Boy-Wives and Female Husbands Stephen O. Murray, Will Roscoe, 2021-04-01 Among the many myths created about Africa the claim that homosexuality and gender diversity are absent or incidental is one of the oldest and most enduring. Historians, anthropologists and many contemporary Africans alike have denied or overlooked African same sex patterns or claimed that such patterns were introduced by Europeans or Arabs. In fact, same sex love and nonbinary genders were and are widespread in Africa. Boy Wives and Female Husbands documents the presence of this diversity in some fifty societies in every region of the continent south of the Sahara. Essays by scholars from a variety of disciplines explore institutionalized marriages between women, same sex relations between men and boys in colonial work settings, mixed gender roles in east and west Africa and the emergence of LGBTQ activism in South Africa which became the first nation in the world to constitutionally ban discrimination based on sexual orientation. Also included are oral histories, folklore and translations of early ethnographic reports by German and French observers. Boy Wives and Female Husbands was the first serious study of same sex sexuality and gender diversity in Africa and this edition includes a new foreword by Marc Epprecht that underscores the significance of the book for a new generation of African scholars as well as reflections on the book's genesis by the late Stephen O. Murray. This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to the generous support of the Murray Hong Family Trust. Knowing Women Serena Owusu Dankwa, 2021-01-21 A study of same sex passion, desire and intimacy among working class women who love women in West Africa.

Literature, Science, and a New Humanities J. Gottschall, 2008-09-29 Literary studies are at a tipping point. There is broad agreement that the discipline is in crisis, that it is aimless, that its intellectual energy is spent, that all of the trends are bad and that fundamental change will be required to set things right. But there is little agreement on what those changes should be and no one can predict which way things will ultimately tip. Literature, Science, and a New Humanities represents a bold new response to the crisis in academic literary studies. This book presents a total challenge to dominant paradigms of literary analysis and offers a sweeping critique of those paradigms and sketches outlines of a new paradigm inspired by scientific theories, methods and attitudes.
