Popular Collecting And The Everyday Self The Reinvention Of Museums:

Popular Collecting and the Everyday Self Paul Martin, 1999 This work is an attempt to explore both the increase in and the breadth of popular collecting in Britain It does this by examining the contexts of social change over the past 20 years This change it is argued has led to a culture of social and material insecurity in which collecting is used for the creating and defence of identity The social theory of Guy Debord is employed as an underlying philosophy in which contemporary popular collecting is interpreted as an expression of a moral value system in a society driven by market forces The social world and values of collectors are explored through their clubs These it is asserted comprise an alternative society one in which a legitimization of the collector's activities and preferences can be made and in which they develop a complementary reality

Museums and the Future of Collecting Simon J. Knell, 2017-03-02 Collecting is a key function of museums Its apparent simplicity belies a complexity of questions and issues which make all collecting imprecise and unrepresentative This book exposes the many meanings of collections the different perspectives taken by different cultures and the institutional response to the collecting problem One major concern is omission whether this be determined by politics professional ethics the law or social agenda How did curators collect during the war in Croatia What were the problems of trying to collect the old South Africa when the new one was born Can museums collect from groups which seem to deviate from society's norms How has the function of museums affected the practices of international trade Can museums collect successfully if collecting agenda are being set externally Museums and the Future of Collecting encourages museums to move away from the collecting of isolated tokens to move beyond the collecting policy and to understand more clearly the intellectual function of what they do Here examples are given from Australia Sweden Canada Spain Britain and Croatia which provide this intellectual understanding and many practical tools for evaluating a future collecting strategy New Museum Theory and Practice

Janet Marstine, 2008-04-15 New Museum Theory and Practice is an original collection of essays with a unique focus the contested politics and ideologies of museum exhibition Contains 12 original essays that contribute to the field while creating a collective whole for course use Discusses theory through vivid examples and historical overviews Offers guidance on how to put theory into practice Covers a range of museums around the world from art to history anthropology to music as well as historic houses cultural centres virtual sites and commercial displays that use the conventions of the museum Authors come from the UK Canada the US and Australia and from a variety of fields that inform cultural studies A Companion to

Museum Studies Sharon Macdonald, 2011-08-24 A Companion to Museum Studies captures the multidisciplinary approach to the study of the development roles and significance of museums in contemporary society Collects first rate original essays by leading figures from a range of disciplines and theoretical stances including anthropology art history history literature sociology cultural studies and museum studies Examines the complexity of the museum from cultural political curatorial historical and representational perspectives Covers traditional subjects such as space display buildings objects and collecting and more contemporary challenges such as visiting commerce community and experimental exhibition forms The Politics of Museums Clive Gray, 2015-09-15 This is the first book to examine how and why museums are political institutions By concentrating on the ways in which power ideology and legitimacy work at the international national and local levels of the museum experience Clive Gray provides an original analysis of who exercises power and how power is used in museums

The Routledge Research Companion to Heritage and Identity Peter Howard, 2016-03-16 Heritage represents the meanings and representations conveyed in the present day upon artifacts landscapes mythologies memories and traditions from the past It is a key element in the shaping of identities particularly in the context of increasingly multicultural societies This Research Companion brings together an international team of authors to discuss the concepts ideas and practices that inform the entwining of heritage and identity They have assembled a wide geographical range of examples and interpret them through a number of disciplinary lenses that include geography history museum and heritage studies archaeology art history history anthropology and media studies This outstanding companion offers scholars and graduate students a thoroughly up to date guide to current thinking and a comprehensive reference to this growing field Women and museums 1850-1914 Kate Hill, 2016-07-01 This book recovers the significant contribution made by women to museums not just in obvious roles such as workers but also as donors visitors volunteers and patrons It suggests that women persistently acted to domesticate the museum by importing domestic objects and domestic regimes of value as well as by making museums more welcoming to children and even by stressing the importance of housekeeping at the museum At the same time women sought masculine careers in science and curatorship but found such aspirations hard to achieve their contribution tended to be kept within clear feminised areas The book will be of interest to those working on gender culture or museums in the period It sheds new light on women s material culture and material strategies education and professional careers and leisure practices It will form an important historical context for those working in contemporary museum studies

The Routledge Companion to Media Fandom Melissa A. Click, Suzanne Scott, 2017-11-03 The field of fan studies has seen exponential growth in recent years and this companion brings together an internationally and interdisciplinarily diverse group of established scholars to reflect on the state of the field and to point to new research directions Engaging an impressive array of media texts and formats and incorporating a variety of methodologies this collection is organized into six main sections methods and ethics technologies and practices identities race and transcultural fandom industry and futures Each section concludes with a conversation among some of the field s leading scholars and industry insiders to address a wealth of questions relevant to each section topic Preserving Popular Music Heritage Sarah Baker, 2015-05-01 There is a growing awareness around the world of the pressing need to archive the material remnants of popular music so as to safeguard the national and local histories of this cultural form Current research suggests that in the past 20 or so years there has been an expansion of DIY heritage practice with the founding of numerous DIY popular music institutions archives and museums around the world This edited collection seeks to explore the role of DIY or Pro Am Professional Amateur practitioners of popular music archiving and preservation It looks critically at ideas around DIY preservationism self authorised and unauthorised heritage practice and the DIY institution while also unpacking the potentialities of bottom up community based interventions into the archiving and preservation of popular music s material history With an international scope and an interdisciplinary approach this is an important reference for scholars of popular music heritage studies and cultural studies

Wax Trash and Vinyl Treasures: Record Collecting as a Social Practice Roy Shuker, 2017-07-05

The term record collecting is shorthand for a variety of related practices Foremost is the collection of sound recordings in various formats although often with a marked preference for vinyl by individuals and it is this dimension of record collecting that is the focus of this book Record collecting and the public stereotypes associated with it is frequently linked primarily with rock and pop music Roy Shuker focuses on these broad styles but also includes other genres and their collectors notably jazz blues exotica and ethnic music Accordingly the study examines the history of record collecting profiles collectors and the collecting process considers categories especially music genres and types of record collecting and outlines and discusses the infrastructure within which collecting operates Shuker situates this discussion within the broader literature on collecting along with issues of cultural consumption social identity and the construction of self in contemporary society Record collecting is both fascinating in its own right and provides insights into broader issues of nostalgia consumption and material culture
