Roman Realites Realismes:

Roman, réalités, réalistes Jean Bessière, 1989 Cette édition numérique a été réalisée à partir d'un support physique parfois ancien conservé au sein du département de la Bibliothèque nationale de France conformément à la loi n° 2012-287 du 1er mars 2012 relative à l'exploitation des livres indisponibles du XXe siècle. Il y a une critique anti-réaliste du réalisme comme il y a une lecture conventionnaliste du réalisme. Copyright Electre Pages debut Ouverture I II III The Seduction of Fiction

Jean-François Vernay, 2016-10-04 By meshing psychology with literary analysis this book inspires us to view the reading of fictional works as an emotional and seductive affair between reader and writer. Arguing that current teaching practices have contributed to the current decline in the study of literature Jean-François Vernay's plea brings a refreshing perspective by seeking new directions and conceptual tools to highlight the value of literature. Interdisciplinary in focus and relevant to timely discussions of the vitality between emotion and literary studies particularly within the contexts of psychology, affect studies and cognitive studies this book will open up a space in which the formation of our emotions can be openly examined and discussed. Diaries Real and Fictional in Twentieth-Century French Writing Sam Ferguson, 2018-03-09 This volume is the first study of the diary in French writing across the twentieth century as a genre which includes both fictional and non-fictional works. From the 1880s it became apparent to writers in France that their diaries, a supposedly private form of writing, would probably come to be published, strongly affecting the way their readers viewed their other published works and their very persona as an author. More than any other, André Gide embraced the literary potential of the diary: the first part of this book follows his experimentation with the diary in the fictional works Les Cahiers d'André Walter (1891) and Paludes (1895) in his diary of the composition of his great novel Le Journal des faux monnayeurs (1926) and in his monumental Journal (1889-1939). The second part follows developments in diary writing after the Second World War, inflected by radical changes in attitudes towards the writing subject. Raymond Queneau's works published under the pseudonym of Sally Mara (1947-1962) used the diary playfully at a time when the writing subject was condemned by the literary avant-garde. Roland Barthes's experiments with the diary (1977-1979) took it to the extremes of its formal possibilities at the point of a return of the writing subject. Annie Ernaux's published diaries (1993-2011) demonstrate the role of the diary in the modern field of life writing. Throughout the century the diary has repeatedly been used to construct an oeuvre and author, but also to call these fundamental literary concepts into question. Writing Realism Armine Kotin Mortimer, 2000 Each of these texts allows

Mortimer to explore how the mimetic illusion operates on readers both in French literature and in narrative as a genre. BOOK JACKET European Literary Immigration into the French Language Tijana Miletic, 2008-01-01 The critical, emotional and intellectual change which every immigrant is obliged to endure and confront is experienced with singular intensity by immigrant writers who have also adopted another language for their literary expression. Concentrating on European authors of the second half of the twentieth century who have chosen French as a language for their literary expression and in particular the novels by Romain Gary Agota Kristof Milan Kundera and Jorge Semprun with reference to many others European Literary Immigration into the French Language explores some of the common elements in these works of fiction which despite the varied personal circumstances and literary aesthetics of the authors follow a similar path in the building of a literary identity and legitimacy in the new language The choice of the French language is inextricably linked with the subsequent literary choices of these writers This study charts a new territory within Francophone and European literary studies in treating the European immigrants as a separate group and in applying linguistic sociological and psychoanalytical ideas in the analysis of the works of fiction and thus represents a relevant contribution to the understanding of European cultural identity This volume is relevant to French and European literature scholars and anyone with interest in immigration European identity or second language adoption

André Gide and Curiosity Victoria Reid, 2009-01-01 This comprehensive exploration of curiosity in the fiction and life writing of Andr Gide 1869 1951 is an important modernist contribution to the field of curiosity in literature and cultural studies more broadly Curiosity was a credo for Gide By observing the world and then manifesting in writing these observations he stimulates the curiosity of readers conceived as virtual conduits of a curiosity once his own Using a thematic structure of sexual scientific and writerly curiosity this volume identifies processes of curiosity in the life writing including the travel writing which illuminate processes in the fiction and vice versa Theories of fetishism gender and sexuality are applied to Gide s corpus to illustrate his championing of a masculine curiosity of enlightenment and adventure over a feminised curiosit d faillance of disobedience and harm and to explore objects eliciting his incuriosity Gide s creativity is nourished by his curiosity as close readings of his work informed by Melanie Klein s psychoanalytic writing on epistemophilia reveal Curiosity is a rewarding non reductionist perspective from which the exceptional variety of Gide s subject matter style and genre can be more coherently understood Research draws principally on the six Pl iade volumes of Gide s uvre published 1996 2009

Francophone Writing in Transition Peter Dunwoodie, 2005 In this volume Francophone Algerian writing is studied as the hesitant articulation of strategies of alternative representation and however modest of deviance as a form of resistance

Assembling the Lyric Self Olivia Holmes, 2000 As she moves from an overview to a consideration of particular authors including Guittone d Arezzo and Nicolo de Rossi and manuscripts she both demonstrates the narrative and structural subtlety of many of the works and reveals unsuspected phases in a gradual historical shift
