ECRM 2023 22nd European Conference on Research Methods in Business and Management Academic Conferences and Publishing Limited,2023-09-06

The More Economic Approach to EU Antitrust Law Anne C Witt,2016-11-17 In the late 1990s the European Commission embarked on a long process of introducing a more economic approach to EU Antitrust law One by one it reviewed its approach to all three pillars of EU Antitrust Law starting with Article 101 TFEU moving on to EU merger control and concluding the process with Article 102 TFEU Its aim was to make EU antitrust law more compatible with contemporary economic thinking On the basis of an extensive empirical analysis of the Commission s main enforcement tools this book establishes the changes that the more economic approach has made to the Commission s enforcement practice over the past fifteen years It demonstrates that the more economic approach not only introduced modern economic assessment tools to the Commission s analyses but fundamentally changed the Commission s interpretation of the law Emulating one of the key credos of the US Antitrust Revolution thirty years earlier the Commission reinterpreted the EU antitrust rules as aiming at the enhancement of economic consumer welfare only and amended its understanding of key legal concepts accordingly This book argues that the Commission s new understanding of the law has many benefits Its key principles are logical translate well into workable legal concepts and promise a great degree of accuracy However it also has a number of serious drawbacks as it stands Most worryingly its revised interpretation of the law is to large extents incompatible with the case law of the European Court of Justice which has not been swayed by the exclusive consumer welfare aim This situation is undesirable from the point of view of legal certainty and the rule of law

Research Methods for Law Mike McConville,2017-01-18 Introduces students to legalistic theoretical empirical comparative and cross disciplinary research methods grounded in working examplesNew for this editionNew chapter on inter and cross disciplinary research essential reading for international students and students with a non law first degree undertaking research in the areas of law criminology psychology and sociologyResearch ethics has been expanded to a full chapter that includes current plagiarism and imperfect disclosureBrings existing chapters up to date with the newest thinking in legal researchDrawing on actual research projects Research Methods for Law discusses how legal research as process impacts on research as product The author team has a broad range of teaching and research experience in law criminal justice and socio legal studies and give examples from real life research products to illustrate the theory

New Legal Approaches to Studying the Court of Justice Claire Kilpatrick, Joanne Scott, 2020-12-16 At the beginning of 2015 the Court of Justice opened its archives which created a new and challenging primary source for those studying the Court of Justice the dossiers de proc dure which contain much more than the contemporary documents published by the Court This volume includes five chapters which analyse the activities of the Court of Justice from a highly diverse range of non doctrinal perspectives However they also highlight significant new developments at the Court itself which attract attention and deserve analysis Thus the idea behind this volume is to make available new tools and approaches through which the activities of the Court of Justice can be studied It shows a more intense engagement with scholars across disciplines to reflect on law and courts with the Court of Justice as a central focus and new methods such as network citation analysis and sources such as the Court s archives being discovered and developed It also shows a more intense and deeply knowledgeable engagement with EU law and the Court of Justice by non legal scholars such as the new sociologies and histories of the Court of Justice These and other new approaches have spawned productive and ongoing conversations across disciplines
