in Higher Education William Locke, William K. Cummings, Donald Fisher, 2011-06-01 External drivers are pressing for a more privatized approach to higher education and research a greater reliance on technology and the more efficient use of resources This book analyzes recent changes in institutional governance and management in higher education and their impact on the academy and academic work It draws on findings from an international study based on a survey of academics in eighteen countries It opens with a chapter outlining the key issues drivers and challenges that inform contemporary discourse around academic work and the profession in general It then focuses on national case studies comparing changes in the top tier with the lower tiers of national systems public and private institutions and other differentiating factors appropriate in each country which include mature and emerging higher education systems It concludes by proposing a series of generalizations about the contemporary status of governance and management of institutions of higher education

Managing Technology in Higher Education A. W. (Tony) Bates, Albert Sangra, 2011-04-08 Universities continue to struggle in their efforts to fully integrate information and communications technology within their activities Based on examination of current practices in technology integration at 25 universities worldwide this book argues for a radical approach to the management of technology in higher education It offers recommendations for improving governance strategic planning integration of administrative and teaching services management of digital resources and training of technology managers and administrators The book is written for anyone wanting to ensure technology is integrated as effectively and efficiently as possible Managing Sustainable Performance and Governance in Higher Education Institutions Federico Cosenz, 2022-05-23 The fast changing evolutionary process of global Higher Education systems systematically poses new challenges related to the appearance of innovative elements that lead academic governing bodies to question current managerial structures and methods Due to this theory and practice have gathered multiple contributions and experiences to support and further develop this evolutionary pathway during the past decades Global competitiveness economic and social growth are driven worldwide by knowledge and innovation In this context Higher Education Institutions play a crucial role as they primarily contribute to knowledge transfer and development and as a result foster regional development employment and economic wealth The relevance of this role leads Universities to explore alternative solutions for managing their performance according to a sustainable perspective This book draws on this flourishing debate on Higher Education policy and management and investigates an innovative systemic perspective to design and implement sustainable performance management systems for academic institutions The conditions for the success of Universities the critical issues underlying the creation of academic value the dynamic complexity characterizing academic governance settings the pluralistic audience of stakeholders and related expectations the causal interplays between organizational performance variables represent some of the central themes around which this work is developed More specifically the book suggests and discusses the adoption of a Dynamic Performance Management approach to frame the inherent organizational complexity of Higher Education Institutions thus supporting a strategic learning perspective to design and implement relevant performance measures This approach originates from the combination between conventional performance management and System Dynamics modeling Many research and practice contributions prove that this methodological combination can boost the understanding and interpretation of value creation processes by identifying and exploring the causal connections amongst strategic resource allocation and consumption corresponding performance drivers emerging outputs and outcomes To test the effectiveness of this approach in University settings a wide range of examples is offered in each book chapter This allows readers to explore the advantages limitations and practical implications of adopting Dynamic Performance Management in Higher Education Institutions as well as guide academic decision makers towards a more robust approach to design and implement strategic management mechanisms in Universities and policymakers Published annually since 1985 Talent Management in Higher Education Marian Thunnissen,Paul Boselie,2024-05-21 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access and freely available to read online This short book aims to present an overview of empirical research on Talent Management and offers an integrated model that addresses the full nature and scope of TM in practice Total Quality Management in Higher Education Frank Chika Okechukwu,2011-02-25 If you want to improve quality save money and provide better services to your customers this book is for you Higher Education Management and Policy, Volume 17 Issue 3 Special Issue on Entrepreneurship OECD,2005-12-16 This special issue of Higher Education Management and Policy features seven articles on entrepreneurship in universities The Changing Dynamics of Higher Education Middle Management V. Lynn Meek,Leo Goedegebuure,Rui Santiago,Teresa Carvalho,2010-07-16 Known as either soft or hard managerialism new managerialism or new public management this new narrative has irrespective of moniker permeated the institutions of higher education almost everywhere Taking this as its context this volume is founded on a comprehensive international comparative analysis of the evolving role of middle level academic managers deans heads of department and their equivalents The chapters address key questions that will determine the future of academe have the imperatives of management theory caused a realignment of the values and expectations of middle level academic managers In what way do the new expectations placed on this group shape the academic profession as a whole And whose interests do middle level academic managers represent Based on material presented at one of the high level Douro Seminars on research into tertiary education this volume systematically combines theoretical views with empirical analysis It argues that managerialist pressure has resulted in changes in the way academic performance is measured There has been a shift in criteria away from research reputation teaching and scholarship to the measurement of performance based upon management capacities This has given middle level academic managers a pivotal role halfway between the predilections of high level decision makers and the maintenance of academic values and control The enhanced expectations and more