Peoples' Spaces and State Spaces Rosemary Galli, 2003

Peoples' Spaces and State Spaces Rosemary

Galli, 2003-01-01 An advisor and consultant in Mozambique rural communities for nine years Rosemary Galli combines her considerable insight into Mozambique with her analysis of social history and government in this fascinating new work Peoples Space and State Spaces deftly traces the origins of four rural communities in Mozambique and discusses how their development was truncated by local labor demands during both colonial and post colonial times These communities attempts to govern their land control their communal life and transform their livelihoods in response to market opportunities are contrasted with the often futile and sometimes tragic actions of the many parties that laid claim to their land Galli s work is a moving blend of social and political history that narrates Mozambique s troubled past and offers strategies for reanimating local life

Women's Lived Landscapes of War and Liberation in Mozambique Jonna Katto, 2019-11-11 This book tells the history of the changing gendered landscapes of northern Mozambique from the perspective of women who fought in the armed struggle for national independence diverting from the often told narrative of women in nationalist wars that emphasizes a linear plot of liberation Taking a novel approach in focusing on the body senses and landscape Jonna Katto through a study of the women ex combatants lived landscapes shows how their life trajectories unfold as nonlinear spatial histories This brings into focus the women s shifting and multilayered negotiations for personal space and belonging This book explores the life memories of the now aging female ex combatants in the province of Niassa in northern Mozambique looking at how the female ex combatants experiences of living in these northern landscapes have shaped their sense of socio spatial belonging and attachment It builds on the premise that individual embodied memory cannot be separated from social memory personal lives are culturally shaped Thus the book does not only tell the history of a small and rather unique group of women but also speaks about wider cultural histories of body landscape relations in northern Mozambique and especially changes in those relations Enriching our understanding of the gendered history of the liberation struggle in Mozambique and informing broader discussions on gender and nationalism this book will be of interest to students and scholars of African history especially the colonial and postcolonial history of Lusophone Africa as well as gender women s history and peace and conflict studies

The Journal of Legal Pluralism and Unofficial Law 61/2010 Gordon R. Woodman, Fauzia Shariff, 2011 This volume examines dynamics of legal pluralism and explores the varied ways in which constellations of legal pluralism play out in social life It aims to bridge the social and theoretical space between small scale case studies and abstract generalisation The introduction provides an overview of developments in the field of legal pluralism and offers an analytical perspective on the dynamics of the maintenance of and change in constellations of legal pluralism Contributions examine situations in which the state is seen as remote from local settings and others in which local populations are actively engaged in widening the scope and validity of state law By focusing on historical developments and the fault lines of rapid political change in both post socialist and post authoritarian states the volume shows that legal legacies of the past continue to have an impact Authors look at the social significance of the various and sometimes competing types of law which religious and secular transnational actors introduce into local settings Working the System in Sub-Saharan Africa Corrado Tornimbeni, 2014-07-08 What is the extent to which democracy good governance liberal citizenship and development are negotiated and shaped in sub Saharan African countries in the context of the globalised world Is this a characteristic of the current historical era alone Do global ideas about politics and development in sub Saharan Africa take on new meanings in light of local circumstances and visions The works presented in this volume offer context based analyses that contribute to showing how local practices of citizenship democracy and development in sub Saharan Africa have been working the system of global ideas on good governance policies and development and how this system also builds on the way in which historically local narratives are presented to actors in the international context Democracy and good governance are considered the universally shared paradigms shaping policy prescriptions and development practices in the context of the current globalised world Space for negotiating these recipes at the local level is considered to be particularly narrow especially in sub Saharan Africa but it is also believed that international paradigms are reshaped into peculiar forms when implemented under local circumstances From the early 1990s onwards these processes have drawn the attention of academics as well as the wider public but rarely is their historical dimension taken into account the Africa world nexus in politics and development is not a characteristic of the current global world alone as is too often assumed Adding an historical perspective to the analysis of the multilevel interconnections between local power relations the politics of colonial and independent rule and the global discourses of democracy citizenship and development will contribute to a sound theoretical stance in addressing what is considered the main feature of current times globalisation and its flows That is what this volume tries to accomplish It does so by developing three themes in particular the trajectory of the colonial and independent nation state and its impact on the local and national politics of citizenship identity and development the way global ideas on development are converted into practice or how they are interpreted and negotiated at local level and issues of belonging and identity in relation to concepts and practices of political control Case studies will include Portuguese colonialism Mozambique Tanzania Zimbabwe Senegal Casamance and Uganda African Citizenship Aspirations Catarina Antunes Gomes, Cesaltina Abreu, 2018-12-07 This collective work aims to critically reflect upon contemporary citizenship aspirations and practices in sub Saharan Africa Focusing on different realities such as Angola Mozambique and the Great Lakes region it tries to unveil multiple historical commonalities especially those arising from shared experiences of postcolonial violence and vulnerability Thus albeit the social realities under scrutiny cannot stand for the complexity of the Continent the studies here gathered enlighten similar processes that can be identified in many other African contexts That is certainly the case of the proliferation of religious manifestations and democratic demands that are currently being articulated in different countries such as Burundi Central African Republic Ethiopia Sudan

