People In The Countryside Studies Of Social Change In Rural Britain:

People In The Countryside A G Champion, Charles Watkins, 1991-04-28 This book outlines the changes occurring in Britain's rural areas and their impact on people's lives. It challenges the image of the rural idyll which many of the nation's city dwellers hold. A key feature of the book is the use of local case study material to illustrate the major themes identified from a broader evaluation of the topics. This approach gives readers a better feel for the nature and implications of social change in the countryside than can be obtained from standard texts on rural geography.

Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B. Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2002 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the bible of British planning. It provides an explanation of the nature of planning, the institutions and organisations involved, the plans and other tools used by planners, planning policies and more.

Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2003-09-02 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the Bible of British planning. In this new edition, detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution, central and local government, the EU and other agencies, the framework of plans and other instruments, development control, land policy and planning, environmental and countryside planning, sustainable development, waste and pollution, heritage and transport planning, urban policies and regeneration. This twelfth edition has been completely revised and expanded to cover the whole of the UK. The new edition explains more fully the planning policies and actions of the European Union and takes into account the implications of local government reorganization, the plan-led system and the growing interest in promoting sustainable development.

Handbook of Rural Studies Paul Cloke, Terry Marsden, Patrick Mooney, 2006-01-26 This is a unique interpretation of rural issues that will become essential reference for students, scholars, politicians, developers and rural activists. Imre Kovach, President European Society for Rural Sociology, Research director, Institute for Political Sciences, Budapest.

Rural Cooperation in Europe Edward Kasabov, 2015-12-29 This collection analyses various European rural locations through a relational lens, attending to key aspects and dimensions of the relational rurals such as cooperation, contestation, solidarity and consensus. By observing rural settings in such terms, contributors are able to rethink European rurality from a distinctly relational perspective.

Philosophy and Geography II Andrew Light, Jonathan M. Smith, 1998 The future of public space is uncertain. Although public spaces have become increasingly shabby and crowded, novel alternatives have appeared in the form of fantastic semi-public pleasure grounds developed by well-heeled crowd-pleasing entrepreneurs and devoted to profit, consumption and self-indulgence. Philosophers and geographers have converged on the topic of public space, fascinated and in many ways alarmed by fundamental changes in the way post-industrial societies produce space for public use and in the way citizens of these same societies perceive and constitute themselves as a public. The contributors to this volume advance this inquiry, making extensive use of political and social theory.

