Offender Restitution In Theory And Action:

Offender Restitution in Theory and Action Burt Galaway, Joe Hudson, 1978 Psychology and Law in a Changing World Lara Bagnoli, Giovanni B. Traverso, 2013-01-11 Criminal psychology and its relationship to the practice of law has become a topic of major significance over the last three decades Psychologists play a key role in modern criminal investigation and are central to crime reduction measures such as offender profiling delinquency prevention and tackling fear of crime Contributors from North America Europe and Australia examine this link both adding to and drawing upon the pool of recent theory construction and empirical work in the following areas causes and prevention of offending studies of crime and offenders the victim's perspective witnesses and testimony studies of legal processes These issues are studied from a local perspective that recognises not only the need for cross national comparative research but also the generation of a corpus of scientific knowledge more representative of the complexity of criminal and legal investigation today

Victimology William G. Doerner, Steven P. Lab, 2014-02-06 Victimology Seventh Edition introduces students to the criminal justice system in the United States and its impact on crime victims Authors William Doerner and Steven Lab provide a fresh look at the theoretical basis of victimology and then present the key facets of crime and its effects They examine financial and social costs both to the individual and to the larger community This new edition uses the theoretical foundation of victimology to establish a clear conceptual framework and reduce repetition Emerging trends in the field receive greater emphasis in this edition including non adversarial resolutions that offer remediation for crime victims Crimes like intimate partner violence and victimization in work or school environments continue to take a toll and the authors examine efforts to prevent these crimes as well as responses after an incident occurs Doerner and Lab challenge students to rethink the current response to crime victims and to develop improved approaches to this costly social issue Online supplements are available for both professors and students A new chapter on explaining victimization provides context and a backdrop for examining emerging trends A new chapter on hate crimes delves into the complexities faced by victims as they negotiate the reporting process The text is supplemented by learning tools including chapter by chapter learning objectives key terms illustrative figures and tables and call outs to related Internet sites Reciprocity (Routledge Revivals) Lawrence C. Becker, 2014-06-17 The tendency to reciprocate to return good for good and evil for evil is a potent force in human life and the concept of reciprocity is closely connected to fundamental notions of justice obligation or duty gratitude and equality In Reciprocity first published in 1986 Lawrence Becker presents a sustained argument about reciprocity beginning with the strategy for developing a moral theory of the virtues He considers the concept of reciprocity in detail contending that it is a basic virtue that provides the basis for parental authority obligations to future generations and obedience to law Throughout the first two parts of the book Becker intersperses short pieces of his own narrative fiction to enrich reflection on the philosophical arguments The final part is devoted to extensive bibliographical essays ranging over anthropology psychology political theory and law as well as the relevant ethics and political philosophy

Changes in Society, Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe C. J. C. F. Fijnaut, Johan Goethals, 1995 In 1994 the School of Criminology a part of the Department of Criminal Law Criminal Procedure and Criminology in the Faculty of Law of the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven celebrated the 25th anniversary of its study programme To give added lustre to this landmark in its history the Institute accepted the invitation from the International Society of Criminology to organise the 49th International Course of Criminology The title of the course was Changes in Society Crime and Criminal Justice in Europe A challenge for criminological education and research This course explored two themes both of which are likely to be the focus of debate in criminal policy in the near future crime and insecurity in the city and international organised and corporate crime The presentation and discussion of both themes followed two main approaches Lectures and seminars focused on the analysis of the nature the quantity and the development of the phenomena and meetings were focused on the policy needed to gain control of these phenomena Moreover attention was paid to technical and ethical problems which show up at the moment that empirical research is carried out This publication brings together the main part of the introductory lectures Part one relates to the theme of crime and insecurity in the city the second part contains the lectures on international organised and corporate crime Together both parts present a good picture of what was explained and commented on during the Course especially in relation to important European developments concerning crime criminal justice and criminal policy This book will become an important source of inspiration for both criminological education and research

