Imagined Utopias in the Built Environment Anna Novakov, 2017-01-06 Beginning with the early history of London's Vauxhall pleasure gardens this volume surveys visionary architecture and urban planning from the 18th century to the present The recurrence of themes of technology individual agency and communal living in the work of Le Corbusier Eileen Gray Charles and Ray Eames and Constant Nieuwenhuys testifies to the continued search for an ideal personal and public space Inspired by works of fiction such as Utopia Herland Mizora World of Women and Homo Ludens and the films Metropolis and Stalker artists and architects created fantastic plans for individual homes housing complexes and entire urban centers The resulting projects discussed here manifest the modern anxiety between the liberation of the individual and the needs of the collective The urban landscape from the 18th to the 21st centuries has been woven into the fabric of architecture as a way to improve day to day life as well as to create personal identity within an expanding public world The seven chapter topics are arranged chronologically and begin with the design of social space in Georgian era pleasure gardens and conclude with a study of contemporary Utopian groups that utilize early literary references as a focus for their societies As such the book builds upon the understanding of technology and architecture in its many forms as a shared benchmark for the expansion of individual rights and the growth of Utopian ideas in modern European and American society

pervasive and in its individual incarnations compelling a reason to think again about the entangled histories of architecture and art

Surface Giuliana Bruno, 2014-06-09 What is the place of materiality the expression or condition of physical substance in our visual age of rapidly changing materials and media How is it fashioned in the arts or manifested in virtual forms In Surface cultural critic and theorist Giuliana Bruno deftly explores these questions seeking to understand materiality in the contemporary world Arguing that materiality is not a question of the materials themselves but rather the substance of material relations Bruno investigates the space of those relations examining how they appear on the surface of different media on film and video screens in gallery installations or on the skins of buildings and people The object of visual studies she contends goes well beyond the image and engages the surface as a place of contact between people and art objects As Bruno threads through these surface encounters she unveils the fabrics of the visual the textural qualities of works of art whether manifested on canvas wall or screen Illuminating the modern surface condition she notes how facades are becoming virtual screens and the art of projection is reinvented on gallery walls She traverses the light spaces of artists Robert Irwin James Turrell Tacita Dean and Anthony McCall touches on the textured surfaces of Isaac Julien's and Wong Kar wai's filmic screens and travels across the surface materiality in the architectural practices of Diller Scofidio Renfro and Herzog de Meuron to the art of Doris Salcedo and Rachel Whiteread where the surface tension of media becomes concrete In performing these critical operations on the surface she articulates it as a site in which different forms of mediation memory and transformation can take place Surveying object relations across art architecture fashion design film and new media Surface is a magisterial account of contemporary visual culture
