Confronting Suburban Poverty in America Elizabeth Kneebone, Alan Berube, 2013-05-20 It has been nearly a half century since President Lyndon Johnson declared war on poverty Back in the 1960s tackling poverty in place meant focusing resources in the inner city and in rural areas The suburbs were seen as home to middle and upper class families affluent commuters and homeowners looking for good schools and safe communities in which to raise their kids But today s America is a very different place Poverty is no longer just an urban or rural problem but increasingly a suburban one as well In Confronting Suburban Poverty in America Elizabeth Kneebone and Alan Berube take on the new reality of metropolitan poverty and opportunity in America After decades in which suburbs added poor residents at a faster pace than cities the 2000s marked a tipping point Suburbia is now home to the largest and fastest growing poor population in the country and more than half of the metropolitan poor However the antipoverty infrastructure built over the past several decades does not fit this rapidly changing geography As Kneebone and Berube cogently demonstrate the solution no longer fits the problem The spread of suburban poverty has many causes including shifts in affordable housing and jobs population dynamics immigration and a struggling economy The phenomenon raises several daunting challenges such as the need for more and better transportation options services and financial resources But necessity also produces opportunity in this case the opportunity to rethink and modernize services structures and procedures so that they work in more scaled cross cutting and resource efficient ways to address widespread need This book embraces that opportunity Kneebone and Berube paint a new picture of poverty in America as well as the best ways to combat it Confronting Suburban Poverty in America offers a series of workable recommendations for public private and nonprofit leaders seeking to modernize po

Passionate Leadership in Education Brent Davies, Tim Brighouse, 2008-08-21 I recommend the book as an inspiration to those who are looking for the words that express what they may already do or will do in the future for these well known writers have world wide experience in recognising and knowing what it is that makes the passionate leader International Journal of Educational Management This is a very interesting collection of chapters on leadership Each chapter is written with verve and conviction and it makes quite stimulating reading Curriculum Perspectives Passionate Leadership is a fantastic book by leading thinkers and doers in the education field It takes moral purpose to new levels and above all it puts passion in perspective The book shows that it is not passion by itself that counts but in combination with strategies insights and daily wisdom Above all this is a book of action not rhetoric Michael Fullan Professor Emeritus OISE University of Toronto and Special Adviser on Education to the Premier of Ontario How opportune that Brent Davies and Tim Brighouse have produced a book on Passionate Leadership As school leaders are becoming increasingly disillusioned with instrumental forms of educational reform Davies Brighouse and their contributors offer a new vision of leadership one that is driven by a belief that teaching is about enabling every child to reach their potential and a conviction that schools should be places filled with joy and optimism in the pursuit of social justice This inspiration will encourage all our leaders to take their work to a new level Professor David Hopkins HSBC iNet Chair of International Leadership Formerly the Chief Adviser to three Secretary of States In this book internationally recognized writers on leadership explore what makes leaders passionate about their role and their schools The contributors show that leadership must move on from the realm of a role or job towards an energy and commitment for enhancing children s learning and children s lives They maintain that passion must be the driving force that moves vision into action through a range of chapters from internationally known contributors Brent Davies Tim Brighouse Geoff Southworth Chris Day John MacBeath Andy Hargreaves John Novak Brian Caldwell and Alan Flinham What sustains and drives leaders to achieve in a changing and challenging educational environment What maintains their passion for education and children s achievement This book seeks to answer these questions The book is essential for all students on leadership programs and educational professionals looking to achieve self and organisational improvement Diplomacy, Force, And Leadership Dan Caldwell,2019-03-08 Alexander L George is a paragon of scholarship an academic who successfully crosses boundaries between theory and policy political science and several different disciplines and case study analysis and theory building Most of all he bridges the gap between the ivory tower of research and the world of people power and politics In these original essays former students colleagues and admirers collaborate in portraying the research program of Alexander George s scholarship in all its diversity and complexity examining subjects ranging from the role of beliefs in foreign policy making to the factors involved in diplomacy and the use of force Taken together these essays offer strong testimony to Alexander George s extraordinary vision erudition and humanity The Road to War in Iraq:

Comparative Foreign Policy Analysis Chris Featherstone,2025-04-09 This book combines three Foreign Policy Analysis FPA models to explain both how and why the US and UK decided to invade Iraq in 2003 These three FPA models each examine a different but closely related aspect of the individual level of decision making Firstly Groupthink examines how pathologies of small group decision making affected the processes in the US and UK decision to invade Iraq Secondly the Leadership Style framework examines how the individual leader s style of exercising their leadership affected the navigation of the decision making process Thirdly analogical reasoning examines how decision makers frame their actions both in their own decision making and in how they present their decision to the wider public By achieving these objectives The Road to War contributes to the field of FPA and to our understanding of how the decision to invade Iraq was taken The comparative use of these FPA models within a single framework means that this book responds to the calls for multifactorial research within FPA proposing and testing a framework that provides more complex answers through adopting a multifactorial framework These more nuanced complex answers then reveal more about the role of the individuals involved in the decision to invade Iraq and how their cognition affected the process that led to the decision to invade The Cultural Politics of

Queer Theory in Education Research Christina Gowlett,Mary Lou Rasmussen,2017-10-02 The Cultural Politics of Queer Theory in Education Research represents the editors intention to disrupt cycles of thinking about the place of queer theory in educational research The book aims to encourage dialogue about the objects and subjects of queer research the forms of politics incited by the use of queer theory in education and the methodological approaches used by scholars when queer y ing The contributions to this book come from those who find queer theory problematic as well as from those who continue to see a productive place for queer research in education however that may be defined The editors have collected contributions that attend to the boundaries that are placed around queer research in education by researchers themselves and by peers ethics committees funding bodies and university and government bureaucracies Considering how key researchers in gender and education identify with or deliberately distance themselves from queer theory this collection grapples with the contemporary cultural politics of doing queer theoretical work in different education spaces and places In short it seeks to disrupt what people think they already know about the place of queer theory in education This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education

Crimes of Peace Maurizio Albahari,2015-09-29 In Crimes of Peace Maurizio Albahari investigates why the Mediterranean Sea is the world s deadliest border and what alternatives might improve this state of affairs Albahari transforms abstract statistics into names and narratives that place the responsibility for the Mediterranean migration crisis in the heart of liberal democracy

Creativity and Culture in Greater China Chi-Cheung Leung,Sonny Shiu-Hing Lo,2015-06-01 This publication unveils creative ideas on knowledge transfer from historical references to commercialization of cultural products It adopts multidisciplinary cross cultural and experimental approaches to study the cultural industries including art music popular culture psychology entrepreneurship and economic studies These scholarly thoughts and ideas were presented in the two conferences held at the Hong Kong Institute of Education in the summer of 2013 The chapters critically evaluate the current situation of the cultural industries and review the underlying relationships between the different sectors in the field By assessing the development of the cultural industries the authors hope that market and government intervention can enhance further consolidation and minimize hindrance to the growth of creativity

Thinking Through Television Ron Lembo,2000-10-19 This original and engaging book investigates American television viewing habits as a distinct cultural form Based on an empirical study of the day to day use of television by working people it develops a unique theoretical approach integrating cultural sociology post modernism and the literature of media effects to explore the way in which people give meaning to their viewing practices While recognising the power of television it also emphasises the importance of the social and political factors which affect the lives of individual viewers showing how the interaction between the two can result in a disengagement with corporately produced culture at the same time as an appropriation of the images themselves into people s lives
