People and Pollution Nicholas S. Hopkins, Sohair Mehanna, Salah el- Haggag, 2001 Environmental pollution is a concern of many people in Egypt and the world in general People and Pollution is a study of how Egyptians in particular understand environmental problems and what their roles are in the solutions This original study is based on extensive field research with both academic and policy relevance The uniqueness of the book comes from its focus instead of the usual approach of analyzing policy and measurements this text seeks to understand how the people themselves often the objects of policy understand their environment and their own actions An interesting finding from the research lies in the focus of Egyptian concerns Rather than the global perspective the depletion of the ozone layer protection of coral reefs and rainforests and so on that is common in the West Egyptians are mainly concerned with matters of immediate environmental degradation such as garbage sewage dirty streets and noise pollution In addition the researchers have found that people are often able to effect changes themselves through cooperation with neighbors thus bypassing the official channels of redress such as NGOs and local government officials The difference in focus of concern and courses of action may be extrapolated to many Third World or developing nations and leads to provocative questions regarding policymaking for public participation in future environmental campaigns Descriptive views from the authors eloquent and moving testimony from members of the community and clear statistical analysis of the findings make this book a highly readable text People and Pollution is a pioneering and important work that should be consulted by environmentally concerned readers students and policymakers alike

The Routledge Handbook of Waste Studies Zsuzsa Gille, Josh Lepawsky, 2021-12-27 The Routledge Handbook of Waste Studies offers a comprehensive survey of the new field of waste studies critically interrogating the cultural social economic and political systems within which waste is created managed and circulated While scholars have not settled on a definitive categorization of what waste studies is more and more researchers claim that there is a distinct cluster of inquiries concepts theories and key themes that constitute this field In this handbook the editors and contributors explore the research questions methods and case studies preoccupying academics working in this field in an attempt to develop a set of criteria by which to define and understand waste studies as an interdisciplinary field of study This handbook will be invaluable to those wishing to broaden their understanding of waste studies and to students and practitioners of geography sociology anthropology history environment and sustainability studies      Handbook of Transitions to Energy and Climate Security Robert Looney, 2016-11-25 An original contribution to our understanding of a phenomenon that is reshaping the world this title thoroughly discusses the transformation of the energy security policy arena brought on by two dramatic developments the increased potential availability of energy in many parts of the world on the supply side and on the demand side increasing concerns over the harmful effects on the environment brought on by the use of fossil fuels An in depth discussion specifically focuses on what energy security means to different countries and examines which of those countries appear to be managing their energy climate transitions successfully and which are having a more difficult time adapting to the new environment Part 1 introduces the topic covering the main themes and provides an overview of the chapters Part 2 provides a framework for policy evaluation considering the evolving factors affecting energy security and the energy climate policy trilemma Parts 3 to 6 discuss energy transitions in the carbon producing countries Saudi Arabia Canada Iran Russia Mexico in intermediate carbon producing consuming countries China United States UK Brazil Argentina South Africa in carbon consuming countries Germany Japan South Korea Israel India Spain and finally in carbon reduction countries France Denmark Switzerland Part 7 looks at attempts at regional international cooperation Part 8 considers the prospects for the future examining technological breakthroughs This title builds on the theme of unfolding energy transformations driven by but increasingly constrained by climate environmental considerations It is ideal for researchers and students in the areas of environmental politics and policy climate change and energy and climate security as well as for academics and professionals      Losing Paradise Tammo Steenhuis, Gail Holst-Warhaft, 2016-04-22 Taking a uniquely interdisciplinary view of the Eastern Mediterranean region's water problems this book considers some of the technical and regulatory solutions being proposed or implemented to solve the difficulties of diminished or polluted water supplies Stressing the importance of traditional and historical cultural understanding in addressing the water crisis the authors demonstrate that what is required is an integrated legal social and scientific management system appropriate to each country's stage of development and their cultural heritage Using case studies from Lebanon Italy Spain Egypt Greece Jordan and Cyprus the authors focus on the urgency of the present crisis faced by each country and the need for cooperation The suggested solutions also serve as a paradigm for the rest of the world as it faces similar issues of water shortage      Environmental Politics in Egypt Jeannie Sowers, 2013-06-26 Drawing on extensive fieldwork conducted in Egypt from the late 1990s to 2011 this book shows how experts and activists used distinctive approaches to influence state and firm decision making in three important environmental policy domains These include industrial pollution from large scale industry the conservation of threatened habitat and water management of the irrigation system These cases show how environmental networks sought to construct legal discursive and infrastructural forms of authority within the context of a fragmented state apparatus and a highly centralized political regime Managerial networks composed of environmental scientists technocrats and consultants sought to create new legal regimes for environmental protection and to frame environmental concerns so that they would appeal to central decision makers Activist networks in contrast emerged where environmental pollution or exclusion from natural resources threatened local livelihoods and public