Pwa Looking Aids In The Face:

PWA Oscar Moore,1996 Oscar Moore's PWA Person With Aids column in the Guardian gave us moving and informative insights into what it's like to live with the physical deterioration that Aids inevitably brings Humane and witty and written with a tough minded dry humour PWA proved to be a comfort to people whether touched by illness or not As Moore's postbag shows You have talked about Aids without self pity while continually reminding me of the important things in life that also make mine worth living V Bristol Thanks again for the humour you bring into our lives through your own frustrations and fears maybe you can help us learn to appreciate and enjoy each moment of our lives without the necessity to experience crisis T Eastbourne I have nothing in common with Oscar Moore I'm writing to say Don't give in He won't of course He doesn't know how to E Milton Keynes Your fears your vivid writing your courage have given me great hope in the face of the ghastly and seemingly unfair experiences and symptoms we share I hope that many like me have been fortified and humbled by your joie de vivre and courage H Exmouth

Death, Desire and Loss in Western Culture Jonathan Dollimore,2013-07-04 Death Desire and Loss in Western Culture is a rich testament to our ubiquitous preoccupation with the tangled web of death and desire In these pages we find nuanced analysis that blends Plato with Shelley Hlderlin with Foucault Dollimore a gifted thinker is not content to summarize these texts from afar instead he weaves a thread through each to tell the magnificent story of the making of the modern individual

Sex, Time and Place Simon Avery,Katherine M. Graham,2016-10-06 Sex Time and Place extensively widens the scope of what we might mean by queer London studies Incorporating multidisciplinary perspectives including social history cultural geography visual culture literary representation ethnography and social studies this collection asks new questions widens debates and opens new subject terrain Featuring essays from an international range of established scholars and emergent voices the collection is a timely contribution to this growing field Its essays cover topics such as activist and radical communities and groups AIDS and the city art and literature digital archives and technology drag and performativity lesbian Londons notions of bohemianism and deviancy sex reform and research and queer Black history Going further than the existing literature on Queer London which focuses principally on the experiences of white gay men in a limited time frame Sex Time and Place reflects the current state of this growing and important field of study It will be of great value to scholars students and general readers who have an interest in queer history London studies cultural geography visual cultures and literary criticism

Modernising Cancer Services Mark Baker,2018-12-14 This concise but comprehensive text provides those new to palliative care with an overview of the many aspects of their work It is based on lecture notes which have been used by clinical students and nurses at Oxford and elsewhere and is now available for a wider readership

HIV in South Africa Corinne Squire,2007-09-12 Winner of the Sociology of Health and Illness Book Prize 2008 Of approximately 37 million HIV positive people in the world 24.7 million live in sub Saharan Africa and about 5.5 million in South Africa Despite its relatively powerful economy and infrastructure South Africa has been dramatically affected by the HIV pandemic Using narrative analysis of a three year interview study and textual analysis of political materials HIV in South Africa examines the impact of HIV on people s everyday lives in the country Examining the relationship between personal accounts of living with HIV and wider medical political and religious discourses the book also highlights the significance of class race and gender on individuals experiences These engaging stories of everyday lives provide an accessible way to connect with HIV as a health and development issue Fascinating challenging and constructive this is an important contribution in an area of great social relevance The ebook is available free of charge to those with addresses on the United Nations Development Programme s Human Development Index of Medium and Low Rankings see http://hdr.undp.org/hdr2006/pdfs/report/HDR_2006_Tables.pdf who can apply to the following address www.ebookstore.tandf.co.uk

