Putting People First Sociological Variables In Rural Development:

Putting People First Michael M. Cernea, 1991 Researching Conflict in Africa Elisabeth J. Porter, 2005 Parts of Africa experience persistent violence and seemingly intractable conflicts These violent conflicts have drawn researchers seeking to determine and explain why conflicts are prevalent what makes them intensify and how conflicts can be resolved This book examines the ethical and practical issues of researching within violent and divided societies It provides fascinating and factual case studies from Angola the Democratic Republic of Congo Ghana Nigeria Rwanda and South Africa The authors provide insights about researching conflict in Africa that can only be gained through fieldwork experience Social Development in the World Bank Maritta Koch-Weser, Scott Guggenheim, 2021-04-23 This open access book honors the work of Michael Cernea who was the World Bank's first professional sociologist by taking on and extending his arguments for putting people first Cernea led a community of social scientists in formulating and promoting a comprehensive set of innovative and original social policies on development issues which the World Bank adopted and implemented This book includes globally significant work on urban and rural development the epistemology of using social science knowledge in national and international development methodologies for using social organization for more effective poverty reduction and the experience of crafting social policies to become normative frameworks for purposive collective social action And by including contributions from senior policy makers in the World Bank who helped shepherd social science's entry into development policy and practice it provides a unique look at how organizational change can happen Green Development William Mark Adams, 2001 This new edition has been completely re-written Giving a valuable analysis of the theory and practice of sustainable development it suggests that at the start of the new millennium we should think radically about the challenge of sustainability Methods For Social Analysis In Developing Countries Kurt Finsterbusch, 2019-04-05 This book fills the gap between social science methodology books and the realities of conducting social research under Third World conditions It focuses on social impact assessment methods and cost effective social analyses for development projects and programs in US and Third World countries Women's Voices from the Rainforest Janet Gabriel Townsend, 2005-08-05 Women's Voices from the Rainforest explores the position of the women whose families are tearing down the rainforest These women of Central and Latin America have been largely invisible until now but they are at last turning their voices into action International development policy and its top down culture must take much of the blame for environmental and social destruction of the rainforest Presenting the contrasting results of different methodologies a comprehensive literature review and the voices of the rainforest women themselves told in life histories the authors argue for the adoption of grassroots strategies not international solutions Cattle Bring Us to Our Enemies J. Terrence McCabe, 2010-02-11 An in depth look at the ecology history and politics of land use among the Turkana pastoral people in Northern Kenya Based on sixteen years of fieldwork among the pastoral Turkana people McCabe examines how individuals use the land and make decisions about mobility livestock and the use of natural resources in an environment characterized by aridity unpredictability insecurity and violence The Turkana are one of the world s most mobile peoples but understanding why and how they move is a complex task influenced by politics violence historical relations among ethnic groups and the government as well as by the arid land they call home As one of the original members of the South Turkana Ecosystem Project McCabe draws on a wealth of ecological data in his analysis His long standing relationship with four Turkana families personalize his insights and conclusions inviting readers into the lives of these individuals their families and the way they cope with their environment and political events in daily life J Terrence McCabe is Associate Professor of Anthropology University of Colorado at Boulder

Engendering the Environment? Gender in the World Bank's Environmental Policies Priya A. Kurian,2018-02-06

This title was first published in 2000 Priya Kurian s research offers environmental policy scholarship a new theoretically rich and empirically validated approach to understanding the significance of gender to environmental policy Biodiversity Conservation Charles A. Perrings,Karl-Göran Mäler,Carl Folke,C.S. Holling,Beng-Owe Jansson,1995-06-30 This book reports the more policy oriented results of the Biodiversity programme of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences Beijer Institute The programme brought economists and ecologists together to consider where the problem in biodiversity loss really lies what costs it has for society and how it might best be addressed The results are strikingly different from those reported in other works on the subject Biodiversity loss matters for all ecosystems not just the megadiversity tropical forests And it matters because it compromises the resilience and so the productivity of those systems Biodiversity conservation requires the development of policies that change the behaviour of resource use everywhere not just in parks and reserves The book is required reading for researchers and policy makers alike It canvasses options for the reform of park management biodiversity conservation projects property rights tax trade and price regimes that are within the reach of governments everywhere