Restorative Justice Theo Gavrielides, 2017-09-19 The legitimacy and performance of the traditional criminal justice system is the subject of intense scrutiny as the world economic crisis continues to put pressure on governments to cut the costs of the criminal justice system This volume brings together the leading work on restorative justice to achieve two objectives to construct a comprehensive and up to date conceptual framework for restorative justice suitable even for newcomers and to challenge the barriers of restorative justice in the hope of taking its theory and practice a step further The selected articles start by answering some fundamental questions about restorative justice regarding its historical and philosophical origins and challenge the concept by bringing into the debate the human rights and equality discourses Also included is material based on empirical testing of restorative justice claims especially those impacting on reoffending rates victim satisfaction and reintegration The volume concludes with a critique of restorative justice as well as with analytical thinking that aims to push its barriers It is hoped that the investigations offered by this volume not only offer hope for a better system for abolitionists and reformists but also new and convincing evidence to persuade the sceptics in the debate over restorative justice

Introduction to Criminal Justice Lawrence Travis III, 2017-10-23 This student friendly introductory core text describes the criminal justice process in the United States outlining the decisions practices people and issues involved It provides a solid introduction to the mechanisms of the criminal justice system with balanced coverage of the issues presented by each facet of the process including a thorough review of practices and controversies in law enforcement the criminal courts and corrections Support for Crime Victims in a Comparative Perspective Ezzat A. Fattah, 1998 A collection of essays dedicated to the memory of Prof Frederic McClintock

Diversion and Informal Social Control Günter Albrecht, Wolfgang Ludwig-Mayerhofer, 2011-11-30 No detailed description available for Diversion and Informal Social Control Lessons of Criminology Gilbert Geis, Mary Dodge, 2014-09-25 Presents the stories musings advice and conclusions of well known criminologists about their research and their careers Provides readers with suggestions about how to manage their professional lives Contributors include Frank Cullen Julius Debro Don Gibbons John Irwin Mac Klein Gary Marx Joan McCord Richard Quinney Frank Scarpitti Jim Short Rita Simon Charles Tuttle and Jackson Toby Alternatives to Institutionalization Marjorie Kravitz, 1979 Community Mediation Karen Grover Duffy, James W. Grosch, Paul V. Olczak, 1991-04-26 In recent years the mediation movement has seen tremendous growth with significant advances being made in both research and practice Despite these advances reseachers and practitioners have remained relatively isolated from one another Bridging the gap COMMUNITY MEDIATION is dedicated to the mutual education of both researchers and mediators It makes the findings of research accessible to practitioners and the issues of concern to practice available to researchers Thus this handbook affords researchers an excellent opportunity to learn more about actual techniques and enables practitioners to benefit from the latest research in the field Victims of Crime and the Victimization Process Marilyn McShane, Frank P. Williams III, 2013-12-16 Volume 6 in the 6 volume series titled Criminal Justice Contemporary Literature in Theory and Practice This compilation of articles attempts to fill gaps in existing resources with some of the best current statements on the topic Subjects include the characteristics of victims the effects of crime on victims and some contemporary theories of victimization Also included are evaluations of a variety of victim oriented policies and programs such as victim assistance peace making and victim impact statements This title will be of great utility to students scholars and others with interests in the literature of criminal justice and criminology Alternatives to Prison Anthony Bottoms, Sue Rex, Gwen Robinson, 2013-01-11 As the UK and many other western societies face up to the consequences of a rapidly increasing prison population so the search for alternative approaches to punishment and dealing with offenders has become an increasingly urgent priority for government policy and society as a whole This book reports the results of the research programme commissioned by the Coulsfield Inquiry into Alternatives to Prison which was funded by the Esm e Fairbairn Rethinking Crime and Punishment initiative It is written by leading authorities in the field and provides a comprehensive authoritative and wide ranging review of the range of issues associated with the use of noncustodial sanctions examining experiences in Scotland and Northern Ireland as well as England and Wales Law, Behavior, and Mental Health Steven R. Smith, Robert Meyer, 1988-12 This comprehensive new volume on psychology and the law is an essential reference for students and professionals It offers the most up to date information on issues such as malpractive confidentiality jury selection punishment competency and the right to refuse treatment Two well known professionals a lawyer and a clinical psychologist have teamed up to write this judiciously balanced clearly presented and accessible guide to an ever more complex subject they answer such questions as What does a lie detector test really tell you Can law enforcement officials use hypnosis to investigate a crime Is eyewitness testimony the most reliable and persuasive evidence Are we living in a more punitive society These and other issues are dealt with in a concise readable manner one that tells readers how to approach the problems with arise in day today practice as well as how to think about the fundamental current ethical and legal issues Meticulously researched and documented this important new volume offers a lively presentation one which is must reading for students of law and for professionals in both fields who want a complete reference guide

