Population Environment And Development The Concise Report:

Population, Environment and Development UN. Population Division, Nazioni Unite. Department of economic and social affairs. Population division, 2001 The general trends of rapid population growth sustained but uneven economic improvement and environmental degradation are well known Population and development policies are vital components of action needed to ensure sustainable development and to safeguard the environment The topics investigated in this report include the evolution of population and the environment at major UN conferences trends in population environment and development government views health mortality fertility and the environment urbanization The Demographic

Transition and Development in Africa Charles Teller, Assefa Hailemariam, 2011-03-04 The heated Malthusian Bosrupian debates still rage over consequences of high population growth rapid urbanization dense rural populations and young age structures in the face of drought poverty food insecurity environmental degradation climate change instability and the global economic crisis However while facile generalizations about the lack of demographic change and lack of progress in meeting the MDGs in sub Saharan Africa are commonplace they are often misleading and belie the socio cultural change that is occurring among a vanguard of more educated youth Even within Ethiopia the second largest country at the Crossroads of Africa and the Middle East different narratives emerge from analysis of longitudinal micro level analysis as to how demographic change and responses are occurring some more rapidly than others The book compares Ethiopia with other Africa countries and demonstrates the uniqueness of an African type demographic transition a combination of poverty related negative factors unemployment disease food insecurity along with positive education health and higher age of marriage trends that are pushing this ruggedly rural and land locked population to accelerate the demographic transition and stay on track to meet most of the MDGs This book takes great care with the challenges of inadequate data and weak analytical capacity to research this incipient transition trying to unravel some of the complexities in this vulnerable Horn of Africa country A slowly declining population growth rates with rapidly declining child mortality very high chronic under nutrition already low urban fertility but still very high rural fertility and high population resource pressure along with rapidly growing small urban places Environmental Issues Surrounding Human Overpopulation Singh, Rajeev Pratap, Singh, Anita, Srivastava, Vaibhav, 2016-12-12 There are many factors to be considered when examining the current state of environmental problems in the modern world By addressing these causes the preservation of ecosystems and environmental resources can be maintained Environmental Issues Surrounding Human Overpopulation is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly research on the depletion of natural resources due to overpopulation and presents insights on how these environmental threats can be addressed Highlighting technological economic and social perspectives this book is ideally designed for policymakers researchers academics students and practitioners interested in better understanding the current state of the global environment States, Scarcity, and Civil Strife in the Developing World Colin H.

Kahl,2018-06-05 Over the past several decades civil and ethnic wars have undermined prospects for economic and political development destabilized entire regions of the globe and left millions dead States Scarcity and Civil Strife in the Developing World argues that demographic and environmental stress the interactions among rapid population growth environmental degradation inequality and emerging scarcities of vital natural resources represents one important source of turmoil in today's world Kahl contends that this type of stress places enormous strains on both societies and governments in poor countries increasing their vulnerability to armed conflict He identifies two pathways whereby this process unfolds state failure and state exploitation State failure conflicts occur when population growth environmental degradation and resource inequality weaken the capacity legitimacy and cohesion of governments thereby expanding the opportunities and incentives for rebellion and intergroup violence State exploitation conflicts in contrast occur when political leaders themselves capitalize on the opportunities arising from population pressures natural resource scarcities and related social grievances to instigate violence that serves their parochial interests Drawing on a wide array of social science theory this book argues that demographically and environmentally induced conflicts are most likely to occur in countries that are deeply split along ethnic religious regional or class lines and which have highly exclusive and discriminatory political systems The empirical portion of the book evaluates the theoretical argument through in depth case studies of civil strife in the Philippines Kenya and numerous other countries The book concludes with an analysis of the challenges demographic and environmental change will pose to international security in the decades ahead Demographic Issues in Nigeria: Insights and Implications ,2015-05-15

