Martin Luther's 95 Theses Martin Luther, 2014-03-05 The Ninety Five Theses were written by Martin Luther in 1517 and are widely regarded as the initial catalyst for the Protestant Reformation The disputation protests against clerical abuses especially the sale of indulgences The background to Luther's Ninety Five Theses centers on practices within the Catholic Church regarding baptism and absolution Significantly the Theses reject the validity of indulgences remissions of temporal punishment due for sins which have already been forgiven They also view with great cynicism the practice of indulgences being sold and thus the penance for sin representing a financial transaction rather than genuine contrition Luther argues that the sale of indulgences was a gross violation of the original intention of confession and penance and that Christians were being falsely told that they could find absolution through the purchase of indulgences Luther objected to a saying attributed to Johann Tetzel that As soon as the coin in the

coffer rings the soul from purgatory springs He insisted that since forgiveness was God's alone to grant those who claimed that indulgences absolved buyers from all punishments and granted them salvation were in error Christians he said must not slacken in following Christ on account of such false assurances Martin Luther's 95 Theses Martin Luther, Kurt Aland, 1967 Did Martin Luther wield his hammer on the Wittenberg church door on October 31 1517 Did he even post the Ninety five Theses at all This collection of documents sheds light on the debate surrounding Luther's actions and the timing of his writing and his request for a disputation on the indulgence issue The primary documents in this book include the theses their companion sermon A Sermon on Indulgence and Grace 1518 a chronological arrangement of letters pertinent to the theses and selections from Luther's Table Talk that address the Ninety five Theses A final section contains Luther's recollections which offer today's reader the reformer's own views of the Reformation and the Ninety five Theses Disputation on the Power of Indulgences Martin Luther, 2018-04-02 The Ninety five Theses or Disputation on the Power of Indulgences are a list of propositions for an academic disputation written in 1517 by Martin Luther professor of moral theology at the University of Wittenberg Germany that started the Reformation a schism in the Catholic Church which profoundly changed Europe They advance Luther's positions against what he saw as the abuse of the practice of clergy selling plenary indulgences which were certificates believed to reduce the temporal punishment for sins committed by the purchasers or their loved ones in purgatory In the Theses Luther claimed that the repentance required by Christ in order for sins to be forgiven involves inner spiritual repentance rather than merely external sacramental confession He argued that indulgences led Christians to avoid true repentance and sorrow for sin believing that they could forgo it by purchasing an indulgence
