It is certainly a text that you will return to over and over again, as you do with a beloved cookbook. From the Foreword by Tomie dePaola: Over eighty-five percent of the reading and writing we do as adults is nonfiction, yet most of the reading and writing in K-3 classrooms is fiction or personal narrative. In Is That a Fact? Teaching Nonfiction Writing K-3, Tony Stead shows you how to open the door to the rich world of nonfiction writing that goes beyond what I did: narratives and animal reports. And he convincingly demonstrates the importance of introducing nonfiction writing in the primary grades. instructing persuading retelling and exploring relationships with others You will learn how to introduce each purpose using a variety of forms including letters reports poetry captions directions and interviews Part One provides a complete overview of teaching nonfiction writing in the primary grades and includes practical ways for organizing nonfiction resources within the classroom how to assist children in collecting information for research ideas for helping children keep their sense of voice when writing nonfiction a chapter on spelling with examples of how to guide students at each stage of spelling development strategies for assessment and evaluation that guide teaching and learning engagements Part Two provides five different explorations that were implemented in actual K 3 classrooms Each focuses on a specific purpose for writing nonfiction and features examples of whole class small group and independent instructional engagements a comprehensive assessment rubric that will help teachers tailor instruction to the needs of all learners an extensive resource section that includes lists of books in the exploration grouped by readability levels answers to the most commonly asked questions about teaching nonfiction writing The appendixes include a self assessment questionnaire reproducible pages for exploring specific writing forms and letters to parents Children need to be introduced to the different purposes of nonfiction writing They need to know how to plan compose revise and publish nonfiction beyond narrative Is That a Fact guides you in achieving these goals with your students

Allaire, Jennifer E. Killham, 2022-04-01 Science is unique among the disciplines since it is inherently hands on However the hands on nature of science instruction also makes it uniquely challenging when teaching in virtual environments How do we as science teachers deliver high quality experiences in an online environment that leads to age grade level appropriate science content knowledge and literacy but also collaborative experiences in the inquiry process and the nature of science The expansion of online environments for education poses logistical and pedagogical challenges for early childhood and elementary science teachers and early learners Despite digital media becoming more available and ubiquitous and increases in online spaces for teaching and learning Killham et al 2014 Wong et al 2018 PreK 12 teachers consistently report feeling underprepared or overwhelmed by online learning environments Molnar et al 2021 Seaman et al 2018 This is coupled with persistent challenges related to elementary

Ideal for undergraduate teacher candidates graduate students teacher educators classroom teachers parents and elementary students through a research based foundation The Transformation of Missions in the Twenty-First Century Carrie A. Miles, 2025-08-21 Drawing on interviews with founders of independent missions field work in Africa India and Haiti and her experience as director of an independent mission Carrie A Miles explores the challenges and strengths of missions built on interpersonal relationships and spiritual capital This book examines the rise of a new movement within Global Christianity the independent mission Once death defying residential lifelong commitments undertaken and supported by career professionals a growing number of international missions are now small agencies operating without institutional support and undertaken by volunteers who travel occasionally to the mission field but who live and work at home Focusing on the importance of culturally respectful collaborations with national partners this book also deals with the harm caused by missionaries who do not share that orientation In a compelling example Miles recounts her discovery that early missionaries to East Africa taught that God cursed humankind in Creation Making no attempt to understand the meaning of curses in traditional religions however the missionaries created a devastating syncretism that persists to this day The Transformation of Missions in the Twenty First Century Cross Cultural Partnership without Syncretism argues that in requiring cross cultural awareness to operate the constraints of working independently are also its strengths
