Poor Mens Guardians A Record Of The Struggles For A Democratic Newspaper Press 1763 1973:

Visions of the Press in Britain, 1850-1950 Mark Hampton, 2004 Hampton surveys a diversity of sources to demonstrate that British theories of the press were intimately tied to definitions of the public and the emergence of mass democracy in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Read All About It! Kevin Williams, 2009-09-16 This Text book traces the evolution of the newspaper documenting its changing form style and content as well as identifying the different roles ascribed to it by audiences government and other social institutions Starting with the early 17th century when the first prototype newspapers emerged through Dr Johnson the growth of the radical press in the early 19th century the Lord Northcliffe revolution in the early 20th century the newspapers wars of the 1930s and the rise of the tabloid in the 1970s right up to Rupert Murdoch and the online revolution the book explores the impact of the newspapers on our lives and its role in British society Using lively and entertaining examples Kevin Williams illustrates the changing form of the newspaper in its social political economic and cultural context As well as telling the story of the newspaper he explores key topics in detail making this an ideal text for students of journalism and the British newspaper Issues include newspapers and social change the changing face of regional newspapers the impact of new technology development of reporting techniques forms of press regulation Narrating Media History Michael Bailey, 2012-11-12 Based on the work of media historian James Curran Narrating Media History explores British media history as a series of competing narratives This unique and timely collection brings together leading international media history scholars not only to identify and contrast the various interrelationships between media histories but also to encourage dialogue between different historical political and theoretical perspectives including liberalism feminism populism nationalism libertarianism radicalism and technological determinism Essays by distinguished academics cover television radio newspaper press and advertising among others and illustrate the particularities affinities strengths and weaknesses within media history Each section includes a brief introduction by the editor with discussion topics and suggestions for further reading making this an invaluable guide for students of media history The Dawn of the Cheap Press in Victorian Britain Martin Hewitt, 2013-12-05 The Dawn of the Cheap Press provides the first detailed study of the mid Victorian campaign for the repeal of the taxes on knowledge for over a hundred years Using the recently discovered papers of the Association for the Promotion of the Repeal of the Taxes on Knowledge and taking advantage of new forms of research made possible by the digitisation of nineteenth century newspapers it assesses the impact of the removal of the last surviving legal disabilities on the newspaper industry the nature of journalism and the cultures and practices of newspaper reading The book demonstrates that the campaign against the taxes on knowledge retained broad popular appeal and played an important role in the politics of mid Victorian budgets It not only makes a seminal contribution to the history of the nineteenth century press and print culture but also illuminates the culture and politics of mid Victorian Britain offers an important re reading of the history of extra parliamentary pressure group politics and provides new insights into the origins of Gladstonian Liberalism Lancastrians Paul Salveson, 2023 In the early morning the mill girls clumping down the cobbled street all in clogs making a curiously formidable sound like an army hurrying into battle I suppose this is the typical sound of Lancashire George Orwell The Road to Wigan Pier This popular history explores the cultural heritage and identity of Lancashire stretching from the Mersey to the Lake District Paul Salveson charts the county's transformation from a largely agricultural region noted for its religious learning into the Industrial Revolution's powerhouse as an emerging self-confident bourgeoisie drove economic growth This capital boom came with a cultural blossoming creating today's Lancashire Industrialists strongly committed to the arts endowed galleries and museums producing a diverse world of science technology music and literature Lancashire developed a distinct business culture but this was also the birthplace of the world co-operative movement and the heart of democracy campaigns including Chartism and women's suffrage Lancashire has generally welcomed incomers who have long helped to inform its distinctive identity fourteenth century Flemish weavers nineteenth century Irish immigrants and Jewish refugees and more recently New Lancastrians from Asia Africa and Eastern Europe This long overdue book explores contemporary Lancastrian culture following modern upheavals and Lancashire's fragmentation compared with its old rival Yorkshire What future awaits the 6 million people of this rich historic region

Self-Help and Civic Culture Anne B. Rodrick, 2019-06-04 First published in 2004 The nineteenth century witnessed a flowering of the culture of self-improvement that was reflected in a plethora of institutes societies and journals that sprang up across Britain with the goal of spreading knowledge and learning to a wide spectrum of society The prophets of self-improvement believed that not only was self-improvement a laudable goal in its own right but more importantly it would contribute towards a general improvement in society In an age in which direct participation in the political processes was restricted to a minority education and self-improvement could act as an alternative force by creating a sophisticated and knowledgeable population In other words self-improvement was also seen as a way of creating active and responsible citizens Focusing on the city of Birmingham and drawing on both local and national sources Self Help and Civic Culture explores the changing nature of self-improvement and citizenship in Victorian Britain By approaching the concept of citizenship from a new perspective provincial identity and its relationship to wider ideas of Englishness and Britishness a distinct ideal of citizenship is elucidated that adds further nuance to current scholarship By drawing together various issues of citizenship self-improvement class and political power this work brings a new perspective to the on-going attempts to determine who could claim the full rights duties privileges and responsibilities of the larger social body thus illuminating the relationship between culture and power in nineteenth century England

The Politics of Pictures John Hartley, 2017-09-25 The Politics of Pictures is a history of looking from Aristotle to TV audiences from the invention of photography to the meaning of picnics from Leviathan to synchronised swimming Dr Johnson to the sexualization of war John Hartley's wide-ranging and sometimes bizarre journey of discovery looks for the public in the realm of media where citizens are now literally represented on screen and page The book investigates popular media reality by showing how pictures and texts are powerful political forces in their own right using a variety of primary texts to explore the way publics have been created and exploring the political uses of media audiences The unconventional approach is designed to show how popular reality looks to itself and how its peculiar forms and connections actually challenge some venerable political and philosophical truths Dictionary of Nineteenth-century Journalism in Great Britain and Ireland Laurel

Brake, Marysa Demoor, 2009 A large scale reference work covering the journalism industry in 19th Century Britain The Handbook of Journalism Studies Karin Wahl-Jorgensen, Thomas Hanitzsch, 2019-06-20 This second edition of The Handbook of Journalism Studies explores the current state of research in journalism studies and sets an agenda for future development of the field in an international context The volume is structured around theoretical and empirical approaches to journalism research and covers scholarship on news production news content journalism and society journalism and culture and journalism studies in a global context As journalism studies has become richer and more diverse as a field of study the second edition reflects both the growing diversity of the field and the ways in which journalism itself has undergone rapid change in recent years Emphasizing comparative and global perspectives this new edition explores Key elements thinkers and texts Historical context Current state of the field Methodological issues Merits and advantages of the approach area of study Limitations and critical issues of the approach area of study Directions for future research Offering broad international coverage from world leading contributors this volume is a comprehensive resource for theory and scholarship in journalism studies As such it is a must have resource for scholars and graduate students working in journalism media studies and communication around the globe War Torn Guy Hodgson, 2015