defined functions of middle level academic managers are in clear contrast to earlier times when the position was considered a public spirited rite of passage for career minded academics Despite this the contributors to this book believe that the middle level managers in the ten countries examined are neither corporate lackeys nor champions of academe It is becoming increasingly clear that the ability of organisations to achieve their aims is largely dependent on the skill and dedication of middle managers Past studies of organisational dynamics have been preoccupied with the executive level of management This text which will be of great interest to researchers and policy makers alike attempts to redress the balance Handbook on Higher Education Management and Governance Alberto Amaral,António Magalhães,2023-10-06 This ground breaking Handbook examines the evolution of university autonomy and governance by tracking the changing relationship between higher education institutions and the state Through unique historical analyses contributors provide important insights into the position of students academics and universities in today's society and map potential future directions of travel for the sector Higher Education, Fiscal Administration, and Budgeting Gabriel R. Serna, Spencer C. Weiler, 2016-08-09 This book takes an applied approach to budgeting and fiscal administration in higher education. It presents new and aspiring leaders in higher education and student affairs with the fundamental knowledge and skills to supervise, analyze, and implement budgets that make the best and most effective use of limited resources. By exploring the foundational elements of fiscal administration and outlining the process step by step, this text carefully takes leaders through real world examples and includes myriad opportunities for application. Indeed, a major goal of this text is to provide readers with a set of technical skills that can be applied across a range of contexts. Our expectation is that current and future higher education and student affairs leaders will find this text invaluable in their day to day work and that the material presented here will help them engage in fruitful decisions around the allocation of scarce resources. Reshaping Accounting and Management Control Systems Katia Corsi, Nicola Giuseppe Castellano, Rita Lamboglia, Daniela Mancini, 2017-03-21 This book examines the relationship between digital innovations on the one hand and accounting and management information systems on the other. In particular, it addresses topics including cloud computing, data mining, XBRL, and digital platforms. It presents an analysis of how new technologies can reshape accounting and management information systems, enhancing their information potentialities and their ability to support decision making processes, as well as several studies that reveal how managerial information needs can affect and reshape the adoption of digital technologies. Focusing on the four major aspects: data management, information system architecture, external and internal reporting, the book offers a valuable resource for CIOs, CFOs, and more generally for business managers, as well as for researchers and scholars. It is mainly based on a selection of the best papers, original double blind reviewed contributions presented at the 2015 Annual Conference of the Italian Chapter of the Association for Information Systems AIS. Handbook of Research on Quality Assurance and Value Management in Higher Education Nuninger, Walter, Châtelet, Jean-Marie, 2016-03-21 The management of quality and sustainability in higher education institutions ensures that proper standards are maintained. Such enforced standardization allows for the highest caliber of training opportunities for various fields and disciplines. The Handbook of Research on Quality Assurance and Value Management in Higher Education is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly research on quality management and assurance programs and standards in college level environments. Highlighting global perspectives on academic and professional learning, this book is ideally designed for researchers, policy makers, practitioners, and professionals actively involved in the field of higher education. Coming in from the Margins Connie Schroeder, 2023-07-03 Why is it critical for faculty development centers to reexamine their core mission today? The core argument of this book is that a necessary and significant role change is underway in faculty development: a call for centers to merge the traditional responsibilities and services of the past several decades with a leadership role as organizational developers Failing collectively to define and outline the dimensions and expertise of this new role puts centers at risk of not only marginalization but of dissolution When a TLC is busy and in demand it is hard to believe that it may be despite all the activity and palpable array of daily outcomes institutionally marginalized The actual and increasing potential of marginalization and center closings may help motivate this field to recognize the danger of complacency or remaining stuck in an old paradigm that exclusively defines itself as instructional development or supportive service Proposing a newly defined organizational development role for academic and faculty developers and directors of teaching and learning centers Coming in from the Margins examines how significant involvement in broader institutional change initiatives is becoming a critical aspect of this work Although undefined and unrecognized as a significant dimension of this work the organizational development role increasingly demanded of developers is far more attuned with the demand for change facing higher education than ever before The book provides evidence based research into what directors of centers are currently doing as organizational developers and how they shape influence and plan institutional initiatives that intersect with teaching and learning Directors of centers their supervisors and leaders in the field provide models from a wide range of institutional contexts as well as the strategies they have employed to successfully engage in significant organizational development They also demonstrate how they handled the challenges that ensued The strategies in each chapter provide a practical resource and guide for re examining the mission and structure of existing centers or for designing new centers of teaching and learning and most importantly to develop their role as change agents The book covers such topics as Center mission statements Center staffing Center advisory boards committee involvement unique expertise knowledge and skills embedding Centers in strategic planning Center vision organizational change processes collaboration and partnerships institutional priorities and initiatives relationships with upper administration
