Roman Philosophers:

Roman Philosophers Mark Morford, 2013-03-07 The philosophers of the Roman world were asking questions whose answers had practical effects on people's lives in antiquity and which still influence our thinking to this day. In spite of being neglected in the modern era, this important age of philosophical thought is now undergoing a revival of interest. Mark Morford's lively survey makes these recent scholarly developments accessible to a wide audience, examining the writings and ideas of both famous and lesser known figures from Cato the Censor in 155 BCE to Marcus Aurelius in 180 CE. Based around extensive and fully translated quotations from the philosophical texts of the era, full consideration is given throughout to historical, political, and cultural context.

Work and Wealth in Scripture Lawrence A. Clayton, 2015-02-06 What do you do with your money? What do you think of your boss? Do you like your work? Is it satisfying? Are you satisfied with your answers? Do you know that God through Scripture offers us answers? Two of the most fundamental challenges for all humankind are deciding how to live and if we accumulate riches, deciding how to use them. Did you know that God expects all humankind to work? For the Christian, all work is part of your Christian calling, whether you collect garbage for a living or sit in Washington deciding affairs of state. And what does Scripture have to say about riches? Did you know that Jesus directed more attention to the question of how to deal with wealth than just about any other subject he addressed during his three-year ministry? Join me in this short journey as we explore work and wealth in Scripture and seek answers to the above questions and others. We travel from the first work recorded in the Bible to our own time when leisure competes with work for our attention and wealth gives us a false sense of security that puts us in danger of replacing God with self.

Philosopher-Kings of Antiquity William Desmond, 2011-10-27 One of the most celebrated of Plato's ideas was that if human society was ever to function successfully, then philosophers would need to become kings or kings philosophers. In a perfect state, therefore, philosophic wisdom should be wedded to political power. In antiquity, who were or aspired to be philosopher-kings? What was their understanding of wisdom and the limits of knowledge? What influence have they had on periods beyond antiquity? This volume focuses on Plato and his contemporaries, Alexander the Great and his Hellenistic successors, Marcus Aurelius and the good emperors, Moses, Solomon, and early Hebrew leaders, and Julian the Apostate, the last of the pagans. In conclusion, it looks at the re-emergence of the Platonic ideal in important moments of European history, such as the Enlightenment. The theme of the philosopher-king is significant for Greco-Roman antiquity as a whole, and this work is unique in detailing the development of an idea through major periods of Greek and Roman history and beyond.

Deification and the Rule of Faith Daniel E. Wilson Ph.D., 2015-11-05 Evangelicals are often surprised or maybe even shocked whenever they encounter the early Church Fathers description of salvation in terms of deification divinization or apotheosis It was Athanasius the black dwarf the champion of Nicene orthodoxy who coined the phrase in his On the Incarnation God became man that man might become god Hundreds of years before Athanasius Irenaeus disciple of Polycarp disciple of the Apostle John wrote of Christs salvific provision for humanity using similar deification type concepts Why did these Church Fathers use such seemingly foreign biblical concepts Could it be that influential theologian Adolf Harnack is right and these church Fathers implementation of deification reveal that the gospel changed from what Jesus originally intended after being exposed to Hellenistic culture Not at all at least that is what this work argues It does so first by comparing an overall understanding of deification in both Athanasius and Irenaeus respective writings This section encompasses the first three chapters which exhibit how the Fathers use of deification is immersed in their respective descriptions of salvation history the Trinity and Christology Further this work assesses Harnacks proposal by comparing the Fathers respective descriptions of deification with that of many Greek and Roman philosophers Finally this work seeks to propose that both Irenaeus and Athanasius contextualize the gospel by comparing the Fathers respective descriptions of deification with their respective understandings of scriptural authority and the rule of faith
