Quality And Availability Of Family Planning Services And Contraceptive Use In Tanzania:

The Quality and Availability of Family Planning Services and Contraceptive Use in Tanzania Kathleen Beegle, 1995 Living Standards Measurement Study No 114 Analyzes characteristics of health facilities and pharmacies as determinants of contraceptive use and fertility in Tanzania The high level of fertility in Tanzania has remained constant over the p Health Facility Surveys Magnus Lindelöw, Adam Wagstaff, 2003 Tanzania, 1999-01-01 Huge sums have been spent on water and sanitation services in Tanzania but much of that investment is standing idle in the country producing little or no water for the intended beneficiaries A major question is whether any of the investment can be salvaged to reduce the burden of water gathering on the population From Tanzania Social Sector Review Tanzania's social indicators remain among the poorest in the world This report describes the trends in the social sectors and analyzes the factors that influence these trends These trends include the performance of the economy government social sector spending and policy household behavior and incomes and demographic trends Findings from the surveys and case studies are synthesized to provide a comprehensive picture of the demand for and supply of education health water and sanitation nutrition and family planning services The report discusses the situation and trends in the social sector and identifies ways that the government the private sector and households can use their respective resources most effectively Poverty Comparisons and Household Survey Design Steven Howes, Jean Olson Lanjouw, 1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 356 The World Bank has become the world's largest lender in the health nutrition and population HNP sectors requiring the institution to seek ever greater evidence that its work is effective on the ground This paper reviews the literature on the causes of observed changes in health and fertility levels on the evaluation of policies and on programs designed to accelerate these changes It presents a framework that delineates the relationships between Bank activities in the HNP sectors the characteristics of a health care system household behavior and changes in health outcomes The paper also describes a strategy for assessing the development effectiveness of the Bank's work in these sectors The underlying thesis is that changes in health policy and improved outcomes depend on the demand for health services and on institutional incentives that drive health care system performance How Family Planning Supply and the Service Environment Affect Contraceptive Use, 2012 From Death to Birth National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, 1998-01-12 The last 35 years or so have witnessed a dramatic shift in the demography of many developing countries Before 1960 there were substantial improvements in life expectancy but fertility declines were very rare Few people used modern contraceptives and couples had large families Since 1960 however fertility rates have fallen in virtually every major geographic region of the world for almost all political social and economic groups What factors are responsible for the sharp decline in fertility What role do child survival programs or family programs play in fertility declines Casual observation suggests that a decline in infant and child mortality is the most important cause but there is surprisingly little hard evidence for this conclusion The papers in this volume explore the theoretical methodological and empirical dimensions of the fertility mortality relationship It includes several detailed case studies based on contemporary data from developing countries and on historical data from Europe and the United States
