Encyclopedia of Television Horace Newcomb, 2014-02-03 The Encyclopedia of Television second edition is the first major reference work to provide description history analysis and information on more than 1100 subjects related to television in its international context For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclopedia of Television 2nd edition website

Prime-Time Authorship Douglas Heil, 2002-03-01 Designed to inspire the fledgling scriptwriter this book combines analytical essays on the work of three successful television writers with interviews and complete scripts printed in correct professional format The writers Marion Hargrove Maverick The Waltons Joseph Dougherty thirtysomething and Michael Kozoll Hill Street Blues are used as examples of professionals who developed a personal voice and a distinctive style while serving as staff writers for existing prime time television programs Douglas Heil theorizes that students of television scriptwriting need to engage in close study of exemplary and the three full scripts he offers a re useful models of humane and entertaining drama The book is of value not only to aspiring scriptwriters but also to those readers with a general interest in media history

Fifties Television William Boddy, 1993 Just a few years in the mid 1950s separated the golden age of television s live anthology drama from Newton Minow s famous vast wasteland pronouncement Fifties Television shows how the significant programming changes of the period cannot be attributed simply to shifting public tastes or the exhaustion of particular program genres but underscore fundamental changes in the way prime time entertainment programs were produced sponsored and scheduled These changes helped shape television as we know it today William Boddy provides a wide ranging and rigorous analysis of the fledgling American television industry during the period of its greatest economic growth programming changes and critical controversy He carefully traces the development of the medium from the experimental era of the 1920s and 1930s through the regulatory battles of the 1940s and the network programming wars of the 1950s

Seeing It on Television Max Sexton, Dominic Lees, 2021-03-25 Seeing It on Television Televisuality in the Contemporary US High end Series investigates new categories of high end drama and explores the appeal of programmes from Netflix Sky Atlantic HBO National Geographic FX and Cinemax An investigation of contemporary US Televisuality provides insight into the appeal of upscale programming beyond facts about its budget high production values and or feature cinematography Rather this book focuses on how the construction of meaning often relies on cultural discourse production histories as well as on tone texture or performance which establishes the locus of engagement and value within the series Max Sexton and Dominic Lees discuss how complex production histories lie behind the rise of the US high end series a form that reflects industrial changes and the renegotiation of formal strategies They reveal how the involvement of many different people in the production process based on new relationships of creative authority complicates our understanding of original content This affects the construction of stylistics and the viewing strategies required by different shows The cultural as well as industrial strategies of recent television drama are explored in The Young Pope The Knick Stranger Things Mars Fargo

The Leftovers Boardwalk Empire and Vinyl Channels of Discourse, Reassembled Robert Allen, 2010-01-27 Since its original publication in 1987 Channels of Discourse has provided the most comprehensive consideration of commercial television drawing on insights provided by the major strands of contemporary criticism semiotics narrative theory reception theory genre theory ideological analysis psychoanalysis feminist criticism and British cultural studies The second edition features a new introduction by Robert Allen that includes a discussion of the political economy of commercial television Two new essays have been added one an assessment of postmodernism and television the other an analysis of convergence and divergence among the essays and the original essays have been substantially revised and updated with an international audience in mind Sixty one new television stills illustrate the text Each essay lays out the general tenets of its particular approach discusses television as an object of analysis within that critical framework and provides extended examples of the types of analysis produced by that critical approach Case studies range from Rescue 911 and Twin Peaks to soap operas music videos game shows talk shows and commercials Channels of Discourse Reassembled suggests new ways of understanding relationships among television programs between viewing pleasure and narrative structure and between the world in front of the television set and that represented on the screen The collection also addresses the qualities of popular television that traditional aesthetics and quantitative media research have failed to treat satisfactorily including its seriality mass production and extraordinary popularity The contributors are Robert C Allen Jim Collins Jane Feuer John Fiske Sandy Flitterman Lewis James Hay E Ann Kaplan Sarah Kozloff Ellen Seiter and Mimi White Television Program Master Index Charles V. Dintone, 1996 Television history has become one of the hottest areas of research in popular culture Because the field is relatively new and so wide ranging no matter what one is researching much of the relevant material will be found scattered through numerous other works frustrating scholarly progress This work makes the television researcher's job easier by providing a single index to 341 books that include information on 1 002 shows Most of the books deal exclusively with television though some autobiographies biographies Congressional hearings and works on communication and the media are also indexed For a show to be included it must have been carried on NBC CBS ABC or Fox and must have been a series Shows on PBS are generally not included though exceptions have been made for Sesame Street and Mister Rogers Neighborhood Television's Second Golden Age Robert J. Thompson, 1997-10-01 This is an insider's tour touching on the network's dizzying decision making process and the artists who have revolutionized the medium Rewind and Search Mary Jane Miller, 1996-04-15 The first half of Rewind and Search looks at the makers the producers directors writers story editors and actors while the second half deals with the decision makers issues policy and ethos that affect the making of CBC television including drama Miller pays particular attention to the ways in which programs were influenced by evolving audience expectations technological advances and changes in policy personnel and the corporate structure of the CBC With more cutbacks and a change of mandate looming on the horizon the CBC is at a crossroads Rewind and Search reveals the value of television drama as an important part of our Canadian heritage a part that should not be ignored

