Roman Homosexuality Ideologies Of Masculinity In Classical Antiquity:

Roman Homosexuality Craig A. Williams, 1999-06-10 This book provides a thoroughly documented discussion of ancient Roman ideologies of masculinity and sexuality with a focus on ancient representations of sexual experience between males. It gathers a wide range of evidence from the second century B.C. to the second century A.D., above all from such literary texts as courtroom speeches, love poetry, philosophy, epigram, and history, but also graffiti and other inscriptions as well as artistic artifacts, and uses that evidence to reconstruct the contexts within which Roman texts were created and had their meaning. The book takes as its starting point the thesis that in order to understand the Roman material we must make the effort to set aside any preconceptions we might have regarding sexuality, masculinity, and effeminacy. Williams' book argues in detail that for the writers and readers of Roman texts the important distinctions were drawn not between homosexual and heterosexual but between free and slave, dominant and subordinate, masculine and effeminate as conceived in specifically Roman terms. Other important questions addressed by this book include the differences between Roman and Greek practices and ideologies, the influence exerted by distinctively Roman ideals of austerity, the ways in which deviations from the norms of masculine sexual practice were negotiated both in the arena of public discourse and in real men's lives, the relationship between the rhetoric of nature and representations of sexual practices, and the extent to which same-sex marriages were publicly accepted.

Roman Homosexuality : Ideologies of Masculinity in Classical Antiquity City University of New York, Craig A. Ancient Rome and the Construction of Modern Homosexual Identities Jennifer Ingleheart, 2015 This interdisciplinary volume analyses the importance of ancient Rome in the construction of post classical Western homosexual identities Mapping Gender in Ancient Religious Discourses Todd C. Penner, Caroline Vander Stichele, 2007 A collection of essays on early Christian Jewish and Greco Roman religious discourses in antiquity focusing on the construction of gender in relationship to broader cultural and religious themes argumentation and identity formation in the early centuries of the common era The Body of the Combatant in the Ancient Mediterranean Hannah-Marie Chidwick, 2024-07-25 This volume explores a broad range of perceptions receptions and constructions of the soldierly body in the ancient world putting the notion of embodiment at the forefront of its engagement with ancient warfare The 10 chapters presented here respond directly to the question of how war was embodied in antiquity by drawing on detailed case studies to examine the sensory and bodily experience of combat across wide ranging time periods and geographies from classical Greece and Rome to Roman Britain and Persia Together they illustrate how the body in war is a vital universal element that unites these vastly different contexts Although the centrality of the human body in war making was recognized in antiquity a body centric approach to combat has yet to be widely adopted in modern Classical Studies This collection brings together new research in ancient history classical literature material culture bioarchaeology and art history within a theoretical framework drawn from recent developments in War Studies that places the body front and centre The new perspectives it offers on brutality in battle the physical expression of warrior identity and post combat remembrance and recovery challenge readers to re assess and expand their existing ideas as part of a broader ongoing call to arms to revolutionize the study of ancient warfare in the 21st century Among Women Nancy Sorkin Rabinowitz, Lisa Auanger, 2009-06-03 Women s and men s worlds were largely separate in ancient Mediterranean societies and in consequence many women s deepest personal relationships were with other women Yet relatively little scholarly or popular attention has focused on women s relationships in antiquity in contrast to recent interest in the relationships between men in ancient Greece and Rome The essays in this book seek to close this gap by exploring a wide variety of textual and archaeological evidence for women s homosocial and homoerotic relationships from prehistoric Greece to fifth century CE Egypt Drawing on developments in feminist theory gay and lesbian studies and queer theory as well as traditional textual and art historical methods the contributors to this volume examine representations of women s lives with other women their friendships and sexual subjectivity They present new interpretations of the evidence offered by the literary works of Sappho Ovid and Lucian Bronze Age frescoes and Greek vase painting funerary reliefs and other artistic representations and Egyptian legal documents Paul and Seneca Among the Condemned James R. Unwin, 2024-10-08 Paul and Seneca Among the Condemned The Use of Spectacle in the Early Empire relocates the comparison of these two figures from the philosopher s lecture hall to the amphitheaters of Rome and Corinth The book explores the sites and images of spectacle that littered the landscapes of the ancient world By examining archaeological remains alongside the letters of Paul and Seneca James R Unwin recreates their exhibitions of spectacle imagery What we discover in viewing these provocative scenes from the grim world of the arena are suggestive responses to sovereign power and state terror Their responses open up space for us to think through the reproduction of new arenas in our present world Growing Up and Growing Old in Ancient Rome Mary Harlow, Ray Laurence, 2002-11-01 Throughout history every culture has had its own ideas on what growing up and growing old means with variations between chronological biological and social ageing and with different emphases on the critical stages and transitions from birth to death This volume is the first to highlight the role of age in determining behaviour and expectations of behaviour across the life span of an inhabitant of ancient Rome Drawing on developments in the social sciences as well as ancient evidence the authors focus on the period c 200BC AD200 looking at childhood the transition to adulthood maturity and old age They explore how both the individual and society were involved in and reacted to these different stages in terms of gender wealth and status and personal choice and empowerment
