Pennine Journey:

A Pennine Journey David Pitt, 2010 In September 1938 A Wainwright made a solitary walk through the Pennines The following year he wrote up an account of this walk which was eventually published in 1986 This illustrated guide written by members of the Wainwright Society is a recreation of this walk adapted for today's roads and rights of way taking a route that Wainwright might have chosen if he was planning it today The route is 247 miles long and divided into 18 stages With maps and illustrations inspired by the work of the great AW this labour of love is essential for all those who wish to follow in Wainwright's footsteps A pennine journey Alfred Wainwright, A Pennine Journey A. Wainwright, 2004-03-01 A fascinating story of a solitary walk through the Pennines taken by A Wainwright in September 1938 Pennine Journey, 2015 A Very British Journey Peter Hadden, Iain Chisholm, 2024-08-28 Britain is blessed with remarkable scenery and a wealth of history and there is no better way to explore it than on foot Although long distance walking is easy for the young and fit for others it may not be so This is a story of how a group of walkers the majority of whom were in their seventh decade walked from Hampshire to Iona and what they discovered about this spectacular island along the way The book is lavishly illustrated with photographs most of which were taken during the walk The walk was accomplished over one week in May every year for 5 years Timings and routes are detailed and both the human and natural history of the places visited is explored Starting in Hampshire the walkers headed northwest along the Thames through the Cotswolds and into the Midlands Then they followed the Pennines through the Peak District Yorkshire Dales and the Northumbrian hinterland From Lindisfarne the walkers headed to Scotland traversing in turn the Borders Southern Uplands Glasgow Western Highlands and over to Iona via Mull All were amazed at how much ground could be covered and all returned with a much deeper understanding of Britain than when they had I Belong Here Anita Sethi, 2021-04-29 WINNER OF THE 2021 BOOKS ARE MY BAG READERS AWARD FOR NON FICTION SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2021 WAINWRIGHT PRIZE I knew in every bone of my body in every fibre of my being that I had to report what had happened not only for myself but to help stop anyone else having to go through what I did I knew I could not remain silent or still I could not stop walking through the world A journey of reclamation through the natural landscapes of the North brilliantly exploring identity nature place and belonging Beautifully written and truly inspiring I Belong Here heralds a powerful and refreshing new voice in nature writing Anita Sethi was on a journey through Northern England when she became the victim of a race hate crime The crime was a vicious attack on her right to exist in a place on account of her race After the event Anita experienced panic attacks and anxiety A crushing sense of claustrophobia made her long for wide open spaces to breathe deeply in the great outdoors She was intent on not letting her experience stop her travelling freely and without fear The Pennines known as the backbone of Britain runs through the north and also strongly connects north with south east with west it's a place of borderlands and limestone of rivers and scars of fells and forces The Pennines called to Anita with a magnetic force although a racist had told her to leave she felt drawn to further explore the area she regards as her home to immerse herself deeply in place Anita's journey through the natural landscapes of the North is one of reclamation a way of saying that this is her land too and she belongs in the UK as a brown woman as much as a white man does Her journey transforms what began as an ugly experience of hate into one offering hope and finding beauty after brutality Anita transforms her personal experience into one of universal resonance offering a call to action to keep walking onwards Every footstep taken is an act of persistence Every word written against the rising tide of hate speech such as this book is an act of resistance Pennine Journey A. Wainwright, 1988-01-05

West Pennine Walks Mike Cresswell, 1998 Home Ground Andrew Stachulski, 2012-08-08 The essence of Home

Ground is a collection of twenty walks ranging from about five to fifteen miles in length situated in the North West of England. The criterion for selection is that each walk must be situated in whole or in part on Ordnance Survey 1:50,000 Landranger map no 103 Blackburn and Burnley. This was the map used by the author when he first began to explore the area almost fifty years ago and these long personal associations heightened by a long absence from the area make this truly his home ground. Within this relatively small area there is a rich variety of beautiful scenery largely unsung all lying within some twenty miles of industrial East Lancashire. From the suburbs of Blackburn to the fringe of the Yorkshire Dales from the sweeping fells of the Forest of Bowland to the wooded valleys and heights of Calderdale these walks have something to offer to walkers of practically all tastes. Both the Forest of Bowland and the Pennine Way feature strongly on the map and in the book and extra sections discuss these features. Especially the Forest of Bowland recognized as an area of outstanding national beauty but not a national park is introduced in some detail as its charm and many opportunities for the walker and day visitor are still little known. The Pennine Way which features in three of the walks is mentioned more autobiographically as the author recalls his own experience of the Way and its wider relationship to Northern England.