health These networks publicized their concerns and mobilized broader participation through the creative use of public space media coverage and strategic use of existing state sanctioned organizations With the increased popular mobilization of the 2000s and the mass protests of the 2011 revolution environmental politics has become highly topical Expert and activist networks alike have sought to broaden their appeal and diversify their approaches The result may well be a more contested participatory and dynamic phase in Egyptian environmentalism Upper Egypt Nicholas S. Hopkins, Reem Saad, 2004 Upper Egypt the Sa id is often portrayed as a source of disruption and unpredictability in the broader Egyptian system This book corrects that image by laying out the order in the meaningful life of Upper Egyptians The Future of Postcolonial Studies Chantal Zabus, 2014-11-20 The Future of Postcolonial Studies celebrates the twenty fifth anniversary of the publication of The Empire Writes Back by the now famous troika Bill Ashcroft Gareth Griffiths and Helen Tiffin When The Empire Writes Back first appeared in 1989 it put postcolonial cultures and their post invasion narratives on the map This vibrant collection of fifteen chapters by both established and emerging scholars taps into this early mapping while merging these concerns with present trends which have been grouped as comparing converting greening post queering and utopia The postcolonial is a centrifugal force that continues to energize globalization transnational diaspora area and queer studies Spanning the colonial period from the 1860s to the present The Future of Postcolonial Studies ventures into other postcolonies outside of the Anglophone purview In reassessing the nation state language race religion sexuality the environment and the very idea of the future this volume reasserts the notion that postcolonial is an anticipatory discourse and bears testimony to the driving energy and thus the future of postcolonial studies Cairo Maria Golia, 2004-06-04 Maria Golia focuses on the present moment of Cairo one of the world s most illustrious and irreducible cities The Right to Nature Elia Apostolopoulou, Jose A. Cortes-Vazquez, 2018-12-07 Since the 2008 financial crash the expansion of neoliberalism has had an enormous impact on nature society relations around the world In response various environmental movements have emerged opposing the neoliberal restructuring of environmental policies using arguments that often bridge traditional divisions between the environmental and labour agendas The Right to Nature explores the differing experiences of a number of environmental social movements and struggles from the point of view of both activists and academics This collection attempts to both document the social ecological impacts of neoliberal attempts to exploit non human nature in the post crisis context and to analyse the opposition of emerging environmental movements and their demands for a radically different production of nature based on social needs and environmental justice It also provides a necessary space for the exchange of ideas and experiences between academics and activists and aims to motivate further academic activist collaborations around alternative and counter hegemonic re thinking of environmental politics This book will be of great interest to students scholars and activists interested in environmental policy environmental justice social and environmental movements

Gender, Behavior, and Health Samiha El-Katsha,Susan Watts,2002 An estimated 200 million people in the world suffer from schistosomiasis bilharzia and according to the World Health Organization it ranks second behind malaria in terms of socioeconomic and public health importance in tropical and subtropical areas The disease was present in Egypt in the Old Kingdom c 2600 BCE and in 1998 it was estimated that almost six million Egyptians one fifth of the rural population were infected Thus it remains one of the most serious public health problems in rural Egypt This study is the first to paint a broad picture of schistosomiasis in rural Egypt The authors research in three Nile Delta villages between 1991 and 1997 provides an in depth community level view of patterns of transmission and strategies for control An analysis of recent research and policy presents the national context for the study Schistosomiasis is primarily a behavioral disease associated with human behavior in relation to water especially canals strategies for disease control and treatment need to consider what people do where when and why Gender Behavior and Health stresses an area of particular concern to social scientists gender issues are most fully revealed at the local level where an infection such as schistosomiasis is transmitted diagnosed treated and ultimately it is hoped prevented This book is unique in presenting schistosomiasis primarily from the viewpoint of the social sciences yet fully incorporating material from the biomedical sciences and other relevant disciplines Encyclopedia of Consumption and Waste Carl A. Zimring,William L. Rathje, Consulting Editor,2012-02-27 Archaeologists and anthropologists have long studied artifacts of refuse from the distant past as a portal into ancient civilizations but examining what we throw away today tells a story in real time and becomes an important and useful tool for academic study Trash is studied by behavioral scientists who use data com piled from the exploration of dumpsters to better understand our modern society and culture Why does the average American household send 470 pounds of uneaten food to the garbage can on an annual basis How do different societies around the world cope with their garbage in these troubled environmental times How does our trash give insight into our attitudes about gender class religion and art The Encyclopedia of Consumption and Waste explores the topic across multiple disciplines within the social sciences and ranges further to include business consumerism environmentalism and marketing to comprise an outstanding reference for academic and public libraries Human Adaptive Strategies Daniel Bates,Judith Tucker,Ludomir Lozny,2023-05-31 This book introduces students to cultural anthropology with an emphasis on environmental and evolutionary approaches focusing on how humans adapt to their environment and how the environment shapes culture It shows how cultures evolve within the context of people s strategies for surviving and thriving in their environments This approach is widely used among scholars as a cross disciplinary tool that rewards students with valuable insights into contemporary developments Drawing on anthropological case studies the authors address immediate human concerns such as the costs and consequences of human energy requirements environmental change and degradation population pressure social and economic equity and planned and unplanned change Impacts of increasingly rapid climatic change on equitable access to resources and issues of human rights are discussed throughout Towards the end of the book the student is drawn into a challenging thought experiment addressing the possible impacts of climatic warming on Middle America in the year 2040 All chapters conclude with Summary Key Terms and Suggested Readings This book is an ideal text for students of introductory anthropology and archaeology environmental studies world history and human and cultural ecology courses

