Pygmalion Shaws Spin On Myth And Cinderella:

Pygmalion Charles A. Berst, 1995 The immensely popular and durable Pygmalion has long been familiar to readers and audiences as a unique combination and reworking of two well known stories Ovid's telling of the Pygmalion myth and Charles Perrault's Cinderella According to Berst Shaw's heartily derivative play is well on its way to assuming a major place in the mythic tradition alongside these two classics As he accompanies the reader through each of the play's five acts Berst illumines not only Shaw's understanding of the mythic power of the Pygmalion and Cinderella stories but also the striking departures he took from them What results is new insight into the theatrical skill that has made Shaw in the eyes of many the greatest English playwright after Shakespeare Just as Perrault makes Cinderella's growth from a girl to a woman more important than the hocus pocus of her transformation Berst views the spiritual themes in Pygmalion played out in Eliza's evolution as the richest most enduring locus of Shaw's thematic intentions In comparing the different versions of the play Shaw's original script his later revisions his script for the film version and the My Fair Lady script Berst gives us an unprecedented and detailed overview of those intentions Maddeningly Shaw saw his romance transformed by many directors into a simplistic love story coupling Higgins and Eliza at the end Berst's account of Shaw's exasperated efforts to thwart such stagings of Pygmalion he tried often unsuccessfully to forbid any suggestion that the middle aged bully and the girl of eighteen are lovers is highly entertaining and bemusing

Pygmalion, Heartbreak House, and Saint Joan George Bernard Shaw, 2021 Pygmalion Heartbreak House and Saint Joan are widely considered to be three of the most important in the canon of modern British theatre Pygmalion 1912 was a world wide smash hit from the time of its premi re in Vienna 1913 and it has remained popular to this day Shaw was awarded an Academy Award in 1938 for his screenplay of the film adaptation It was of course later made into the much loved musical My Fair Lady Heartbreak House 1917 which was finally performed in 1920 and published in 1921 bares the hallmarks of European modernism and a formal break from Shaw's previous work A meditation on the war and the resultant decline in European aristocratic culture it was perhaps staged too soon after the conflict indeed it did not have the success of his earlier works which was likely due to his experimental aesthetics combined with a war weary audience that sought lighter fare However while this contemporary reception was muted it is now recognised as a modernist masterpiece Saint Joan 1923 marked Shaw's resurrection and apotheosis The first major work written of Joan of Arc after her canonization 1920 the play interrogates the origins of European nationalism in the post war era Like Pygmalion it was an immediate world wide hit and secured Shaw the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1925 Drawing upon the transcripts of Joan's trial Shaw blended his trademark wit to produce a hybrid genre of comedy and history play Despite the historical setting Saint Joan is highly accessible and continues to delight audiences

British Modernism and Censorship Celia Marshik, 2006-07-06 Government censorship had a profound impact on the development of canonical modernism and on the public images of modernist writers Celia Marshik argues that censorship can benefit as well as harm writers and the works they create in response to it She weaves together histories of official and unofficial censorship of individual writers and their relationships to such censorship and of British modernism Throughout Marshik draws on an extraordinary range of evidence including the files of government agencies and social purity organisations She analyses how works were written revised published and performed in relation to this complex web of social forces Chapters of Dante Gabriel Rossetti Bernard Shaw Virginia Woolf James Joyce and Jean Rhys demonstrate that by both reacting against and complying with the forces of repression writers reaped personal and stylistic benefits for themselves and for society at large

The Sensitive Son and the Feminine Ideal in Literature Myron Tuman, 2019-05-11 This book considers major male writers from the last three centuries whose relation to a strong often distant woman one sometimes modeled on their own mother forms the romantic core of their greatest narratives Myron Tuman explores the theory that there is an underlying psychological type the sensitive son connecting these otherwise diverse writers The volume starts and ends with Jean Jacques Rousseau whose Confessions provides an early portrait of one such son There are chapters on other adoring sons Stendhal Sacher Masoch Scott Fitzgerald and Turgenev as well as on sons like Bernard Shaw and D H Lawrence with a different less affectionate psychological disposition toward women This book demonstrates how despite many differences the best works of all these sensitive sons reflect the deep contorted nature of their desire a longing that often seems less for an actual woman than for an elusive feminine ideal

Cinematic Mythmaking Irving Singer, 2010-09-24 Mythic themes and philosophical probing in film as an art form as seen in works of Preston Sturges Jean Cocteau Stanley Kubrick and various other filmmakers Film is the supreme medium for mythmaking The gods and heroes of mythology are both larger than life and deeply human they teach us about the world and they tell us a good story Similarly our experience of film is both distant and intimate Cinematic techniques panning tracking zooming and the other tools in the filmmaker's toolbox create a world that is unlike reality and yet realistic at the same time We are passive spectators but we also have a personal relationship with the images we are seeing In Cinematic Mythmaking Irving Singer explores the hidden and overt use of myth in various films and in general the philosophical elements of a film's meaning Mythological themes Singer writes perform a crucial role in cinematic art and even philosophy itself Singer incisively disentangles the strands of different myths in the films he discusses He finds in Preston Sturges's The Lady Eve that Barbara Stanwyck's character is not just the biblical Eve but a liberated woman of our times Eliza Doolittle in the filmed versions of Shaw's Pygmalion is not just a statue brought to life but instead a heroic woman who must survive her own dark night of the soul The protagonist of William Wyler's The Heiress and Anieszka Holland's

