

Managing Innovation and Change

Future Vision

Define and rally around a compelling vision for the future state.

- What potentially threatens this vision?
- How urgent is the change?
- What risks occur if the organization does not change?
- How will you know when we get there?

Create Awareness

Present the facts and findings to create awareness and convince employees to buy-in for the change initiative. These facts could include

- flat earnings
- rising costs
- decreasing market share,
- other relevant key indicators

Resistance

Identify the key resistance issues and stakeholders impacted by the change and address them. Be prepared to deal with emotional and political issues.

Urgency

Create a compelling vision and an urgency for change. This moves people out from their comfort zones to a behavior change.

Managing Innovation and Change Sven B. Lundstedt, Thomas H. Moss, 2013-03-14 Technological innovations as well as the social innovations needed to provide adequate support systems for them are among the important foundations for economic and industrial growth in the world today Consequently the discussions in this important volume of the emerging sociotechnical trends in various industries around the world are highly instructive and timely We can learn much of value from others around the world who are facing similar problems of economic and industrial development Sociotechnical innovation requires a global setting to be fully understood and appreciated because so much new economic activity that serves the economy of the United States as well as the economies of other countries is found in other parts of the world including not only manufacturing innovations but innovations in the service industries For all of our economic self interests we need to view innovation globally Sociotechnical innovation is linked with the successful development of cutting edge technologies such as ultra large scale integrated electronic systems new larger computers the myria process systems in computing architecture that use thousands of processors new biochemical solutions in high cost feedstock applications of genetic engineering to crop improvement and biotechnological improvements in the pharmaceutical industries There are also developments in the materials field new fiber reinforced plastics rapid solidification technologies new polymers and ceramics And there are advances in air transport technologies that may replace current technologies 1

Managing Innovation Joseph Tidd, J. R. Bessant, Keith Pavitt, 1997-06-26 Technologies are increasingly complex and expensive markets are more competitive and products and services more difficult to differentiate In such an environment organizations achieve competitive advantage through innovation They must approach innovation in its broadest sense including technological development marketing strategies and new work practices The corporate capacity for continuous change must be dramatically increased Management must understand how to translate new technologies and market opportunities into successful products and services The scope of this book is unique It seeks to integrate the fields of technological market and organizational innovation Based on European Asian and American best practice experience and the latest research in management Managing Innovation demonstrates that it is no longer sufficient to focus on a single dimension of innovation Instead it takes an integrative and holistic approach to the management of innovation It does this by the use of three key themes the identification and development of core competencies the constraints imposed by different technologies and markets and the structures and processes for organizational learning The use of these themes provides managers with the knowledge to understand and the skills to exploit innovation at both strategic and operational levels Designed for MBA and MSc courses in the management of technology and innovation Managing Innovation will also be relevant to managers at all levels in both manufacturing and service sectors
