

Quantitative Methods

Initial Work

- Purpose statement worded differently when compared with this statement in chapter 1
- Did not explain why quantitative method was better fit for the study than qualitative
- Rationale for quasi-experimental correlational design was vague and not supported by citations from literature

- The research questions did not include hypotheses
- The sample size was not justified via explanation of power analysis
- Variables were listed but nature of variables was not specified
- Data analysis section did not specify the software to be used for the statistical analysis
- No analysis plan was written for the third research question, because the candidate was unsure of what was appropriate

Plan to Fix

- Revise the purpose statement so that it matches wording used in chapter 1
- Explain that qualitative methods are best for exploratory open-ended inquiry
- Add hypotheses to each research question

1. Determine clear rationale for use of a quasi-experimental correlational design and well-explaining rationale of deterministic sources
2. Explain with a description of the quasi-experimental process and outcomes with regard to minimum sample size
3. Clarify nature of variables (i.e., categorical ordinal continuous)
4. Note in data analysis section that SPSS (or J) would be used to conduct statistical analysis
5. Evaluate synthesis of concepts for research question 3, document their experimental testing plan, and add descriptions of the errors