Mindreadings Femi Oyeboade,2009 The authors explore the description and representation of mental states lived distress character of psychology and psychological institutional practices A Teacher's Handbook of Death Maggie Jackson,Jim Colwell,2002 Teachers are increasingly called upon to discuss and explain death and dying to children in the classroom This book provides them with methods to facilitate open discussions of death and to find suitable ways of talking with children about what happens when someone they know dies Diary of a Man Dermot Moore,2005 Queer Domesticities M. Cook,2014-04-29 Sissy home boys or domestic outlaws Through a series of vivid case studies taken from across the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Matt Cook explores the emergence of these trenchant stereotypes and looks at how they play out in the home and family lives of queer men Luminous presence Alexandra Parsons,2021-11-02 Luminous presence Derek Jarman s life writing is the first book to analyse the prolific writing of queer icon Derek Jarman Although he is well known for his avant garde filmmaking his garden and his AIDS activism he is also the author of over a dozen books many of which are autobiographical Much of Jarman s exploration of post war queer identity and imaginative response to HIV AIDS can be found in his books such as the lyrical AIDS diaries Modern Nature and Smiling in Slow Motion This book fully explores for the first time the remarkable range and depth of Jarman s writing Spanning his career Alexandra Parsons argues that Jarman s self reflexive response to the HIV AIDS crisis was critical in changing the cultural terms of queer representation from the 1980s onwards Luminous presence is of great interest to students scholars and readers of queer histories in literature art and film Media and Health Clive Seale,2003-01-17 This book appears to fill a substantial gap in the literature at present There are quite simply no books available which engage seriously and competently with the presentation of health issues in the media and certainly none which focuses on representations of health and illness in as thematically coherent a manner as Seale proposes to do Richard Gwyn University of Cardiff This is an excellent resource for students It provides a comprehensive review of secondary literature in the field and is very well researched Students of sociology of health and illness and in media and communication studies will find the book invaluable David Oswell Goldsmiths College University of London This is a comprehensive work on media health providing an invaluable toolkit for understanding health and the media in contemporary society Seale goes further than previous textbooks critiquing the lament of media health promoters in order to explore the moralisation and commercialisation of media health Dr Annette Hill University of Westminster How are health matters presented by the mass media How accurate are the messages we are receiving This book demonstrates how health messages in popular mass media are important influences in our lives and that they are not neutral being subject to many determining influences It demonstrates the importance of mass media for understanding the experience of illness health and health care bringing together the latest thinking in the field of media studies and the sociology of health and illness This book provides a thorough review of research literature on media representations of health illness and health care covering their production characteristic forms and relationships with the everyday lives of media audiences It brings together both well known and lesser known studies in the context of an integrated sociological argument about media and health Media producers are subject to a variety of influences from medical lobbies scientific organizations and not least the commercial pressure to satisfy media saturated audiences These mean that aims of health promoters are not always easily achieved leading to considerable tensions that require a deeper understanding of media health than has hitherto been applied to them This book will be essential reading for health educators and promoters as well as health care providers interested in the cultural aspects of health sociologists of health and illness and students and academics of media studies

Homoplot Esther Saxey, 2008 Homoplot analyses the lesbian gay and bisexual coming out story in fiction and autobiography from the late 1960s to the present day These stories are recognised as an invaluable record of lesbian gay or bisexual life However this book illuminates their equally vital role as active tools in the arduous project of creating gay lesbian and bisexual identities constructing the identities they seem to describe Homoplot shows how a popular twist of the plot or a single common character trait can be a powerful intervention into sexual politics Approaching these texts with the tools of queer criticism the book celebrates their success but also illuminates their chief problem how the need to create concrete sexual identities has often narrowed the range of queer experiences represented Despite the ongoing popularity of coming out stories this is the first book length study of the genre Homoplot surveys hundreds of examples including in depth readings of authors such as Jeanette Winterson Dorothy Allison Rita Mae Brown Oscar Moore Paul Monette and Aaron Fricke and provides an incisive account of the genre's defining features The book is essential reading for anyone considering queer literature or lesbian gay and bisexual identity in the twentieth century and beyond Researchers and students considering life history and autobiography will also benefit from its analysis of feminist and queer politics

The Cambridge Companion to Gay and Lesbian Writing Hugh Stevens, 2011 In the last two decades lesbian and gay studies have transformed literary studies The Cambridge Companion to Gay and Lesbian Writing introduces readers to important concepts methods and cultural and historical debates relevant to the study of sexuality and literature

Providing HIV Care: Lessons from the Field for Nurses and Healthcare Practitioners Michelle Croston, Ian Hodgson, 2021-05-05 This very first book helps nurses and healthcare practitioners working in the field of HIV care across Europe to have practical examples of how they could improve and adapt their services to improve outcomes for people living with HIV. It provides the reader with both knowledge on a variety of different HIV-related topic areas and also helps them to translate this learning into a clinical setting. The main focus of the book is to share best practice in HIV nursing with the aim of providing a practical guide from multiple countries to improve outcomes for people living with HIV. The book also acts as a resource to healthcare practitioners who are interested in working in many places in the world or carrying out research in HIV care.

