Crisis of Capital John Holloway,2019-04-01 We Are the Crisis of Capital collects articles and excerpts written by radical academic theorist and activist John Holloway over a period of forty years This collection asks Is there a way out How do we break capital a form of social organisation that dehumanises us and threatens to annihilate us completely How do we create a world based on the mutual recognition of human dignity Holloway s work answers loudly By screaming NO By thinking from our own anger and creativity By trying to recover the we buried under the categories of capitalist thought By opening those categories and discovering the antagonism they conceal and by discovering that behind the concepts of money state capital crisis and so on there moves our resistance and rebellion An approach sometimes referred to as Open Marxism it is an attempt to rethink Marxism as daily struggle The articles move forward influenced by the German state derivation debates of the 1970s by the CSE debates in Britain and the group around the Edinburgh journal Common Sense and then moving on to Mexico and the wonderful stimulus of the Zapatista uprising and now the continuing whirl of discussion with colleagues and students in the Posgrado de Sociologia of the Benemrita Universidad Autonoma de Puebla     The Confucian Concept of Learning Duck-Joo Kwak,Morimichi Kato,Ruyu Hung,2019-12-18 What does the Confucian heritage mean to modern East Asian education today Is it invalid and outdated or an irreplaceable cultural resource for an alternative approach to education And to what extent can we recover the humanistic elements of the Confucian tradition of education for use in world education Written from a comparative perspective this book attempts to collectively explore these pivotal questions in search of future directions in education In East Asian countries like China Japan Korea and Taiwan Confucianism as a philosophy of learning is still deeply embedded in the ways people think of and practice education in their everyday life even if their official language puts on the Western scientific mode It discusses how Confucian concepts including rote learning and conformity to authority can be differently understood for the post liberal and post metaphysical culture of education today The contributors seek to make sense of East Asian experiences of modern education and to find a way to make Confucian philosophy of education compatible with the Western idea of liberal education This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Philosophy and Theory     Children's Books in Print R R Bowker Publishing,Bowker,1999-12

Belonging and Estrangement in the Poetry of Philip Larkin, R.S. Thomas and Charles Causley Rory Waterman,2016-04-22 Focusing on the significance of place connection and relationship in three poets who are seldom considered in conjunction Rory Waterman argues that Philip Larkin R S Thomas and Charles Causley epitomize many of the emotional and societal shifts and mores of their age Waterman looks at the foundations underpinning their poetry the attempts of all three to forge a sense of belonging with or separateness from their readers the poets varying responses to their geographical and cultural origins the belonging and estrangement that inheres in relationships including marriage the forced estrangements of war the antagonism between social belonging and a need for isolation and finally the charged issues of faith and mortality in an increasingly secularized country

The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2020-09-08 A revolutionary new argument from eminent Yale Law professor Daniel Markovits attacking the false promise of meritocracy It is an axiom of American life that advantage should be earned through ability and effort Even as the country divides itself at every turn the meritocratic ideal that social and economic rewards should follow achievement rather than breeding reigns supreme Both Democrats and Republicans insistently repeat meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we are It sustains the American dream But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that Daniel Markovits prosecutes with rare force Markovits is well placed to expose the sham of meritocracy Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within Markovits also knows that if we understand that meritocratic inequality produces near universal harm we can cure it When The Meritocracy Trap reveals the inner workings of the meritocratic machine it also illuminates the first steps outward towards a new world that might once again afford dignity and prosperity to the American people