Uganda and Nigeria One such commonality can be referred to as a quest for being Indeed this quest for being has always underpinned African discourses and practices either in postcolonial approaches either in intellectual traditions either in popular productions These multiple practices reveal how in certain circumstances identity as a product of historical wills of knowledge power and truth can be questioned as a site of possession and entrapment How is one to be beyond colonial possession Or beyond postcolonial authoritarian rule Or beyond eurocentrism African quests for being have always been quests for freedom And they impose a debate on regimes of citizenship Active citizenship is not merely a by product of formal political systems it is one that challenges them from the outside while actualizing the lessons of historical liberation struggles As times goes by the right to be still stands The chapters of this book were originally published as a special issue in Citizenship Studies New Geographies of Global Policy-Making Carolina Milhorange, 2018-09-17 International institutions and agencies from the Global North are no longer the sole initiators of development norms and best practices The proliferation of exports and imports of social economic and policy management models have called for a rethinking of South South relations To date most studies have focused on the drivers and strategies of international initiatives made by emerging powers none have analysed the impact of these initiatives on the receiving country's institutions and on the structures of international organisations In this book Carolina Milhorange examines the content process and consequences of the internationalisation of Brazil's rural public policy instruments Brazil earned wide international recognition in the early 2000s for its agricultural modernisation and social policies its increasing influence illustrated the specific political interests of coalitions that are embedded in domestic and international struggles Drawing on extensive field research including more than 280 interviews conducted in Brazil Mozambique South Africa Malawi France and Italy Milhorange analyses the effects of the internationalisation of Brazilian policy solutions on national and local political systems in recipient countries highlighting specifically the case of Mozambique Relying on a new theoretical approach to International Relations one based on public policy analysis and international political sociology she moves beyond a debate about conventional notions of international power New Geographies of Global Policy Making will be of interest to scholars and researchers of international relations public policy analysis political sociology comparative politics and Latin American studies The Winds of History Andreas Zeman, 2023-10-24 Based on extensive archival research in six countries and intensive fieldwork the book analyzes the history of the village of Nkhlongue on the eastern Mozambican shores of Lake Malawi from the time of its formation in the 19th century to the present day The study uses Nkhlongue as a microhistorical lens to examine such diverse topics as the slave trade the spread of Islam colonization subsistence production counter insurgency decolonization civil war ecotourism and matriliney Thereby the book attempts to reflect as much as possible on the generalizability and global comparability of local findings by framing analyses in historiographical discussions that aim to go beyond the regional or national level Although the chapters of the book deal with very different topics they are united by a common interest in the social history of rural Africa in the longue dur e Contrary to persistent clich s of rural inertia in Africa the book as a whole underscores the profound changeability of social conditions and relations in Nkholongue over the years and highlights how people s room for maneuver kept changing as a result of the Winds of History the frequent and often violent ruptures brought to the village from outside

Soldiers at Peace J. Schafer,2007-07-23 This is the first scholarly study of soldiers and guerrillas demobilized after the civil war in Mozambique 1979 1992 The book examines former soldiers from both sides return to civilian life and how their identity as veterans plays out in the political sphere

