BodyDreaming in the Treatment of Developmental Trauma Marian Dunlea, 2019-04-24 Winner of the NAAP 2019 Gradiva Award Winner of the IAJS Book Award for Best Book published in 2019 Marian Dunlea's BodyDreaming in the Treatment of Developmental Trauma: An Embodied Therapeutic Approach provides a theoretical and practical guide for working with early developmental trauma. This interdisciplinary approach explores the interconnection of body, mind, and psyche, offering a masterful tool for restoring balance and healing developmental trauma. BodyDreaming is a somatically focused therapeutic method drawing on the findings of neuroscience, analytical psychology, attachment theory, and trauma therapy. In Part I, Dunlea defines BodyDreaming and its origins, placing it in the context of a dysregulated contemporary world. Part II explains how the brain works in relation to the BodyDreaming approach, providing an accessible outline of neuroscientific theory, structures, and neuroanatomy in attunement, affect regulation, attachment patterns, transference, and countertransference, and the resolution of trauma throughout the body. In Part III, through detailed transcripts from sessions with clients, Dunlea demonstrates the positive impact of BodyDreaming on attachment patterns and developmental trauma. This somatic approach complements and enhances psychobiological, developmental, and psychoanalytic interventions. BodyDreaming restores balance to a dysregulated psyche and nervous system, activating our innate capacity for healing, changing our default response of fight, flight, or freeze, and creating new neural pathways. Dunlea's emphasis on attunement to build a restorative relationship with the sensing body creates a core sense of self, providing a secure base for healing developmental trauma. Innovative and practical, and with a foreword by Donald E. Kalsched, BodyDreaming in the Treatment of Developmental Trauma: An Embodied Therapeutic Approach will be essential reading for psychotherapists, analytical psychologists, and therapists with a Jungian background, arts therapists, dance and movement therapists, and body workers interested in learning how to work with both body and psyche in their practices. The Sign of the Cat Lynne Jonell, 2015-06-16 Duncan eleven is very smart with the rare ability to speak Cat, but his mother has always insisted he appear only average, and when a perfect test score draws attention to him, he not only discovers the wisdom of his mother's rules, he finds himself crossing the seas on a quest for his true identity. Playwork Practice at the Margins Jennifer Cartmel, Rick Worch, 2020-11-26 Playwork Practice at the Margins explores the circumstances where playwork practice intersects with practice from diverse contexts and settings, encompassing disciplines such as health, education, early intervention, and community development. Each chapter focuses on a research project situated in a unique setting or space, such as zoos, hospitals, refuges, and rainforests. In these settings, the authors reflect on Playwork Principles and consider these in relation to the theory, research, design, and findings of their project. By presenting research from settings at the margins of traditional playwork, the authors use shared values and principles to consider the significance of playwork when embedded in
