Mahler's Conversion Ronald Harwood, 2001. I belong nowhere. Obsessed with power and fame, Gustav Mahler rejects his Jewish background and his friends with devastating consequences. Gustav Mahler, 1860–1911, a composer and conductor of passion and genius, was born in Bohemia and faced a lifetime of prejudice. I'm homeless. Not once but three times. First a native of Bohemia in Austria. Second, an Austrian among Germans. And third, a Jew in the rest of the world. But in 1897, in order to be granted the prestigious position of Director of the Vienna Court Opera, Mahler decided to convert to Catholicism. In time, however, as his world collapsed, he came to believe he was being made to pay a dreadful price for his ruthless ambition. Mahler's Conversion premièred at the Aldwych Theatre, London, in September 2001.

Biographical Plays About Famous Artists Daniel Meyer-Dinkgrafe, 2009-10-02. Since the late 1970s, more than 200 biographical plays about famous artists, composers, fine artists, poets, actors, etc. were written and staged in the United Kingdom. The book analyses the range of these plays, arguing that the dramatists often place the main artist character in an adverse situation: inward, e.g. mental illness, or outward, a personal enemy or an anonymous power such as war. Against the background of such adverse forces, the artist characters tend to come across as flawed human beings. At the same time, most plays take care to provide good insights into the artist's genius and their artistic integrity in the face of adversity. The book also addresses the question why there have been so many biographical plays about famous artists over the past twenty-five years, providing answers in the context of theatre history and developments across academic disciplines and society as a whole.

Anglo-German Theatrical Exchange, 2015-02-04. Through the great diversity of topics and methodologies, the essays in this volume make a seminal contribution to an under-researched field at the intersection of literary and cultural criticism, comparative literature, and theatre studies. The essays cover a wide range of texts from the eighteenth to the twenty-first century. From a broad variety of perspectives, the exchange between drama and theatre of the Anglophone and the Germanophone worlds and their mutual influence are explored. While there is a focus on the successful or unsuccessful bridging of the cultural gaps, due consideration is given to the nexus between intercultural translation and mise en scène, as well as the intricacies of intermedial reshaping. Always placing the analyses within the political and socio-historical contexts, the essays make an innovative contribution to the aesthetics of Anglo-German theatrical exchange, as well as to European cultural history.

Pinter's World William Baker, 2018-09-15 Pinter's World Pinter and Company is not a full scale biography but a series of illuminating chapters about Pinter's life character and thought employing new information found in his Appointment Diaries recent biographical sources such as Simon Gray's memoirs and Henry Woolf's reminiscences in addition to personal discussions with several in Pinter's world This book provides a fresh illumination of Pinter's life and art his friendships obsessions and concerns Material is arranged around themes key concerns Pinter's activities Pinter's meetings and endeavors for instance with whom he met and when when he wrote what and when and his perspective at the time are documented This work explores Pinter's writing drama poetry prose journalism and letters which are here regarded as part of his aesthetic achievement Pinter's World Pinter and Company presents a pointillist portrait of him through examining central concerns in his life These encompass an obsession with the theater and games delight in restaurants demonstrating that Pinter is far removed from the socially awkward isolated figures populating his early work and the women in Pinter's world Other areas examined include Pinter's political engagement from his adolescence to his last years and the literary and other creative influences upon him This work draws upon consultation of his papers at the British Library including letters to others especially close friends with whom he kept close contact for over half a century These letters should be regarded on par with his other creative accomplishments Pinter was a fascinating letter writer whose letters reveal thoughts at the time of writing often in abrupt most colorful idiomatic language His Appointment Diaries cannot reveal what actually occurred during his meetings but they do provide a guide to what he did on a daily basis and whom he met Memories from his friends his professional colleagues cricket players and his second wife Antonia Fraser illuminate Pinter's personality and actions Pinter's first literary love was poetry and unlike most other Pinter studies this one gives attention to his neglected poetic output that often reveals the real Pinter and the enigma that is at the heart of every great artist