Hostile Business and the Sovereign State Michael J. Strauss,2018-12-14 This book describes and assesses an emerging threat to states territorial control and sovereignty the hostile control of companies that carry out privatized aspects of sovereign authority The threat arises from the massive worldwide shift of state activities to the private sector since the late 1970s in conjunction with two other modern trends the globalization of business and the liberalization of international capital flows The work introduces three new concepts firstly the rise of companies that handle privatized activities and the associated advent of post government companies that make such activities their core business Control of them may reside with individual investors other companies or investment funds or it may reside with other states through state owned enterprises or sovereign wealth funds Secondly imperfect privatizations when a state privatizes an activity to another state s public sector The book identifies cases where this is happening It also elaborates on how ownership and influence of companies that perform privatized functions may not be transparent and can pass to inherently hostile actors including criminal or terrorist organizations Thirdly belligerent companies whose conduct is hostile to those of states where they are active The book concludes by assessing the adequacy of existing legal and regulatory regimes and how relevant norms may evolve

Religion and the State Scott A. Merriman,2009-07-14 This timely and authoritative resource combines both topical and country by country coverage to help readers understand the coexistence of church and state in nations around the world today At a time when faith based groups have become more politically active in the United States and with religious conflicts at the epicenter of many of the world s most dangerous hotspots Religion and the State An International Analysis of Roles and Relationships could not be more welcomed or timely Country by country faith by faith it unravels the historic underpinnings and long range effects of the relationship between religious principles and the operations of government in its many guises worldwide The work combines topical essays on significant developments in the confluence of religion and law throughout the world with short descriptions of each countries current treatment of religion Readers can investigate specific nations compare situations across nations and explore key issues in the pervasive often controversial relationship between religion and government

Journal of Peacebuilding & Development ,2002 Journal of Borderlands Studies ,2010 Annali della Fondazione Giangiacomo Feltrinelli (2002). State, power, and new political actors in postcolonial Africa. Ediz. inglese e francese Alessandro Triulzi,Maria Cristina Ercolessi,2004 The Portuguese Revolution Ronald H. Chilcote,2012-08-31

Building on decades of research leading scholar Ronald H Chilcote provides a definitive analysis of the 1974 1975 Portuguese revolution which captured global attention and continues to resonate today His study revisits a key historical moment to explain the revolution and its aftermath through periods of authoritarianism and resistance as well as representative and popular democracy Exploring the intertwined themes of class state and hegemony Chilcote builds a powerful framework for understanding the Portuguese case as well as contemporary political economy worldwide Tropical Nature Guillaume Blanc, Mathieu Guérin, Grégory Quenet, 2025-03-01 Across Africa and South East Asia the impulse to protect nature often dovetails with the domination of local people From mass displacement to severe restrictions on land use and daily acts of violence conservation work risks reproducing Eurocentric modes of colonialism and worsening the effects of the climate crisis In this insightful and wide ranging study of the colonial history of conservation Tropical Nature seeks to provide a much needed history of the Global South from its own perspective Comparing case studies ranging from Ali Bongo's Gabon to the postcolonial African itinerary of the agronomist Arthur Bunting this volume advances a small scale global history that deciphers the relations binding human societies to the non human world Reconhecimento Pelo Estado Das Autoridades Locais E Da Participação Pública Lars Buur, Terezinha da Silva, Helene Maria Kyed, 2007 Development Success W. McCourt, 2007-06-14 This book draws on case studies of social economic and political governance policies from Latin America Africa and Asia to examine the circumstances in which governments and societies produce policies that overcome initial opposition to meet their aims African Geopolitics, 2004 The Imperative of Good Local Governance Joakim Öjendal, Anki Dellnäs, 2013 This is a true state of the art volume in the fields of local governance decentralization and local democracy It summarizes many of the insights emerging from original research of the past decade It is also a future looking volume with explicit policy relevance paving the way for innovative thinking and acting on the next phase of development in the field In a unique way this book brings together authoritative contributions from authors who to a large extent have been defining the field for the last decade or more It looks at how good governance is created from top down and bottom up perspectives illustrated through a wide variety of case studies The case studies were selected for their relevance to the theoretical perspectives offered as well as for their paradigmatic power in the current global evolution of decentralized policies and politics The volume concludes that overall local development and local politics will not go away it has a huge potential but also that the field is full of unfulfilled promises some of which could be remedied through the perspectives revealed in this volume
