Of People And Things:

Writing the Lives of People and Things, AD 500-1700 Dr Gemma L. Watson, Dr Robert F.W. Smith, 2016-01-28

Historical biography has a mixed reputation at its best it can reveal much not only about an individual but the wider context of their life and society at worst it can result in a narrowly focused work of hagiography or condemnation Yet in spite of its sometimes inferior status amongst academics biography has remained a popular genre and in recent years has developed into new and intriguing areas As the essays in this volume reveal scholars from an array of different disciplines have embraced what biography can offer them expanding the remit of biography from people to things tracing the life of their chosen object from creation to use to disposal to rediscovery The increasing concern with the physicality of manuscripts and books has also meant an awareness of and interest in the lives of these forms of material culture Historians have also become increasingly interested in groups of individuals resulting in prosopographical studies A book on the diversity of biography is therefore very timely exploring the multi disciplinary application of historical biography in the period 500 1700 It presents fourteen case studies offering new approaches to historical biography written by early career researchers from backgrounds in archaeology English art architectural history and history demonstrating different approaches and techniques Overall the collection is a strong and united statement by a group of early career researchers who insist on the vitality of biography as a central concern of historians across the disciplines of the humanities Contributors believe that the life is a fundamental medium of study for the medieval and early modern periods and thus bolsters the move back towards biography as a primary tool of medieval and early modern scholars as well as a tool for future research for humanities scholars interested in biography

Analysis for Managers of People and Things Ivon W. Ulrey, 1973 People and Things from the Cullman, Alabama, Tribune 1927 - 1932 Robin Sterling, 2019-01-05 By the turn of the 20th Century Cullman was firmly established as the preeminent settlement in the hill country between the Tennessee Valley and the mineral region surrounding Birmingham The Cullman Alabama Tribune continued to record news of the development of the city county and surrounding region As with the first four books of this series microfilm was obtained from the State Archives in Montgomery and Wallace College at Hanceville and reviewed but the originals from the Cullman County Court House was the primary source A page by page examination of the film and originals was conducted with every birth death marriage obituary and some news items important to the history and development of Cullman County was recorded This book is important to any genealogist or historian with connections to Cullman County and contains many rare accounts and mentions of the earliest settlers of the region

Essays on Marx's Theory of Value Isaak Ilyich Rubin, 2025-02-20 This book is an English translation of Essays on Marx's Theory of Value first published by Isaak Illich Rubin in 1923 in the Soviet Union Rubin's book sparked a fierce value controversy with contemporary Soviet economists during the late 1920s As such the present translation is conceived as a variorum edition including for the first time in English all the essential supplementary materials related to this foundational work in Marx's value theory In addition to Rubin's main work this edition includes his four most important related publications as well as ten debate articles written and published by his contemporary proponents and opponents
