Peoples Rights:

Documents of the African Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights - Volume 1, 1987-1998 Rachel Murray, Malcolm Evans, 2001-11-06 Fourteen years since its establishment the work of the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights has not received the attention that should have been paid to its important contributions towards the promotion and protection of human rights in Africa The aim of this publication is to provide not only the basic documents but also the less well known material related to the jurisprudence emanating from the consideration of communications This volume therefore includes amongst other material the twelve activity reports adopted by the Commission resolutions and final communiqu s from the sessions This is the first attempt to reproduce comprehensively the many documents of the Commission adopted since its inception in 1987 It will be an essential reference for academics students and practitioners The publication is produced in collaboration with the African Society for International and Comparative Law the Centre for Human Rights at the University of Pretoria and Interights in London

Indigenous Peoples' Rights in Constitutions Assessment Tool Amanda Cats-Baril, 2020-08-09 The Indigenous Peoples Rights in Constitutions Assessment Tool helps users to analyse a constitution from the perspective of indigenous peoples rights Using a series of questions short explanations and example provisions from constitutions around the world the Assessment Tool guides its users through the text of a constitution and allows for systematic analysis of the language and provisions of a constitutional text to assess how robustly indigenous peoples rights are reflected in it A constitution articulates a vision that reflects a state s values and history as well as its aspirational objectives for the future As the supreme law of a state the constitution defines its structure and institutions distributes political power and recognizes and protects fundamental rights critically determining the relationship between citizens and governments Embedding in a constitution recognition of and rights based protections for specific groups such as indigenous peoples can give these groups and their rights enhanced protection This can be furthered by providing for specialized institutions and processes to deepen the realization of those rights in practice

Compliance with International Human Rights Law in Africa Aderomola Adeola, 2022-02-03 This collection of essays in honour of Frans Viljoen shines a light on the increasingly important place of compliance in international law With essays from leading scholars in the field of international human rights law this festschrift provides compelling analysis of the nature of compliance in the African human rights context the challenges that affect its place in these legal systems and the ways in which increased compliance can be achieved The volume is divided into three parts exploring theoretical perspectives thematic perspectives and institutional perspectives Each in turn helps to build a picture of theory and practice charting the historic developments of human rights law with several case studies to illustrate Contributors provide detailed comparison with other national legal systems such as the Inter American IACHR and Court placing these reflections in their global comparative context The work concludes by considering the ways in which challenges can be overcome to achieve increased compliance with international human rights law in Africa Compliance with International Human Rights Law in Africa is not only a work to honour the contributions of Frans Viljoen but is also an invaluable resource for researchers practitioners and policy makers in the field of international human rights law Realizing Human Rights Samantha Power, Graham Allison, 2000-09-30 At the dawn of a new era this book brings together leading activists policy makers and critics to reflect upon fifty years of attempts to improve respect for human rights Authors include President Jimmy Carter who helped inject human rights concerns into US policy Wei Jingsheng who struggled to do so in China Louis Henkin the modern father of international law and Richard Goldstone the former chief prosecutor for the Yugoslav and Rwandan war crimes tribunals A half century since the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights the time is right to assess how policies and actions effect the realization of human rights and to point to new directions and challenges that lie ahead A must have for everyone in the human rights community and the broader foreign policy community as well as the reader who is increasingly aware of the visibility of human rights concerns on the public stage The Chinese Human Rights Reader Stephen C. Angle, Marina Svensson, 2001 Weiyun and Others 1979 Regional Human Rights Systems Christina M. Cerna, 2016-12-05 Over the past sixty years the regional human rights systems have surpassed the UN human rights bodies in affording protection to the victims of human rights violations Most of these systems have courts that are empowered to issue legally binding judgments and reparations for violations of human rights which states have been unwilling to accord the UN system The essays selected for this volume examine the structure and functioning of the principal regional human rights systems in the world today 1 the Inter American Commission and Court of Human Rights 2 the European Court of Human Rights 3 the African Commission and Court of Human and Peoples Rights and 4 the ASEAN Intergovernmental Human Rights Commission These systems guarantee primarily civil and political rights Central to all four systems is the necessity of a democratic form of government to guarantee these rights although not all governments parties to these regional treaties are democracies These articles trace the history of these systems in particular the expansion of their membership to include almost all independent countries in the region and their evolution towards recognition of a right to democracy The Role of National Human Rights Institutions at the International and Regional Levels Rachel Murray, 2007-06-22 National Human Rights Institutions NHRIs defined by the UN as bodies established to promote and protect human rights have increased in number since the General Assembly adopted principles governing their effectiveness in 1993 The UN and others have encouraged states to set up such institutions as an indication of their commitment to human rights and now over 20 such institutions exist in Africa and many more will follow These institutions have taken various forms including ombudsmen commissions or a combination of the two They differ in terms of how they are established some by constitution some by legislation and some by decree These NHRIs have varying functions usually both promotional and protective such as giving advice to government parliament and others making recommendations on compliance with human rights standards awareness raising and analysis of law and policy Despite the considerable variations in the method of their creation powers and composition most of these institutions have chosen or indeed been mandated to become involved in international and regional fora This book examines these institutions in the African region the way in which they use the international and regional fora the effectiveness of their contributions and how they are able to participate