Biodiversity Conservation C. A. Perrings,2012-12-06 This volume is one of a number of publications to carry the results of the first research programme of the Royal Swedish Academy of Science s Beijer Institute The Institute was formed in 1991 in order to promote interdisciplinary research between natural and social scientists on the interdependency between economic and ecological systems In its first research programme the Biodiversity Programme the Institute brought together a number of leading economists and ecologists to address the theoretical and policy issues associated with the current high rates of biodiversity loss in such systems whether the result of direct depletion the destruction of habitat or specialisation in agriculture forestry and fisheries l This volume reports some of the more policy oriented work carried out under the programme The broad aim of the programme is to further our understanding of the causes and consequences of biodiversity loss and to identify the options for addressing the problem The results have turned out to be surprising to those who see biodiversity loss primarily in terms of the erosion of the genetic library In various ways the work carried out under the programme has already begun to alter our perception of where the problem in biodiversity loss lies and what policy options are available to deal with it Indeed the programme has provided a powerful set of arguments for reappraising not just the economic and ecological implications of biodiversity loss but the whole case for development based on specialisation of resource use Starting the Twenty-First Century Ernest Krausz,Gitta Tulea,2002-10-31 Jrgen Habermas speaking of postmodern society remarked that extension of the means of communication not only allows a wide range of information but it also encourages permanent connections between different peoples cultures and social discourses It thus facilitates better general understanding a clarifying of real or apparent contradictions But this process becomes truly positive only when it is performed between equal members Globalization of information does not minimize the possibility of conflict or terrorism if fundamental social problems are not resolved or at least approached in an active way This volume examines the major upheavals of the twentieth century and views within the framework of these events and challenges implications for the future Values and Cultural Changes in the Postmodern World by Zygmunt Bauman explores the changing meaning of space in the globalizing environment S N Eisenstadt analyzes the destructive components of modernity and Irving Louis Horowitz draws attention to the classical values of the common universal culture Social Development and Policies in Contemporary Society by Michael M Cernea examines the importance of the applied and policy orientated research especially in the developing countries and David Marsland stresses the positive role of sociology in pointing to the possibilities of improving healthcare in modern society Societies in Transition Eastern Europe emphasizes transitions that have occurred in Eastern Europe Rozalina Rjyvkina and Leonid Kosals provide an incisive study of the situation in Russia while Jerzy J Wiatr presents a comparative analysis of postcommunist societies with special reference to Poland The Jewish World Pre and Post Holocaust by Regina Azria discusses the identity problems in the Diaspora confronting modernity Eva Etzioni Halevi considers the newly developed Israeli society from the point of view of the exercise and distribution of power and a most interesting contribution by Annette Wieviorka concerns the material and spiritual effects of the Holocaust on the Jews of France Social historians and students of Judaica as well as a general public interested in cultural pluralism will find this well developed volume essential reading Game Equilibrium Models II Reinhard Selten,2013-04-18 The four volumes of Game Equilibrium Models present applications of non cooperative game theory Problems of strategic interaction arising in biology economics political science and the social sciences in general are treated in 42 papers on a wide variety of subjects Internationally known authors with backgrounds in various disciplines have contributed original research The reader finds innovative modelling combined with advanced methods of analysis The four volumes are the outcome of a research year at the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies of the University of Bielefeld The close interaction of an international interdisciplinary group of researchers has produced an unusual collection of remarkable results of great interest for everybody who wants to be informed on the scope potential and future direction of work in applied game theory Volume II Methods Morals and Markets contains areas of research which will attract the interest of economists political scientists mathematicians and philosophers The papers deal with the methodology of analysis of games game theoretic contributions to fundamental ethical questions facing societies and game theoretic analyses of market environments Legitimate

