The Southern Review Albert Taylor Bledsoe, Sophia M'Ilvaine Bledsoe Herrick, 1870      Protest and Possibility in the Writing of Tillie Olsen Mara Faulkner, 1993 Tillie Olsen's fiction and nonfiction portray with all their harsh contours the lives of people who cannot speak for themselves or whose words have been forgotten or ignored Olsen's writing is neither serene nor despairing In this sensitive thematic reading Mara Faulkner shows that its most subversive function is the assertion that human life can be other than and more than it is Olsen's promise of full creative life aims to make her readers forever dissatisfied with physical emotional and intellectual starvation Faulkner finds in Olsen's writing a triple layered pattern combining protest against oppression blight celebration of courage and strength fruit and the heartening dream of a radically transformed future world possibility She focuses on four of Olsen's main themes motherhood the relationship between men and women community and language and shows how because of social and economic circumstances potentially creative tensions become destructive contradictions motherhood stifles women's lives patriarchy and poverty turn men into enemies of women and children communities force their members into betrayal and language distorts or erases human experience Olsen reveals according to Faulkner the overlapping oppressions of class race gender nationality education and age that both link people and set them apart Yet she refuses to exalt suffering and deprivation In this comprehensive examination of a literature of social consciousness Faulkner approaches Olsen's works within their historical social and political contexts without treating them as propaganda In fact she shows that it is Olsen's compressed poetic style that gives her writing its revolutionary power She illuminates both the author's individual talent and the traditions in which her works were created traditions of women writers of color writers of the working class and writers who were immigrants or children of immigrants

Richard Wagner: Die Meistersinger Von Nürnberg John Warrack, 1994-09-08 Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg is Wagner's only mature comedy and one of the richest and most profound in the history of music This book presents an informative and stimulating study of an opera that occupies a particular place in music lovers' affections yet always has more to reveal John Warrack traces the evolution of the work from plans for a light comic opera through all the drafts and the literary influences on them into the eventual comedy and he then studies the music in depth He also gives an account of what Wagner found in the historical Mastersingers and their music Lucy Beckett explores the influence of Schopenhauer on the work and examines the complexity of its expressive methods Michael Tanner suggests new ways of interpreting the opera's inner and outer worlds There is a history of significant productions by Patrick Carnegie The volume includes a full synopsis bibliography and three appendices

Tillie Olsen and the Dialectical Philosophy of Proletarian Literature Anthony Dawahare, 2018-10-19 Contrary to previous studies of Tillie Olsen's writing Tillie Olsen and the Dialectical Philosophy of Proletarian Literature analyzes the impact of one of the most important philosophies of the last century dialectical materialism on the form and content of Olsen's fiction By revealing the unconceptualized dialectics of Olsen's work and its appreciation by scholars and casual readers this study achieves a dialectical synthesis that incorporates and extends the insights of and about Olsen in terms of dialectical materialism By foregrounding Olsen s dialectical approach it explains and largely resolves apparent contradictions between her Marxism and feminism her depictions of class race and gender the literature of her earlier and later periods and her use of realist and modernist literary forms and techniques Consequently this project makes a case for the importance of Olsen s Marxist education during the Red Decade of the 1930s and within the U S proletarian literary movement