Philosophy and Geography II: The Production of Public Space gives readers an enhanced appreciation of the intimate connections between political principles, social processes and the commonplaces of our everyday environments Rural Change and Planning Gordon Cherry,A.W. Rogers,2003-12-16 This book provides a critical overview of rural change over the eighty years since the outbreak of the Great War making clear the historical origins of present day policy It also provides a structural integration for the many diverse themes which must be interwoven in order to understand current conditions in the countryside Handbook of Gentrification Studies Loretta Lees,Martin Phillips,2018-04-27 It is now over 50 years since the term gentrification was first coined by the British urbanist Ruth Glass in 1964 in which time gentrification studies has become a subject in its own right This Handbook the first ever in gentrification studies is a critical and authoritative assessment of the field Although the Handbook does not seek to rehearse the classic literature on gentrification from the 1970s to the 1990s in detail it is referred to in the new assessments of the field gathered in this volume The original chapters offer an important dialogue between existing theory and new conceptualisations of gentrification for new times and new places in many cases offering novel empirical evidence Rural Tourism and Recreation Lesley Roberts,Derek Hall,2001-01-01 This book reviews the theory and practice of tourism and recreation in rural areas in Europe Including numerous case studies 9 chapters cover the changing nature of recreation and tourism provision in rural areas the emergence of sustainability in the development debate the different levels of policy influencing recreation and tourism development and emphasizing the connectedness between local and global processes the role and influence of the local community in recreation and tourism changing patterns of tourism consumption the changing nature of tourism supply and the processes relating to the convergence of supply and demand Town and Country Planning in the UK Simin Davoudi,David Webb,Geoff Vigar,John Pendlebury,Tim Townshend,Trevor Hart,Vincent Nadin,2014-12-05 Town and country planning has never been more important to the UK nor more prominent in national debate Planning generates great controversy whether it s spending 80m and four years inquiry into Heathrow s Terminal 5 or the 200 proposed wind turbines in the Shetland Isles On a smaller scale telecoms masts take aways house extensions and even fences are often the cause of local conflict Town and Country Planning in the UK has been extensively revised by a new author group This 15th Edition incorporates the major changes to planning introduced by the coalition government elected in 2010 particularly through the National Planning Policy Framework and associated practice guidance and the Localism Act It provides a critical discussion of the systems of planning the procedures for managing development and land use change and the mechanisms for implementing policy and proposals It reviews current policy for sustainable development and the associated economic social and environmental themes relevant to planning in both urban and rural contexts Contemporary arrangements are explained with reference to their historical development the influence of the European Union the roles of central and local government and developing social and economic demands for land use change Detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution the role of the EU central regional and local government mechanisms for developing policy and managing these changes policies for guiding and delivering housing and economic development sustainable development principles for planning including pollution control the importance of design in planning conserving the heritage community engagement in planning The many recent changes to the system are explained in detail the new national planning policy framework the impact of the loss of the regional tier in planning and of the insertion of neighbourhood level planning the transition from development control to development management the continued and growing importance of environmental matters in planning community engagement partnership working changes to planning gain and the introduction of the Community Infrastructure Levy and new initiatives across a number of other themes Notes on further reading are provided and at the end of the book there is an extensive bibliography maintaining its reputation as the bible of British planning Leadership and Local Power in European Rural Development Imre Kovách,2017-05-15 Contemporary processes of economic social political and cultural restructuring are having profound impacts on the form and function of rural areas within the countries of the European Union and beyond Furthermore rural development policies and programmes at EU and national levels have been critical in shaping the responses of different rural areas across Europe to these wider processes of restructuring Contrasting empirical studies of ten European countries this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of the restructuring processes and the various national regional and local rural development programmes Adopting a different national perspective in each chapter it focuses particularly on issues of power and leadership in the evolution and administration of these programmes Five broad issues are examined in each case socio economic changes in rural areas the administrative context in which rural development and political activities take place the sociological context the political control of rural development and the use of different discourses of rurality in shaping the development process Interpreting Rurality Gary Bosworth,Peter Somerville,2013-10-15 The British countryside is a national institution most people aspire to live there many people use it for leisure and recreation and we can all watch rural life played out on our television screen read about it in novels or consume its imagery in art and cinematography The aim of this book is to explore the way that these aspirations and perceptions influence the way that the term rural is interpreted across different academic disciplines Definitions of rural are not exact leaving room for these interpretations to have a significant impact on the meanings conveyed in different areas of research and across different economic social and spatial contexts In this book contributors present research across a range of subjects allowing critical reflections upon their personal and disciplinary interpretations of rural This resulting volume is a collection of diverse chapters that gives an emergent sense of how the notion of rural changes and blurs as the disciplinary lens is adjusted In drawing together these strands it becomes clear that human relations with rural space morph materiality into highly complex representations wherein both disadvantage and social exclusion persist within a rurality that is also commodified consumed and cherished Winning and Losing Doris Schmied,2022-05-05 Instigated by technological and political change Europe s rural areas have undergone profound and all pervasive restructuring processes Although the impact of these processes has often been depicted negatively this is not always the case Bringing together a range of comparative case studies from France Finland Germany Greece Ireland Spain Sweden Portugal the UK and other countries this book provides a comprehensive and balanced picture of rural change over the past five decades It explores which aspects of the European countryside have benefited and which have suffered as a consequence of the often contradictory forces of restructuring The book looks into economic aspects as well as into the social impact of rural change The final part examines regional issues and illustrates how different rural areas have responded to the transformative pressures

A Future for Regional Australia I. W. Gray, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2001-07-31 This book interprets the predicament faced by Australia's regional people from their own perspective and proposes a means by which they can act together to find a secure future under globalisation It argues that neoliberalism in combination with its real world effects in economic policy are driving regional Australia further into social environmental and economic decay The book will be of great interest to all concerned about the future of regional Australia and will make a lively and relevant text for students studying the social sciences in the countryside or in the major cities

Local Responses to Global Integration Charlabos Kasimis, Apostolos G. Papadopoulos, 2018-12-20 First published in 1999 this volume features articles from 19 contributors on local responses to global integration with a focus on rural areas and their adoption of new functions as both producers and consumers It responds to a crisis in the regulatory framework and reconsiders globality revealing new forms of production and consumption developing in diverse ways amongst these global rural communities Authors from Australia Bulgaria Finland Greece Ireland the Netherlands Poland Sweden the United Kingdom and Venezuela are represented