The book deals with a broad range of contemporary and recurring empirical and practical issues encapsulated within the context of demographic inquiry and analysis The papers included here reflect strands of thoughts and research that find expression in interdisciplinary outlook focussing on sexuality fertility gender morbidity and mortality migration maternal and child health and the elderly Ecological Meltdown Asheem Srivastav,Suvira Srivastav,2015-05-07 In the second edition of Ecological Meltdown impact of unchecked human growth on the earth's natural systems the authors discuss the destruction of biodiversity and ecosystems due to human actions Apart from warning about the impending ecological meltdown and analysing the causes behind it the book deals with the solutions that need to be urgently adopted by the global civil society and national governments The book is an invaluable resource for policymakers and institutions in the forestry wildlife energy rural development and environment sectors It will also prove beneficial for conservationists scientists researchers and students of environmental science A new chapter on Time for energy transition has been added in this edition Human Geoscience Yukio Himiyama,Kenji Satake,Taikan Oki,2019-09-21 This book is a product of the joint efforts of interdisciplinary academic fields under the integrative framework of human geoscience Human geoscience is a new genre of geoscience concerned with the natural phenomena that occur on the surface of the Earth and their relations with human activities It therefore has connections with many fields of geoscience namely physical geography geomorphology geology soil science sedimentology seismology volcanology meteorology climatology oceanography and hydrology It also has strong links to the humanities social sciences agricultural sciences and engineering related to disaster prevention or mitigation All these disciplines are important fields for understanding disasters and global environmental problems and for evaluating the associated risks comprehensively then proposing mitigation strategies The volume is designed for those who may not necessarily have a geoscience background but have broad scientific interest in understanding the causes mechanisms and consequences of geo disasters and global environmental problems and wish to make the world more sustainable on that basis The book consists of six parts I Introduction II Earth Surface Realms III Natural Resources and Society IV Natural Hazards and Society V Global Environmental Problems and VI Global Sustainability Programmes and Human Geoscience which discusses the contribution of this field of science to a new comprehensive framework for global sustainability

Issues and Challenges of Development Bikram Keshari Pattanaik, 2025-04-24 This book presents a balanced and accessible introduction to the core issues and challenges of development It covers the key aspects of development in contemporary times its relationship with agriculture industrialization and services sustainable and inclusive development issues of marginalization and women s empowerment This volume focuses on the uniquely multi dimensional challenges faced by developing countries which extend to the fields of economics sociology administration politics and environment The sectoral issues in development which comprise agriculture industries and services sectors are useful subjects for enhancing economic growth and development of the nation states Replete with case studies of different countries juxtaposed with the Indian scenario this book caters to student needs across various disciplines It will be useful to undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and teachers of development studies economics sociology political science and public administration It will be equally useful for administration officials of the central and state governments policymakers non governmental organization NGO staff and corporate sector functionaries dealing with corporate social responsibilities

Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000-2050 Antonio Marquina Barrio, 2004-02-29 This book addresses six key factors that will affect environmental policies in the Mediterranean region during the next fifty years population growth climate change soil erosion and desertification water scarcity food production and urbanization and pollution The authors assess these as potential sources of violent conflict The interdisciplinary approach makes this a relevant and useful reference for a broad range of professionals specialists and researchers Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000-2050 Antonio Marquina, 2012-12-06 This book collects most of the contributions prepared for the NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW on Environmental Challenges in the Mediterranean 2000 2050 The ARW took place in Madrid from 2 to 5 of October 2002 Scholars and researchers from North and South of the Mediterranean and other countries from NATO gathered in Madrid for discussing several important factors that could affect Mediterranean security in the next 50 years In this regard the first chapter presents the different debates regarding environmental security that took place in the last decade This chapter is an introductory chapter and takes into account the possible audience in the Southern Mediterranean and the wishes of some contributors. For this reason the chapter deals in extenso with the question of human security and the different approaches. The ARW dealt with issues that may affect the supply of fundamental goods for human living. To this end the complex question of climate change, its impact in the Mediterranean, the predicted increase in temperatures and predictions about rainfall are analysed. As part of this approach a chapter about solar variability and climate change is also added.