The Turn to Biographical Methods in Social Science Prue Chamberlayne, Joanna Bornat, Tom Wengraf, 2002-09-11 Biographical research methods have become a useful and popular tool for contemporary social scientists. This book combines an exploration of the historical and philosophical origins of this important field of qualitative research with comparative examples of the different ways that biographical methods have been successfully applied internationally. Through these many illustrative examples of socio biography in process, the authors show how formal textual analysis whilst uncovering hidden emotional defences can also shed light on wider historical processes of societal transformation. Topics discussed include individual and linked lives, generational change, political influences on memory and identity, biographical work in reflexive societies, narrativity and empowerment in professional practice, ways of theorising and generalising from case studies. Biographical Methods in the Social Sciences promotes debate and provides opportunities for students and researchers to widen their uses of narrative research.

Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999 Serious illness and mortality: those most universal, unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times. As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate, a new literary genre has emerged: pathography, the personal narrative concerning illness, treatment and sometimes death. Hawkins's sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions, attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter. One factor emerges again and again in these case studies: the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease. Pathography allows the individual person a voice, one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling, thinking, experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise. Recommended for medical practitioners, the clergy, caregivers, students of popular culture and the general reader. Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor's and the patient's voice will we have a medicine that is truly human.

Gay Male Fiction Since Stonewall Les Brookes, 2008-09-22 Arguing that gay fiction is torn between assimilative and radical impulses, this study focuses on fiction by White Holleran, Leavitt, Cunningham, Hollinghurst, Cooper, Mars, Jones and others, positing the existence of two distinct strands of gay fiction where opposing impulses are at work within individual texts.

Critical Practice in Social Work Robert Adams, Lena Dominelli, Malcolm Payne, 2009-04-16 What do social workers need to know in order to practise skilfully and effectively Edited by three Social Work s leading scholars the second edition of this highly respected textbook helps bridge the gap between social work theory and the challenges of day to day practice Versatile and thoughtful the book s simultaneous accessibility and depth make it essential reading suited for both social work students at undergraduate and post qualifying level Practitioners too will learn and benefit from the insights collected together in this valuable addition to their bookshelf

The Nearness of Others David Caron, 2014-05-01 Funny how a gay man s hand resting heavily on your shoulder used to say let s fuck but now means let s not Funny how ostensible nearness really betrays distance sometimes from The Nearness of Others In this radical genre bending narrative David Caron tells the story of his 2006 HIV diagnosis and its aftermath On one level The Nearness of Others is a personal account of his struggle as a gay HIV positive man with the constant issue of if how and when to disclose his status But searching for various forms of contact eventually leads to a profound reassessment of tact as a way to live and a way to think with our bodies and with the bodies of others In a series of brief compulsively readable sections that are by turns moving and witty Caron recounts his wary yet curious exploration of an unfamiliar medical universe at once hostile and protective as he embarks on a new life of treatment without end He describes what it is like to live with a disease that is no longer a death sentence but continues to terrify many people as if it were In particular living with HIV provides an unexpected opportunity to reflect on an age of terror and war when fear and suspicion have become the order of the day Most of all Caron reminds us that disclosing HIV positive status is still far from easy least of all in one of the many states such as his own that have criminalized nondisclosure and or exposure Going well beyond Caron s personal experience The Nearness of Others examines popular culture and politics as well as literary memoirs and film to ask deeper philosophical questions about our relationships with others Ultimately Caron eloquently demonstrates a form of disclosure sharing and contact that stands against the forces working to separate us
