Defence equipment 2010 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee,2010-03-04 The ability of the Defence Equipment and Support organisation within the Ministry of Defence MoD to deliver the equipment programme is overshadowed by the existence of a funding gap which the NAO estimates could be as much as 36 billion over the next ten years Both the National Audit Office Major Projects Report 2009 HC 85 I session 2009 10 ISBN 9780102963342 and Bernard Gray s Review of Acquisition for the MoD have confirmed that the MoD s ten year equipment programme is unaffordable Furthermore the MoD s practice of delaying projects so as to reduce costs in the early years of a programme is adding to overall procurement costs and so further increases the funding gap The MoD has apparently made no attempt to calculate the full extent of the costs of delays and it has taken decisions to delay projects without understanding the full implications of those decisions The report examines progress on the many key programmes defence research spending declining from 540 million in 2007 08 to 471 million in 2009 10 and will decrease further in 2010 11 to 439 million the response to and implementation of the Gray report balancing the equipment programme and the use of regular Strategic Defence Reviews to maintain an up to date strategic context for the equipment programme clarifying roles and accountabilities including better

The False Traitor Albert Raimundo Braz,2003-01-01 The nineteenth century M tis politician and mystic Louis Riel has emerged as one of the most popular and elusive figures in Canadian culture Since his hanging for treason in 1885 the self declared David of the New World has been depicted variously as a traitor to Confederation a French Canadian and Catholic martyr a bloodthirsty rebel a pan American liberator a pawn of shadowy white forces a Prairie political maverick a First Nations hero an alienated intellectual a victim of Western industrial progress and even a Father of Confederation Albert Braz synthesizes the available material by and about Riel including film sculpture and cartoons as well as literature in French and English and analyzes how an historical figure could be portrayed in such contradictory ways In light of the fact that most aesthetic representations of Riel bear little resemblance not only to one another but also to their purported model Braz suggests that they reveal less about Riel than they do about their authors and the society to which they belong The most comprehensive treatment of the representations of Louis Riel in Canadian literature The False Traitor will be a seminal work in the study of this popular Canadian figure