Changing Attitudes to Punishment Julian Roberts, Mike Hough, 2013-01-11 Throughout the western world public opinion has played an important role in shaping criminal justice policy At the same time opinion polls repeatedly demonstrate that the public knows little about crime and justice and holds negative views of the criminal justice system This book consisting of chapters from leading authorities in the field is concerned to address this problem and draws upon research in a number of different countries to address the issues arising from this state of affairs Its main aims are to explore the changing and evolving nature of public attitudes to sentencing to examine the factors that influence public opinion and to bring together recent international research which has demonstrated ways in which public attitudes can be changed to propose specific strategies to respond to the crisis in public confidence in criminal justice

Making Amends Gwynn Davis, 2002-09-11 Reparation or making amends is an ancient theme in criminal justice It was revived in both Europe and North America in the 1980s as a practical alternative both to retributivism and to the various utilitarian projects traditionally associated with retributive justice Making Amends examines the practice of these schemes in the UK USA and Germany and shows how criminal justice institutions were unresponsive to these attempts to cast justice in a new form Yet the experiments reflected an abiding dissatisfaction with criminal courts and with the manner in which justice is conceived and expressed within the criminal framework The authors conclusions therefore have implications for the workings of the criminal justice system as a whole

Personality Theory, Moral Development, and Criminal Behavior William S. Laufer, James M. Day, 1983 The articles in this collection discuss how psychological forces interact with our larger environment and contribute to criminality

Justice as Sanctuary Herman Bianchi, 2010-10-01 While many in the criminal justice system would agree that the present punitive system of crime control is ineffective unjust and malevolent there is little enthusiasm for talk about reforming the system or for a reexamination of its fundamental premises In Justice as Sanctuary noted Dutch criminologist Herman Bianchi details a new approach to crime control one that promises to reanimate debate and initiate real change He explores the cultural and religious roots of the current punitive system in search of new perspectives that can help create a more just and effective one In the ancient Hebrew notion of tzedeka justice or righteousness Bianchi finds the inspiration for a new model of crime control based on conflict resolution rather than punishment Because so many feel alienated from the criminal justice system he argues for new procedures that will enable people to experience law as supportive of their lives and their social interactions To complement the current punitive system Bianchi proposes a system that provides victims and offenders a chance to resolve their conflicts and offers them the opportunity to reach non punitive systems By incorporating the concept of liability Bianchi s model returns to offenders the responsibility for their acts while providing an active legal role for the victims of crime It adapts structures and models from civil and labor law for conflict resolution of nonviolent crimes and in the case of violent crimes and in the case of violent crimes proposes the creation of special sanctuaries that would protect the public while making it possible to effect true justice Startling in its implications Bianchi s system is not a utopian dream but a carefully considered set of proposals that could be acted upon today Victims of Violence and Restorative Practices Tinneke Van Camp,2014-06-20 Restorative justice occupies an important place in criminological literature and criminal justice policies and is about facilitating communication between victims offenders and communities in search of conciliation Research shows that victims of crime are generally highly satisfied with their participation in a restorative intervention such as victim offender mediation family group conferencing and victim offender encounters In order to maintain good restorative practice the reasons why restorative justice is appreciated need to be clearly understood In this book Tinneke Van Camp identifies and explores the factors that contribute to victims appreciation of restorative practices in order to advance insight into why restorative justice works for victims Based on original research and qualitative interviews with victims of violent crime this book draws on procedural justice theory and socio psychological studies and analyses how victims value restorative interventions The findings shed a light on the factors that contribute to victim satisfaction with restorative interventions and show how they relate to procedural fairness as well as allow an exploration of how the timing of the restorative intervention in the criminal justice proceedings affects victim appreciation With its use of in depth interviews and case descriptions this book will be of interest to academics practitioners and students alike It will be of particular interest to those engaged in the study of victims and victim concerns restorative justice and procedural justice
