Mabacre Of Truth:

Katyn and the Soviet Massacre of 1940 George Sanford, 2007-05-07 The Soviet massacre of Polish prisoners of war at Katyn and in other camps in 1940 was one of the most notorious incidents of the Second World War The truth about the massacres was long suppressed both by the Soviet Union and also by the United States and Britain who wished to hold together their wartime alliance with the Soviet Union This informative book examines the details of this often overlooked event shedding light on what took place especially in relation to the massacres at locations other than Katyn itself It discusses how the truth about the killings was hidden how it gradually came to light and why the memory of the massacres has long affected Polish Russian relations

The Aftermath of the Cassinga Massacre Vilho Shigwedha, 2017-04-03 It took the former South African Defence Force SADF less than four hours to kill more than eight hundred Namibian refugees at Cassinga on May 4 1978 Thousands of survivors were left with irreparable physical and emotional injuries The unhealed trauma of Cassinga a Namibian civilian camp in southern Angola before the massacre is beyond the worst that the victims of the attack experienced on the ground Unacceptable layers of pain and suffering continue to grow and multiply as the victims grievances and other issues arising out of the aftermath of the massacre have been ignored particularly following Namibia's political independence In this book the afterlife of the victims traumatic memories and their aspiration for justice vis vis the perpetrators enjoyment of blanket impunity from prosecution in spite of their ongoing denial of killing and maiming innocent civilians at Cassinga are explored with the aim to create public awareness about the unfortunate circumstances of the Cassinga victims

The Syrian Information and Propaganda War Ben Cole, 2022-02-22 This book focuses on the propaganda war between the Syrian government and the opposition movement which excludes the Islamic State and the Kurdish led SDF Drawing on international relations psychology and media studies the book encourages readers to question the dominant discourse on the war The core of the book outlines the propaganda battles over the main paradigms and narratives that framed the war exploring the shortcomings of those paradigms and narratives identifying who won the propaganda war and why and assessing what impact it had on the military side of the war In particular it focuses on the role of cognitive bias amongst primary and secondary sources in determining the outcome of the propaganda war and whether the influence of this propaganda is best explained by effects or limited effects theory Through explaining the dynamics of the propaganda war the book encourages readers to critically question the dominant discourse on the war assists them in understanding primary and secondary reporting on the war and shows that the impact of the propaganda war is best understood in terms of limited effects theory The book's main findings are that i the opposition won the international propaganda war but failed to win the propaganda war inside Syria ii propaganda had relatively little effect on shaping attitudes either inside Syria or internationally instead its main effect was to reinforce attitudes that had already been shaped by other factors and iii the reality of the war lies between the conflicting paradigms and narratives being promoted by each side

The Deaths of Others John Tirman,2011-05-15 Americans are greatly concerned about the number of our troops killed in battle 33 000 in the Korean War 58 000 in Vietnam 4 500 in Iraq and rightly so But why are we so indifferent often oblivious to the far greater number of casualties suffered by those we fight and those we fight for This is the compelling largely unasked question John Tirman answers in The Deaths of Others Between six and seven million people died in Korea Vietnam and Iraq alone the majority of them civilians And yet Americans devote little attention to these deaths Other countries however do pay attention and Tirman argues that if we want to understand why there is so much anti Americanism around the world the first place to look is how we conduct war We understandably strive to protect our own troops but our rules of engagement with the enemy are another matter From atomic weapons and carpet bombing in World War II to napalm and daisy cutters in Vietnam and beyond our weapons have killed large numbers of civilians and enemy soldiers Americans however are mostly ignorant of these methods believing that American wars are essentially just necessary and good Trenchant and passionate The Deaths of Others forces readers to consider the tragic consequences of American military action not just for Americans but especially for those we fight against

Witnessing Torture Alexandra S. Moore,Elizabeth Swanson,2018-06-11 This book demonstrates a new interdisciplinary approach to life writing about torture that situates torture firmly within its socio political context as opposed to extending the long line of representations written in the idiom of the proverbial dark chamber By dismantling the rhetorical divide that typically separates survivors suffering from human rights workers expertise contributors engage with the personal professional and institutional dimensions of torture and redress Essays in this volume consider torture from diverse locations the Philippines Argentina Sudan and Guantamo among others From across the globe contributors witness both individual pain and institutional complicity the challenges of building communities of healing across linguistic and national divides and the role of the law art writing and