CONTEMPORARY RESEARCH IN COMMERCE & MANAGEMENT, VOLUME - 1 Sruthi S, Salauddeen Shaik, Prof. Manisha Chandrakant Pagar, Prof. Prabodhan Patil, Dr. Tanvi Jindal, Dipankar Dutta, Pradeep Kumar, Dr. Archana. M. V, Dr. Rama Krishna Chittajallu, Arab Society Nicholas S. Hopkins, Saad Eddin Ibrahim, 1997 This all new edition of the classic Arab Society Social Science Perspectives containing thirty new articles by leading scholars examines Arab society in the 1990s Articles by scholars from many countries explore such subjects as Arab unity and identity demographic processes the roles of men women and family rural social change political developments and religious change For students scholars and general readers alike Arab Society offers up to date analysis and discussion of the social political and economic transformations that face the region today Cairo Cosmopolitan Diane Singerman, Paul Amar, 2009-08-01 Bringing together a distinguished interdisciplinary group of scholars this volume explores what happens when new forms of privatization meet collectivist pasts public space is sold off to satisfy investor needs and tourist gazes and the state plans for Egypt's future in desert cities while stigmatizing and neglecting Cairo's popular neighborhoods These dynamics produce surprising contradictions and juxtapositions that are coming to define today's Middle East The original publication of this volume launched the Cairo School of Urban Studies committed to fusing political economy and ethnographic methods and sensitive to ambivalence and contingency to reveal the new contours and patterns of modern power emerging in the urban frame Contributors Mona Abaza Nezar AlSayyad Paul Amar Walter Armbrust Vincent Battesti Fanny Colonna Eric Denis Dalila ElKerdany Yasser Elsheshtawy Farha Ghannam Galila El Kadi Anouk de Koning Petra Kuppinger Anna Madoeuf Catherine Miller Nicolas Puig Said Sadek Omnia El Shakry Diane Singerman Elizabeth A Smith Le la Vignal Caroline Williams Researching the contemporary city Peter Kellett, Jaime Hernández García, 2013-11-12 The city is perhaps the most complex of all human constructs In the 21st century when cities are bigger than ever and the majority of the world's population now live in urban areas the need for research into this complexity to address the large scale challenges of urban life has never been greater This collection of research studies from different parts of the world brings together case studies underpinned by theory to contribute to the urgent search to make our cities more just more livable more accessible more participatory and more democratic in short more humane places to live and work These crosscutting themes of social inclusion spatial integration and poverty alleviation are the ever present motifs and motivations throughout this volume The eleven chapters are grouped into four interrelated sections the creation and representation of the urban the production and transformation of the informal the construction and appropriation of public spaces and finally the transformation use and meaning of home Collectively the essays engage with the city at a range of scales but underpinning all of them is a concern for the everyday realities of ordinary people s lives These detailed and finegrain analyses of complex processes are a modest contribution towards the creation of cities which are not simply more economically viable and environmentally sustainable but also embody the ideals of social justice      Papa Sartre Diane Singerman,Paul Amar,2009 After a failed study mission in France Abd al Rahman returns home to Iraq to launch an existentialist movement akin to that of his hero Convinced that it falls upon him to introduce his country s intellectuals to Sartre s thought he feels especially qualified by his physical resemblance to the philosopher except for the crossed eyes and by his marriage to Germaine who he claims is the great man s cousin Meanwhile his wealth and family prestige guarantee him an idle life spent in drinking debauchery and frequenting a well known nightclub But is his suicide an act of philosophical despair or a reaction to his friend s affair with Germaine A biographer chosen by his presumed friends narrates the story of a somewhat bewildered young man who like other members of his generation was searching for a meaning to his life This parody of the abuses and extravagances of pseudo philosophers in the Baghdad of the sixties throws into relief the Iraqi intellectual and cultural life of the time and the reversal of fortune of some of Iraq s wealthy and powerful families Publisher description      The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb,2006-11-09 The last two decades have seen the emergence of a new field of academic study that examines the interaction between religion and ecology Theologians from every religious tradition have confronted world religions past attitudes towards nature and acknowledged their own faiths complicity in the environmental crisis Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition profound criticisms of the past and ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the books essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part one will explore traditional religious concepts of and attitudes towards nature and how these have been changed by the environmental crisis Part II looks at larger conceptual issues that transcend individual traditions Part III will examine religious participation in environmental politics      Fiscal Policy Measures in Egypt: Public Debt and Food Subsidy Jūdah 'Abd al-Khāliq,Karima Korayem,2001 A collection of papers on new dimensions in the study of social history of the Middle East delivered at the Cairo Papers Eighth Annual Symposium by Horst Unbehau Joseph Massad Nelly Hanna Martina Rieker Khaled Fahmy and Peter Gran
