Landa, 2009-04-01 This book explores the emergence and significance of a Nietzschean heroic model in 20th century popular culture some notable examples of which are James Bond Tarzan and Hannibal Lecter Abject Spaces in American Cinema

Frances Pheasant-Kelly, 2013-05-21 American cinema abounds with films set in prisons asylums hospitals and other institutions Rather than orderly places of recovery and rehabilitation these institutional settings emerge as abject spaces of control and repression in which adult identity is threatened as a narrative impetus Exploring the abject through issues as diverse as racism mental illness or the preservation of bodies for organ donation thi book analyses a range of films including One Flew Over the Cuckoo s Nest 1975 The Shawshank Redemption 1994 Full Metal Jacket 1987 and Girl Interrupted 1999 through to cult films such as Carrie 1976 and Bubba Ho tep 2002 In these films locations of coherence and order become places where the internal and repressed aspects of the body individual and social threaten to overwhelm the individual Identity is compromised through harsh conditions extreme discipline the exertion of absolute control and above all the restriction of personal space Symbolically infantilised forced to reassess aspects of the adult the only escape is through violence the eponymous Carrie escapes from her cupboard for a massacre the women of Girl Interrupted mutilate and annihilate themselves and Kubrick s Gomer Pyle shoots sadistic patriarch Sergeant Hartman in the head By analysing scenes of horror and disgust within the context of abject space Frances Pheasant Kelly reveals how threats to identity manifest in scenes of torture horror and psychosexual repression and are resolved either through death or through traumatic re entry into the outside world Bringing together contemporary theoretical debates and critical disciplines Abject Spaces in American Cinema offers a coherent and meaningful analysis of institutional films and shows that the chaos of the abject space cannot be resolved only escaped This readable and engaging tour of the abject in the institution of film will be immensely valuable to students of Film Studies Critical Theory and Cultural Studies Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik,2019-08-13

Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods Philosophy, Crime, and Criminology Bruce A.

Arrigo,Christopher R. Williams,2010-10-01 Philosophy Crime and Criminology represents the first systematic attempt to unpack the philosophical foundations of crime in Western culture Utilizing the insights of ontology epistemology aesthetics and ethics contributors demonstrate how the reality of crime is informed by a number of implicit assumptions about the human condition and unstated values about civil society Charting a provocative and original direction editors Bruce A Arrigo and Christopher R Williams couple theoretically oriented chapters with those centered on application and case study In doing so they develop an insightful sensible and accessible approach for a philosophical criminology in step with the political and economic challenges of the twenty first century Revealing the ways in which philosophical conceits inform prevailing conceptions of crime Philosophy Crime and Criminology is required reading for any serious student or scholar concerned with crime and its impact on society and in our lives Casanova Was A Book Lover John Maxwell Hamilton,2000-04

Everyone knows which books people buy they can just look at the best seller lists But who knows which books people steal Who for that matter knows that authors ruin the book market by writing too much Or why book critics are not critical Or why librarians need to throw out more books Who indeed knows the answer to that all important question in our democracy should presidents and presidential candidates write books The answer is no In this irreverent analysis of the book industry

John Maxwell Hamilton a longtime journalist and public radio commentator answers these questions and many more proving that the best way to study books is not to take them too seriously He provides a rich history of the book from the days when monks laboriously hand copied texts to the tidal wave of Titanic tie ins and gives a succinct overview of the state of the industry today including writing marketing promoting reviewing ghostwriting and collecting Throughout Hamilton peppers his prose with spicy tidbits of information that will fascinate bibliophiles everywhere For instance did you know that Walt Whitman was fired from a government job because his boss found Leaves of Grass and its author immoral Or that the most stolen book in the United States is the Bible followed by The Joy of Sex How about that Dan Quayle s 1989 Christmas card read May our nation continue to be a beakon of hope to the world Or that Casanova was an ardent lover of books as well as women Hamilton offers an inside look at the history and business of book reviewing explaining why more often than not reviewers resemble counselors at a self esteem camp and examining the enormous impact of the Oprah effect on the market As the self appointed Emily Post of the book world he advises publishers authors and readers on proper etiquette for everything from book parties Feel free to build a party around a theme in a book no matter how tacky and jacket photos You should not show off your new baby unless your book is about raising kids to book signings Just because an author has given you an autograph does not mean they want to become your pen pal and promotion by friends and relatives They should carry the book at all times on public transportation with the cover showing Both edifying and enjoyable Casanova Was a Book Lover fills a Grand Canyon sized void in the literature on literature It is indispensable for book enthusiasts who want to know the naked truth about reading writing and publishing

Quentin Miller, 2005-10-04 As the United States prison population has exploded over the past 30 years a rich provocative and ever increasing body of literature has emerged written either by prisoners or by those who have come in close contact with them Unlike earlier prison writings contemporary literature moves in directions that are neither uniformly ideological nor uniformly political It has become increasingly personal and the obsessive subject is the way identity is shaped compromised altered or obliterated by incarceration The 14 essays in this work examine the last 30 years of prison literature from a wide variety of perspectives The first four essays examine race and ethnicity the social categories most evident in U S prisons The three essays in the next section explore gender a prominent subject of prison literature highlighted by the absolute separation of male and female inmates Section three provides three essays focused on the part ideology plays in prison writings The four essays in section four consider how aesthetics and language are used seeking to define the qualities of the literature and to determine some of the reasons it exists Crime, Fear and the Law in True Crime Stories Anita

Fall captive to the code the real life buccaneer bylaws that shaped every aspect of a pirate s life Pirates have long captured our imaginations with images of cutlass wielding swashbucklers eye patches and buried treasure But what was life really like on a pirate ship Piracy was a risky sometimes deadly occupation and strict orders were essential for everyone s survival These Laws were sets of rules that determined everything from how much each pirate earned from their plunder to compensation for injuries punishments and even the entertainment allowed on ships These rules became known as the Pirates Code which all pirates had to publicly swear by Using primary sources like eyewitness accounts trial proceedings and maritime logs this book explains how each one of the pirate codes was the key to pirates success in battle on sea and on land Criminals as Animals from

Harsh Justice James Q. Whitman, 2005-04-14 Criminal punishment in America is harsh and degrading more so than anywhere else in the liberal west Executions and long prison terms are commonplace in America Countries like France and Germany by contrast are systematically mild European offenders are rarely sent to prison and when they are they serve far shorter terms than their American counterparts Why is America so comparatively harsh In this novel work of comparative legal history James Whitman argues that the answer lies in America's triumphant embrace of a non hierarchical social system and distrust of state power which have contributed to a law of punishment that is more willing to degrade offenders