Washington Square is both suffering Dido and an awakened Amazon Singer reads Cocteau's films including La Belle et la Bête Orpheus and The Testament of Orpheus as uniquely mythological cinematic poetry He compares Kubrickian and Homeric epics and analyzes in depth the self-referential mythmaking of Federico Fellini in many of his movies including 8½ The aesthetic and probing inventiveness in film Singer shows us restores and revives for audiences in the twenty-first century myths of creation of the questing hero and of ideals both secular and religious that have had enormous significance throughout the human search for love and meaning in life Text & Presentation, 2016 Graley Herren, 2017-01-11 Bringing together some of the best work from the 2016 Comparative Drama Conference in Baltimore this collection of essays presents the latest research in comparative drama performance and dramatic textual analysis A variety of approaches and formats including twelve research papers five book reviews and one transcript cover topics ranging from Ancient Greece to 21st-century America A highlight is the keynote conversation featuring the great American playwright Tony Kushner

Unpublished Shaw Bernard Shaw, Dan H. Laurence, 1996 SHAW 16 contains twenty-nine unpublished pieces by Shaw written between 1877 and 1950 The most significant is a ten-page draft synopsis of Man and Superman the original manuscript draft of the play has been lost in a contemplated five-act version providing scholars with a hitherto unavailable text Equally important for the biographical and artistic insights they offer are the early literary efforts found in Shaw's first opus notebook including an extended narrative verse fragment of 1877 set in Dublin a polemic his first on oakum-picking and prison conditions a criticism of organists and orchestral conductors and an attempted evaluation of contemporary arts and letters in 1878 We find Shaw through the persona of a female narrator creating in his own image a fictional memoir of the young Hector Berlioz offering an ironic vindication of housebreakers in anticipation of Heartbreak House exploring the seamy side of the prizefight ring examining exhausted genres of Victorian art in 1880 defining the true signification of the term Gentleman lecturing on Socialism and the family and on realism as the goal of fiction and penetratingly considering the future of marriage in a rejected book review one of four included in the volume The dimensions of Shaw's political views may be examined through nearly a dozen commentaries on politics and on war and peace ranging from the Boer War and 1899 draft letter to the press Why Not Abolish the Soldier and 1903 municipal elections to U.S. Liberty Loans the Italo-Abyssinian War how to talk intelligently about the Second World War and the implications of the hydrogen bomb in the nuclear age For good measure the volume concludes with two brief playlets previously unrecorded The editors have arranged these pieces individually or grouped by theme and genre as near to chronological order as possible and the reader is brought closer to the original manuscripts by the retention of Shaw's stylistic and spelling inconsistencies and by transliteration of the shorthand notations he frequently inserted between lines or in the margins Each text is supplemented by an editorial note providing its provenance and a detailed physical description of the manuscript Shaw and History Gale K. Larson, 1999 This special issue of Shaw offers ten articles that focus on the theme of Shaw and History That focus illuminates Shaw's concept of history as art and its uses for dramatic purposes It is a focus that is broadly applied to the historical perspective Views range from Shaw s uses of historical sources in the Shavianizing of history his uses of historical geographical and political places and events in his work to views that place selected Shavian works within a historical context Stanley Weintraub discusses Shaw s references to Cetewayo Zulu chieftain in Cashel Byron s Profession as the first incorporation of a contemporary historical figure into his work John Allett explores the liberal socialist and radical feminist views of prostitution in nineteenth century England and demonstrates how those political views are developed within the unfolding action of Mrs Warren s Profession Sidney P Albert studies the Utopian movement The Garden City to determine the extent to which that movement influenced Shaw s conception of Perivale St Andres in Major Barbara He also narrates his personal attempt to identify the Ballycorus smelting works and its surroundings as well as the campanile or Folly at Faringdon as sites that provided the scenic sources for Perivale St Andres in Major Barbara Gale K Larson has edited a partially unpublished Shavian manuscript that addresses Shaw s relationship with Frank Harris and among other matters sets the historical record right as to who deserves the credit for attributing the identity of the Dark Lady of the Sonnets to Mary Fitton He also examines the historical sources that influenced Shaw s views on Charles II the Merry Monarch in In Good King Charles s Golden Days and demonstrates Shaw s reclamation of yet another historical figure from the traditional historians David Gunby examines the first night performance of O Flaherty V C for purposes of setting the historical record straight as to the facts of that production Wendi Chen presents the stage history of the production of Mrs Warren s Profession in China during the early 1920s and argues its central role in shaping modern Chinese drama Rodelle Weintraub assesses Too True to Be Good as a dream play within the context of the nightmarish times of World War I Michael M O Hara surveys the Federal Theatre s productions of Androcles and the Lion in the 1930s to reveal the political and religious repressions that those productions underscore Shaw 19 also includes three reviews of recent additions to Shavian scholarship as well as John R Pfeiffer s Continuing Checklist of Shaviana
