Hoyt, 1992 When the North Korean People's Army swept across the 38th parallel they cut through South Korean and U S forces like a hot knife through butter until they reached the port city of Pusan There U S forces dug in for a courageous last stand against the enemy and triumphed in the face of overwhelming odds Photographs The 5th Rct in Korea Albert J. Mcadoo, 2012-08-18 The 5th RCT in Korea The Pusan Perimeter Battles 1950 documents the combat operations of the US Army's 5th Infantry Regimental Combat Team from its deployment to the frontlines of the Korean War's Pusan Perimeter Campaign The 5th RCT reached Korea at the close of July 1950 just as UN forces were prepared to make their last ditch stand against the Communist invasion of South around the port of Pusan The 5th was immediately engaged in defensive operations near Masan engaging in the battle for Fox Hill through the first week of August Thereafter the RCT participated in the ill fated Task Force Kean counteroffensive culminating in the disastrous action at Bloody Gulch in which the RCT's trains and attached artillery were overrun The 5th RCT was subsequently reorganized and with new leadership conducted a successful defense of positions on Sobuk San Mountain the Battle Mountain from which they repelled the last efforts of the North Koreans to overwhelm the southern portion of the UN Perimeter This work is based on the regimental war diary of the 5th RCT long thought lost by official historians and contributions by veterans of the actions of this period The actions of the 5th RCT demonstrate the successful though difficult and at times bloody transition of a peacetime military unit into one hardened for combat The Secret Sentry Matthew M. Airpower
Col. James T. Stewart,2018-02-27 Without question the decisive force in the Korean War was airpower Through its unrelenting efforts in those dark days of the summer of 1950 U S and other U N ground forces were able to retain a foothold on the peninsula During the three years of fighting that followed defeat or victory often depended upon the successful accomplishment by the United States Far East Air Forces of the tasks laid upon them As yet completely unresolved are the roles land and sea forces must play and their relationship to airpower in the full exploitation of its destructive potential but an understanding of those factors is vital to a proper assessment of the role of air forces in the Korean War Korea was a limited war in every sense of the word There were economic restraints against the expenditures of precious resources which might weaken the U S worldwide stand against Communist aggression There were political restraints against the use of certain weapons and forces Fighting was limited to the confines of North Korea which precluded attacks upon the sources of enemy war making materials Within North Korea itself there were psychological restraints imposed upon the weapons used moral restraints prohibited attacks for several years against lucrative target systems In analyzing any aspect of Korea it is important to remember that airpower was never charged with winning the war nor were the ground forces after truce talks began This book is not intended as a comprehensive analysis of each facet of the air war Neither is it an inclusive chronology of events Its purpose certainly is not to question U S policy or to detract from the stature of any service which fought so valiantly in Korea Rather it examines certain individual facets of the air war to further a better understanding of airpower It constitutes professional reading for military people and interesting reading for the layman Col James T Stewart