About the Author: Andrew Stachulski was born in Blackburn in 1950 the son of a Polish father and English mother and grew up in nearby Great Harwood. He was educated at Accrington Grammar School from 1961 to 1968 when he gained entrance to read Natural Sciences at Fitzwilliam College Cambridge. He graduated with firstclass honours in 1971 and after winning a senior scholarship he remained at the college to study for a Ph D under the supervision of Professor Alan now Sir Alan Battersby. Following the completion of his doctorate in 1974 he held postdoctoral fellowships with the Medical Research Council and at Jesus College Oxford until 1978. There followed a long period of employment in the chemical industry first with Beecham Pharmaceuticals later SmithKline Beecham and then Ultrafine Chemicals Manchester. In 2001 he fulfilled a longheld ambition by returning to academic life at the University of Liverpool becoming a senior lecturer in 2003. Recently Jan 2010 he moved to take up a senior research fellowship at the University of Oxford.

Walking has always been a great love of his life beginning in the Ribble Valley and Pendle country of his native Lancashire. In the mid 1970s he completed a number of Britain's longdistance footpaths the Pennine Way Offa's Dyke Path and Coast to Coast walk accompanied by college friends. Subsequently he climbed all the principal fells of the Lake District where he often returns and from 1981 again with a college friend he began to climb in the Scottish Highlands. In 2003 he completed the circuit of all the Munros the separate Scottish mountains of 3,000 ft or greater height. His first walks were planned with the aid of the old one inch to one mile Ordnance Survey map of Blackburn and Burnley and that is truly his home ground. It was particularly following his return to the North in 1991 then living in Greater Manchester that this book came to be planned. Old walks familiar from childhood in the Ribble and Hodder valleys Pendle country South Pennines and the Forest of Bowland were revisited and built on and many new ones were added. From these the twenty walks featured in this book have been selected walks which appeal personally to the author through their beauty or special associations or which in his view speak most clearly of the characteristics of the area

The World's First Railway System Mark Casson, 2009-09-10 The British railway network was a monument to Victorian private enterprise Its masterpieces of civil engineering were emulated around the world But its performance was controversial praised for promoting a high density of lines it was also criticised for wasteful duplication of routes This is the first history of the British railway system written from a modern economic perspective It uses counterfactual analysis to construct an alternative network to represent the most efficient alternative rail network that could have been constructed given what was known at the time the first time this has been done It reveals how weaknesses in regulation and defects in government policy resulted in enormous inefficiency in the Victorian system that Britain lives with today British railway companies developed into powerful regional monopolies which then contested each other's territories When denied access to existing lines in rival territories they built duplicate lines instead Plans for an integrated national system sponsored by William Gladstone were blocked by Members of Parliament because of a perceived conflict with the local interests they represented Each town wanted more railways than its neighbours and so too many lines were built The costs of these surplus lines led ultimately to higher fares and freight charges which impaired the performance of the economy The book will be the definitive source of reference for those interested in the economic history of the British railway system It makes use of a major new historical source deposited railway plans integrates transport and local history through its regional analysis of the railway system and provides a comprehensive classified bibliography

Constructing Leisure K. Spracklen, 2011-10-12 This book looks back at the meaning and purpose of leisure in the past But this is not a simple social history of leisure It is not enough to write a history of leisure on its own in fact it is impossible without engaging in the debate about what counts as leisure in the present and in the past Writing a history of leisure then entails writing a philosophy of leisure and any history needs to be a philosophical history as well That is the purpose of this book It provides an account of leisure through historical time how leisure was constructed and understood by historical actors how communicative reason and free will interacted with instrumentality at different times how historians have reconstructed past leisure through historiography and finally how writers have perceived the meaning and purpose of leisure in alternative histories Providing a sweeping overview of the field Karl Spracklen charts how the concept of leisure was understood in Ancient history through to modern times and looks at leisure in different societies and cultures including Byzantium and Asian civilizations as well as looking at leisure and Islam Spracklen concludes with a chapter on future histories of leisure