Television Directors, Race, and Gender Jonathan J. Cavallero, 2024-07-17 This book challenges the predominant framing of US television as a writer s or producer s medium by suggesting that television directors are a vital component of TV artistry Looking beyond a perspective that favors the narrative and economic aspects of television but undervalues the medium s formal elements the book explores how directors use the visual and aural to contribute layers of meaning that add to the thematic development of television texts Starting from the belief that television aesthetics partially reveal the ways in which directors and their collaborators contribute to the overall thematic development of a program the author offers five case studies that map out the ways that directors have contributed to television drama throughout the medium s approximately 80 year history By devoting special attention to the presence and voices of directors from marginalized backgrounds the book creates opportunities to discuss television from perspectives that emphasize issues of diversity equity and inclusion This original and insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of television studies television production and media production critical media studies media authorship gender studies and race and media

A Handbook of Qualitative Methodologies for Mass Communication Research Nicholas W. Jankowski, Klaus Bruhn Jensen, 2002-09-11 Over the last decade there has been a growing use of qualitative research methods in the study of social and cultural change Incorporating theoretical insights from discourse analysis ethnography and reception theory such research has proven a fruitful and enlightening mode of analysis The Handbook represents the first volume devoted to the utilization of such methods in mass media research It includes contributions from those at the forefront of communication studies who apply a developing methodology to media contents contexts and audiences Among others Gaye Tuchman writes on news production Dave Morley and Roger Silverstone on media audiences and Horace Newcombe applies qualitative methods to television drama In view of the rapid changes which the media environment is now undergoing the book s systematic overview of qualitative research methods will benefit commercial organisations as well as academic institutions

Color by Fox Kristal Brent Zook, 1999-05-13 Following the overwhelming success of The Cosby Show in the 1980s an unprecedented shift took place in television history white executives turned to black dollars as a way of salvaging network profits lost in the war against video cassettes and cable T V Not only were African American viewers watching disproportionately more network television than the general population but as Nielsen finally realized they preferred black shows As a result African American producers writers directors and stars were given an unusual degree of creative control over shows such as The Fresh Prince of Bel Air Roc Living Single and New York Undercover What emerged were radical representations of African American memory and experience Offering a fascinating examination of the explosion of black television programming in the 1980s and 1990s this book provides for the first time ever an interpretation of black TV based in both journalism and critical theory Locating a persistent black nationalist desire a yearning for home and community in the shows produced by and for African Americans in this period Kristal Brent Zook shows how the Fox hip hop sitcom both reinforced and rebelled against earlier black sitcoms from the sixties and seventies Incorporating interviews with such prominent executives producers and stars as Keenen Ivory Wayans Sinbad Quincy Jones Robert Townsend Charles Dutton Yvette Lee Bowser and Ralph Farquhar this study looks at both production and reception among African American viewers providing nuanced readings of the shows themselves as well as the sociopolitical contexts in which they emerged While black TV during this period may seem trivial or buffoonish to some Color by Fox reveals its deep rooted ties to African American protest literature and autobiography and a desire for social transformation