Governance in Africa Edward Kofi Quashigah,Obiora Chinedu Okafor,2024-01-22 Any attempt to address the ever present problem of instability in Africa gives rise to questions regarding legitimate governance Without future thinking and action on the legitimacy of governance in Africa and how to secure it past mistakes will go unheeded rather than informing forward movement Surprisingly no existing work has comprehensively addressed this critical issue Legitimate Governance in Africa provides this needed coverage for the first time examining such key components in the struggle for legitimate governance as the role of the international community in addressing the problem the particular role women can play and ways in which women can improve their involvement in the whole enterprise of governance and the roles of non governmental organizations and civil society In this diverse collection of essays a wide range of expert legal contributors all familiar with the status of the struggle for legitimate governance in a specific institution or particular African state brings unique perspectives to the scholarly investigation of legitimate governance in Africa The individual authors have thought deeply about the complexities and subtleties of conducting and evaluating the business of African state governance considering both the practical sustainability of potential approaches and theoretical problems and issues The probing high quality essays facilitate a real understanding of the obstacles to progress in the struggle for legitimate governance Through their depth and diversity of views every one of the papers included in this collection enriches the pool of knowledge on this important subject

Impact of irrigation on poverty and environment in Ethiopia: draft proceedings of the symposium and exhibition, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 27-29 November 2007 Makonnen Loulseged,Aster Deneke,2011-07-21 International Social Work

David Cox,Manohar Pawar,2012-12-04 International Social Work Issues Strategies and Programs Second Edition draws together the practice wisdom emerging within the broad scope of international social work practice and its role in contributing to the international community s efforts in combating the major global social problems of poverty conflict and postconflict reconstruction the development of countries and disadvantaged populations migration and displacement and the needs of specific populations such as child soldiers and AIDS orphans Utilizing an integrated perspectives approach incorporating global human rights ecological and social development perspectives the International Social Work 2e is designed to prepare social workers human services professionals development practitioners who desire to play significant roles in responding to modern global challenges that are critical to the well being of people communities nations and ultimately of us all Lands At Risk In The Third World Peter D. Little,2019-03-19 This book presents case studies highlighting social economic political and biological dimensions of environmental degradation in the Third World It uses local data to examine test and refine larger explanatory models and theories Environmental Assessment in Developing and Transitional Countries Norman Lee,Clive George,2013-06-10 Since the 1980s and especially since the Rio Earth Summit in 1992 there has been a substantial extension in the adoption and use of Environmental Assessment EA procedures in developing countries and countries in transition low and middle income countries However few existing texts in environmental assessment or development studies have reflected this trend sufficiently until this publication Divided into two main parts EA Principles Processes and Practice Country and Institutional Studies of EA Procedures and Practice This book explains the essentials of environmental impact association in the context of developing countries and assesses its importance to both developed and developing countries Farmers' Rights - Educational Module V Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-09-27 The role of farmers as custodians and innovators of plant genetic diversity that feeds the world population was not formally recognized at the international level until the adoption of the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture The International Treaty is the first legally binding instrument that recognizes the enormous contribution of local and indigenous communities and farmers worldwide to the development and conservation of crop diversity This module examines its origins and provisions in the International Treaty and presents some practical activities for the realization of Farmers Rights It aims to i understand the crucial role of farmers in the conservation and sustainable use of plant genetic resources for food and agriculture ii describe the evolution of Farmers Rights up to their recognition by the International Treaty iii explain the components of Article 9 of the International Treaty iv illustrate the implementation of Article 9 at the national level with practical examples and best practices and v strengthen stakeholders capacities for implementing Farmers Rights as reflected in Article 9 of the International Treaty The realization of Farmers Rights falls under the responsibility of national governments and the adoption of measures for the promotion of Farmers Rights therefore remains at the discretion of national authorities Although there is no binding agreement for the implementation of Farmers Rights it is clear that farmers need to be supported to continue their role as stewards of plant genetic diversity in agriculture Postharvest Technology of Horticultural Crops Adel A. Kader,2002 The definitive manual on postharvest technology an invaluable resource for anyone involved in handling and storing fresh fruits vegetables and ornamentals worldwide Chapters cover the basics of postharvest technology as well as consumer issues in quality and safety preharvest factors affecting fruit and vegetable quality waste management and cull utilization safety factors and processing methods A new appendix presents a summary of optimal conditions and the potential storage life of 200 fruits and vegetables Edited by Adel Kader and written by 22 authors including UC researchers specialists and faculty along with leading industry experts the third edition weighs in at 535 pages This is an invaluable resource for research professionals quality control personnel and postharvest biology students anyone involved in the technology for handling and storing fresh fruits vegetables and ornamentals The information in the manual is applicable worldwide Postharvest Technology of Horticultural Crops is illustrated with 154 color photos 184 black and white photos and 111 graphs and illustrations
