Of Lands, Legends, & Laughter Carolyn Bennett Patterson, 1998 Whether building a hut in Haiti tracing Robert Louis Stevenson's footsteps in France venturing into the interior of Tasmania or bringing reports of Churchill's funeral to the world Carolyn Bennett Patterson's story is one of a remarkable woman Presenting America's World Tamar Y.

Rothenberg, 2016-12-05 National Geographic magazine is probably the most visible and popular expression of geography in the USA Presenting America's World presents a critical analysis of the world portrayed by National Geographic from its formative years in the nineteenth century through to 1945 It situates the National Geographic Society's development within the context of a new American overseas expansionism interrogates the magazine as America's ubiquitous source of wholesome exotica and erotica examines the ways in which it framed the world for its millions of readers and questions its participation in the cultural work of US global hegemony The book argues that National Geographic successfully employed strategies of innocence a contradictory stance of representation which simultaneously asserts innocence either the innocence of just watching or the innocence of altruistic behaviour while naturalizing Western hegemony Presenting America's World not only considers the world that National Geographic presented to its readers but also examines the magazine's own institutional world of writers photographers and editors Particular attention is paid to Gilbert H Grosvenor the magazine's editor for over 50 years Maynard Owen Williams a writer and photographer who worked on nearly 100 articles from 1919 to 1960 and Harriet Chalmers Adams a freelancer explorer and Pan American activist who contributed 21 articles Heading

Out Terence Young, 2017-06-06 Who are the real campers Through hiking backpackers traversing the Appalachian Trail The family in an SUV making a tour of national parks and sleeping in tents at campgrounds People committed to the RV lifestyle who move their homes from state to state as season and whim dictate Terence Young would say all of the above Camping is one of the country's most popular pastimes tens of millions of Americans go camping every year Whether on foot on horseback or in RVs campers have been enjoying themselves for well more than a century during which time camping's appeal has shifted and evolved In Heading Out Young takes readers into nature and explores with them the history of camping in the United States Young shows how camping progressed from an impulse among city dwellers to seek temporary retreat from their exhausting everyday surroundings to a form of recreation so popular that an industry grew up around it to provide an endless supply of ever lighter and more convenient gear Young humanizes camping's history by spotlighting key figures in its development and a sampling of the campers and the variety of their excursions Readers will meet William H H Murray who launched a craze for camping in 1869 Mary Bedell who car camped around America for 12 000 miles in 1922 William Trent Jr who struggled to end racial segregation in national park campgrounds before World War II and Carolyn Patterson who worked with the U S Department of State in the 1960s and 1970s to introduce foreign service personnel to the real America through trailer camping These and many additional characters give readers a reason to don a headlamp pull up a chair beside the campfire and discover the invigorating and refreshing history of sleeping under the stars