Blackstone's International Human Rights Documents Alison Bisset,2020 This work contains all the relevant regional and international instruments and covers the essential United Nations resolutions and international conventions

HUMAN RIGHTS LAW AND PRACTICE JATINDRA KUMAR DAS, 2016-07-01 The book written with a rich teaching and research experience of the author emphasises the critical evaluation of contemporary human rights law and practice with special reference to India It also evaluates the ongoing discourse on various issues relating to life liberty equality and human dignity and their reflections in international human rights law referring the state practices through constitutional guarantees judicial decisions as well as through enacting appropriate legislations This lucid and comprehensive book is logically organised into nine chapters Beginning with the theoretical foundations of human rights law referring to origin development and theories of human rights at preliminary level the book proceeds to International Bill of Human Rights demonstrating various facets of civil and political rights as well as economic social and cultural rights It further discusses the importance of human rights law in protection against inhuman wrongs and examines a large number of debates concerning human right to development and protection of environment Then it moves on to explore various issues relating to human rights in Indian Constitutional Law The latter part of the book emphasises on the protection of rights of women and children which has been the focal point of all human rights discussions It also deals with the scope and ambit of the rights of indigenous peoples and minorities including their protection At the end the book examines the utility and justifications of human rights law in protecting the rights of people with disabilities divyang Though the book is primarily designed for LLB BA LLB and LLM and courses on human rights it will be equally beneficial for the researchers academicians jurists lawyers judges as well as members of civil society

Islamic Law and International Human Rights Law Anver M. Emon, Mark Ellis, Benjamin Glahn, 2012-10-11 The relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law has been the subject of considerable and heated debate in recent years The usual starting point has been to test one system by the standards of the other asking is Islamic law compatible with international human rights standards or vice versa This approach quickly ends in acrimony and accusations of misunderstanding By overlaying one set of norms on another we overlook the deeply contextual nature of how legal rules operate in a society and meaningful comparison and discussion is impossible In this volume leading experts in Islamic law and international human rights law attempt to deepen the understanding of human rights and Islam paving the way for a more meaningful debate Focusing on central areas of controversy such as freedom of speech and religion gender equality and minority rights the authors examine the contextual nature of how Islamic law and international human rights law are legitimately formed interpreted and applied within a community They examine how these fundamental interests are recognized and protected within the law and what restrictions are placed on the freedoms associated with them By examining how each system recognizes and limits fundamental freedoms this volume clears the ground for exploring the relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law on a sounder footing In doing so it offers a challenging and distinctive contribution to the literature on the subject and will be an invaluable reference for students academics and policy makers engaged in the legal and religious debates surrounding Islam and the West

Human Rights Brian Orend, 2002-05-23 Winner 2002 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award What are human rights What justifies us in believing we have them What are rights holders and duty bearers Who should bear the costs and responsibilities for making human rights real Why have some criticized the human rights perspective And how can those supportive of human rights best respond These and other conceptual issues are discussed in full in the first part of this book The second part offers a detailed account of how the human rights idea came to be such a powerful force in the contemporary world it traces the evolution of human rights from their origins to their present position in our daily lives in political struggles and in both national and international law The SAGE Handbook of Human Rights Anja Mihr, Mark Gibney, 2014-07-21 The SAGE Handbook of Human Rights will comprise a two volume set consisting of more than 50 original chapters that clarify and analyze human rights issues of both contemporary and future importance The Handbook will take an inter disciplinary approach combining work in such traditional fields as law political science and philosophy with such non traditional subjects as climate change demography economics geography urban studies mass communication and business and marketing In addition one of the aspects of mainstreaming is the manner in which human rights has come to play a prominent role in popular culture and there will be a section on human rights in art film music and literature Not only will the Handbook provide a state of the art analysis of the discipline that addresses the history and development of human rights standards and its movements mechanisms and institutions but it will seek to go beyond this and produce a book that will help lead to prospective thinking Human Rights after 75 Years of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights
