Negotiating Malay Identities in Singapore Rizwana Abdul Azeez,2016-03-01 Singapore Malays subscribe to mostly traditional rather than modern interpretations of Islam Singapore state officials however wish to curb the challenges such interpretations bring to the country s political social educational and economic domains Thus these officials launched a programme to socially engineer modern Muslim identities amongst Singapore Malays in 2003 which is ongoing Negotiating Muslim Identities documents a variety of ethnographic encounters that point to the power struggles surrounding two basic and very different ways of living While the Singapore state has gained some successes for its project it has also faced significant and multiple setbacks Amongst them state officials have had to contend with traditional Islamic authority that Malay elders carry and who cannot be ignored because these elders are time entrenched authority figures in their community One of the book s significant contributions is that it documents how Singapore an avowedly secular state has now turned to Islam as a tool for governance Just as significant are the insights the study provides on another aspect of Singapore state governance one usually described as authoritarian The book demonstrates that even authoritarian states can face serious obstacles in the face of religion s influence over its followers The academic literature on Singapore Malays is sparse this work not only fills gaps in the existing academic literature but provides new and original research data Its data rich ethnographic and anthropological approach show the complexities of Malay and Muslim social contexts and complements other works that examine Southeast Asian states management of Islam which has attracted much scholarship given the global interest in Islam based politics and social organisation

Malay Political Leadership Tony Shome,2004-08-02 This book demonstrates how particular values and notions of leadership which underpinned traditional Malay leadership have played a crucial role in the political evolution of the modern Malaysian nation The author discusses the nature of Malay notions of leadership and considers this throughout the Malay world at the local as well as at the national level and goes on to describe and analyse leadership from pre independence leadership in the colonial period through the rule of Malaysia's four prime ministers. He draws on anthropology, psychology and political and economic history to show how Malay leaders have kept within the established track of the Malay value system responding in particular to the expectation of their people to provide a sense of national identity and unity against the complex background of the Malaysian mosaic while addressing the needs of the wider multi ethnic community. Throughout the evolutionary development of Malay leadership, symbolism for the perpetuation of leadership veneration persisted in its institutions and in the sublime power of the sultans. The Malay case offers one of the most remarkable studies of leadership in its attempt to maintain indigenous primacy in a large multi racial environment subscribing to western democracy for its governance while retaining conservative Islamic values. This book is a significant contribution to the understanding of the evolution of leadership. It begins with an explanation of the early Malay World belief system and progresses to the period of colonization and nationalism. It then follows through the dynamics of modern politics encapsulating the biographical profiles of all Malaysia's Prime Ministers: Tunku Razak Hussein and Mahathir in three aspects: national unity, the economy and foreign affairs. The analysis of Mahathir's leadership extends into the new millennium. This is the only book with biographical profiles of all of Malaysia's Prime Ministers. This book will be of interest to students, academics, politicians, foreign affairs specialists and any reader interested in leadership studies and about Malaysia's political and economic history.

Elite Malay Polygamy Miriam Koktvedgaard Zeitzen, 2018-09-14. Elite Malay women's polygamy narratives are multiple and varied and their sentiments regarding the practice are conflicted as they are often torn between personal and religious convictions. This volume explores the ways in which this increasingly prominent practice impacts Malay gender relations. As Muslims, elite Malay women may be forced to accept polygamy but they mostly condemn it as women and wives as it forces them to manage their lives and loves under the threat of polygamy from a husband able to marry another woman without their knowledge or consent, a husband that is married but available.
